If It's Not On The List, It's On Another List

Lists are a funny and ever-changing thing. I've got a lot of lists, including but not limited to: your garden-variety to do list, a top movies list, a list of favorite bands, etc. Aside from just being fun mental excersize, these lists are great conversation fodder. Upon meeting a person who agrees that "Ice Ice Baby" was one of the greatest songs of the '90s, you have an instant connection, a laugh and probably a few more stories that naturally branch off of that one topic. It's in that spirit that XG editors decided to share their favorite games of all time. Is Pokémon your favorite? Why? But is it really better than Mario 64? Rehashing gaming memrories is fun, and we hope you enjoy looking at our little slice of nostalgia. Oh, by the way, Mario 64 is better than Pokémon...I think.

Code Cracking

Dear Expert Gamer,

First, I want to say that your mag is the best. Now that that's out of the way, I have a question about Perfect Dark. I read about your GameShark codes for the game and I was really excited, so I went out to rent it. When I tried the codes out, though, they didn't work! What's the deal?

I have a GameShark ver 2.2, so I do I need a higher version or something? Is there something you have to do in the game to make the codes work? And another thing, why do they keep coming out with different versions of the GameShark in the first place? I don't want to keep buying the newest version. Is this some kind of selling strategy from InterAct? Please help me out.

Tyson Ceniga
ceniga@bendnet.com

The codes we printed are correct, so the problem is most likely with your GameShark. You will have to use a more recent version of the GameShark in order for the codes to work.

There are many reasons why InterAct keeps coming out with newer versions of its product, so don't think that there's some kind of marketing scheme at work. For starters, the new GameSharks have more features, a larger list of codes installed and are easier to use. Also, online hackers tend to use the most recent versions, so when they all upgrade, you are pretty much forced to, too. Finally, first-party Nintendo games always lock the GameShark out, so new InterAct has to continually upgrade its product in order to get around the latest programming hurdles. If you want to take advantage of the latest and greatest cheats, Tyson, you'll have to bite the bullet like the rest of us and get the newest hardware.

Say "Cheese!"

Dear Expert Gamer,

Maybe I missed something, but when looking through the walk-through of Perfect Dark, I noticed there was a piece of cheese on each level. I am very curious—why are they there?

Drew Johnson
Brookfield, Wi

Those bits of cheese serve no actual purpose in the game. While it's believe that they were part of some removed feature, it's highly possible that Rare loves cheese. In fact, a good source says that Rare's Conker game also has some cheese hidden inside.

SNK, Say It Ain't So!

Dear Expert Gamer,

About seven weeks ago, I purchased a NeoGeo Pocket and a game. I did my research beforehand and found that this was a solid system with incredible capabilities. I was very pleased with the quality of the system, so I when I went to my local mall to buy another game for NeoGeo a few weeks later, I found out that the system had been discontinued!

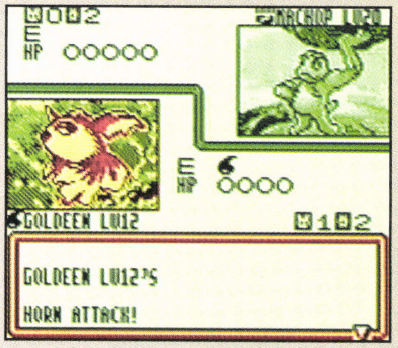
When I asked the guy at Babbages what happened, he promptly responded, "Uh, SNK, has recalled all the games off the shelves." Crushed, I walked to Electronics Boutique, but got the same answer. I went to SNK's website, and they say they're still operating—BUT I CAN'T BUY ANY GAMES! Help! Could you guys please clarify this and tell me where I can get some games. I mean, if you have some lying around, could I buy them off you? I feel as if I have just thrown 140 bucks out the window!

FireKnight44
FireKnight44@AOL.com

Well, first of all, there's no way we're parting with any of our cherished NeoGeo Pocket games. The moment the news broke about SNK's demise, everyone here in the office began buying up every game we came across.

Unfortunately, most stores have sent back their NGPC merchandise, so your best bet now is to search like mad for a store that missed the recall. If that fails, you'll probably have

Letter of the Month



Will we even see another portable game system that can survive after taking on Nintendo and its Pokémon empire? Only with the proper strategy will a new company be able to challenge the Game Boy.

Portable Wars

Can Anyone Beat the Big Boy in Town?

Dear Expert Gamer,

What's the deal with portable game systems? Why is it that Nintendo's the only company that can keep one on the market? Now I like the Game Boy as much as the next guy, but I still think Nintendo could use a little healthy competition.

There was a good variety of systems back in the old days. The Turbo Express was a great system that could play all the TurboGrafx-16 games, and the Game Gear was pretty impressive for its time. You could even watch TV on both of them with an adapter! Both of those systems died out pretty quickly, though. The Lynx and the Nomad came and went in an instant, too.

Now, Nintendo's destroyed another opponent. The NeoGeo Pocket Color is one of the coolest hand-held systems ever. It barely even got a chance to get off the ground before it went under. Do you think that there will ever be a portable system that will challenge Nintendo? Is it even possible?

Jordan Colwell
Bradford, RI

There are many factors that determine whether a portable system will last. One very important factor is battery life. If you have to buy a new set of batteries for a system after only six hours of play, chances are that system won't be too popular. Perhaps the biggest factor, though, is third-party support. If you don't have a bunch of companies making games for your system, there won't be many games to buy—without a wide variety of games, it's hard for a system to survive.

So far, only Nintendo has been able to survive in the brutal hand-held gaming market, but we're anxious to see if there's a company out there that can compete. Who knows? Perhaps someone will topple the portable system king.

Jordan won an InterAct Controller for the Dreamcast, Nintendo 64 or PlayStation!

Gundam: The Battle Master will be coming to PlayStation soon, but there is no release date yet for the mecha fighting game.

to turn to online auctions. You can even begin importing games, as the American NGPC can play the Japanese games with no conversion necessary.

So did you waste $140? That depends. If you are enjoying the system, then it's not a waste. Also, keep in mind that you now have a relatively rare piece of videogame history. People go nuts looking for the Sega Master System and TurboGrafx-16 nowadays, and we think the same will happen with the NGPC in a few years.

Gundam Wing: Not Yet?

Dear Expert Gamer,

I have a question. In your August 2000 issue, a guy named, Domenico Grande Jr. from Kirtland, OH, wrote you the letter "Gundam on the Side." Well, I have looked all over the place to find a GundamWing game and I would like to know what system it is for. If it is not for N64, I would buy a system just to play GundamWing. Thanks.

Steve Bodeman
Scottsdale, Az

There is a game called Gundam: The Battle Masters, which will eventually come out on the PlayStation, but there is no release date yet. Battle Masters is a one-on-one fighting game that uses the Mobile Suits from the series. PS2 will be getting a Gundam game as well, but it does not have a name or release date at this time.

Dragonball GT = Rare

Dear Expert Gamer,

I have been searching long and hard for a PlayStation Dragon Ball Z game. I probably searched every game shop around! Please help me find this game, because I am a huge fan of your magazine and a huge fan of DBZ.

Leon Tan
spazerefic69@AOL.com

Dragonball GT came out for PlayStation in the US, but good luck finding it. Copies of the game are going for around $200 on Ebay. Ouch! Your best bet is to find a used copy at a Blockbuster or some other store that doesn't know the treasure it has. Try scouting the online stores as well. Also, keep in mind that the import version isn't going for as much money.

The Gamer's Code

Dear Expert Gamer,

I'd just like to express my unbelievable outrage towards cheating these days! It's horrible! When my brother got Resident Evil 2, all he did was enter a GameShark code to go to the ending FMV. I also found out that many of his friends had done similar things to other games.

I mean, think about it. Today people use codes like "Infinite Health," "Infinite Ammo," "Characters" and others. I know everyone's not like this, but I know that there's vast numbers of people who are. I also know games are becoming increasingly more difficult, but are we going too far? Is truthful gaming a dying trend? Is it becoming OK to cheat? I, for one, don't think so.

Chris Woolf
Christopher_Woolf@zdnetonebox.com

It's no secret that gamers are getting softer these days. Although games tend to be a lot easier than they were in the NES days, people are more eager for codes and tricks than ever. On the one hand, if there were no call for help in games, you wouldn't be reading this magazine; on the other hand, though, gamers need to know where to draw the line. Why bother using a code to go straight to the ending of a game?

What about the other 99 percent of the game that you missed? Some gamers are always going to go for the easy win, but they're really "cheating" themselves out of the enjoyment of the game, and we think that's punishment enough.

Game Jobs?

Dear Expert Gamer,

Hey, Guys, I really need your help here. How the heck do you get into the videogame industry? I'm just starting college and I want to know what I should major in. One day I'd love to be designing videogames (wouldn't we all?) or doing the character design or anything else related to the industry, but I need to know the best way to start out? Thanks for your help!

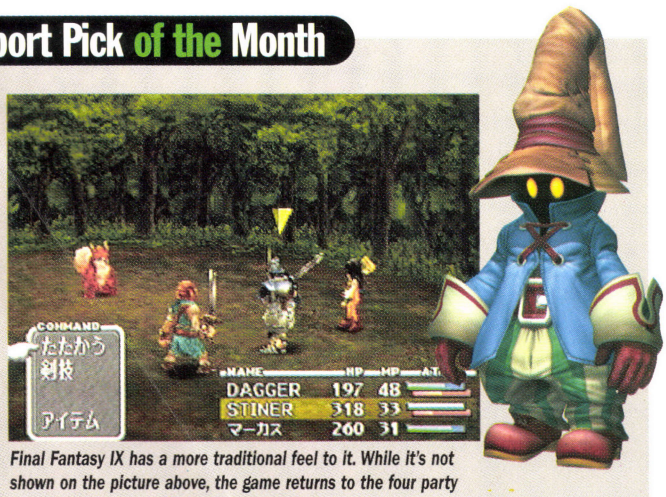
Import Pick of the Month

Final Fantasy IX

While we'll have to wait till October for this game, Japanese gamers (and importers) are already playing it. The game takes place over four discs, and the series has more of a fantasy element than the last two games. Final Fantasy IX is definitely a throwback to the classic days of the series. This is by far the most cinematic game in the Final Fantasy canon, with most of the first disc loaded with cool scenes. The story is excellent—as is the music—and you can rest assured that we'll give this one the full XG blowout treatment!



Final Fantasy IX has a more traditional feel to it. While it's not shown on the picture above, the game returns to the four party member format. The attention to detail is apparent, as each enemy is intricately drawn and animated. Of all the Final Fantasy games, this one will pull you in the fastest.

Why do companies use CDs over cartridges? Well, CDs easy to produce and it's cheaper for the consumer.

Well, none of us here at XG are talented or educated enough to be actual game designers—that's why we're writers! Seriously, if you want to get into game production, you can get started in either art or programming (although it wouldn't hurt if you could do both). You'll want to take as many art and computer science courses as you can, and you should probably get started now on securing a summer internship at a game company (be prepared to work for free). If you can't cut it, just drop out of college—you can always go into journalism!

School Project

Dear Dan Leahy,

On behalf of the mindless drones in my third period, ninth grade English class here at Verdugo Hills High School, I'm writing you a business letter. I decided to write you because you are the editor in chief of the best gaming magazine out there by far. I know you can't respond to each letter that comes into your office, but if you have time, would you please respond to me? I'll get extra credit, and I'll read your letter to the class. If you have any promotional items for the class—brochures, catalogues, stickers, pens, whatever—would you please send some for the class, too?

Jamie Butler
Sunland, Ca

On behalf of the mindless editorial staff here at Expert Gamer, we're pleased to present you with this response. Thanks for taking the interest in our magazine. Any reader mail is always welcome. Also, we hope you aren't counting on that extra credit to save a semester's worth of lousy work. As for the promotional stuff, we'll see what we can do..

Sure, we'd love to cover games like Diablo II, but that would mean that we'd have to drop out some tricks or other strategies.

To CD or Not to CD?

Dear Expert Gamer,

What's the deal with PlayStation and Dreamcast programming videogames on CDs? I let someone borrow my PlayStation game, and when I got it back, he had scratched the hell out of it! My point is if they didn't make games out of CDs, maybe this would not of happened. I'm sure someone out there agrees with me. By the way, your mag rules!

Kevin
Playstationman2@hotmail.com

The whole industry has switched from cartridges to CDs (and GDs and DVDs), because it they're cheaper to manufacture and easier to produce in bulk. With discs, you'll just have to be a little more careful handling your software. And to be safe, if you think some yutz is going to use a copy of your favorite game as a frisbee, don't lend him your game.

PC Coverage

Dear Expert Gamer,

First of all, your magazine is great—no doubt about that. The reason I am writing to you is because I'm curious as to why you don't cover any PC games? There are a lot of great games that come out on the PC, but they never get covered in your magazine! I think it would be great if you covered all types of games, including those on the PC.

Nick Eitrem
black_phantom16@yahoo.com

As it goes, we often don't have enough pages to really do what we want. If we covered PC games, we would be diluting what people are reading XG for. Sure, games like Diablo II and Ultima Online would make great strategies, but that would mean that we would have to cut something else. No one knows what the future will hold...

TRICKS OF THE TRADE

Dreamcast

4 Wheel Thunder

Super Start: When you begin your race, wait for the countdown to reach the point where they say, "Go." As soon as this appears, press L-Trigger+A at the same time. You'll get a boosted start and an additional four-second boost.

Clean Pause: While the game is paused, press Y+X simultaneously to get rid of the text so you can see a clean action shot of your current game.

Infinite Slot Machine Retries: Once you finish a race, save your game. You may be awarded with a slot machine jackpot bonus game after the race. If you do poorly on the slots or just want to try it again, just load up your saved game and the slot machine will be available for you to play once again. You can play the slots as many times as you want.

Aerowings

Cheat Mode: At the "Press Start" screen, press the L-Trigger and R-Trigger simultaneously. You'll hear someone say, "OK Good," which means that you've unlocked the Exhibition Mode, all levels, all airplanes and more.

Crazy Taxi

From the mode selection screen, choose either Arcade or Original Mode as well as the amount of time you want. Next, at the "Now Loading" screen, press and hold the following button combinations until the driver select screen appears.

No Arrows: Press and hold R-Trigger+ START. When the driver select screen appears, you will see "No Arrows" in the lower-left corner of the screen. If you haven't memorized the locations, you will have to listen to your passengers and pay attention where they point.

No Destination Mark: Press and hold L-Trigger+START. When the driver select screen appears, you will see "No Destination Mark" in the lower-left corner of the screen. You'll still see a small green outline around your destination point, but it won't be nearly as prominent as before.

Expert: Press and hold L-Trigger+R-Trigger+START. When the driver select screen appears, you will see "Expert" in the lower-left corner of the screen. The combination of No Arrows and No Destination Mark makes up the Expert Mode.

Hidden Bike: Go to the character select screen and highlight the driver you want. Press L-Trigger + R-Trigger three times simultaneously, then press the A button to pick your driver. You will hear bicycle chimes if entered correctly.

Dead or Alive 2

Change View of Victory Pose: As your character does its victory pose, hold X and move the Pad or Analog Stick to rotate the view. Press the B button to zoom in.

Full Screen Pause: During the game, press START to pause. Press the R-Trigger button to get a clean game screen without the text.

Girl Art: Place the Dead or Alive 2 disc into a PC compatible CD-ROM drive. Access the disc and look for a folder called "Bonus." In this folder are several images of the DOA2 girls in bikinis.

Uncut Demo: On the mode select screen, choose Option. On the "Option" screen, choose Game Setting. From "Game Setting" choose Others. On the "Other Setting" screen, change Your Age to a number higher than 21 (99 is optimal). Now go back to the mode select screen and pick Survival Mode. Play through this mode until you get onto the top ten ranking list and put in your name as REALDEMO. Now go back to the title screen and wait until the demo starts. You will then see the uncut demo with one of the scenes showing Kasumi in her birthday suit, lying in a gelatin-like substance.

Famous pro speed racer Benny Moto says, in life and in racing we must know how to SLOW DOWN. Benny uses carbon fiber rotors and 4 piston calipers because he says the curb tastes like defeat.

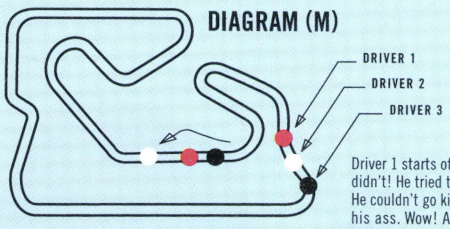
Are you hard core? Have this beefy spring please. It's good for you. Without a trick suspension the hairball track will shake your head up and down like one of those stupid dogs in the back window.

DIAGRAM (M)



Driver 1 starts off in the lead. But did he listen to Benny? He didn't! He tried to save money on brakes. He's cheap. He's stupid. He couldn't go kicky fast through the turn. Now Driver 2 passed his ass. Wow! And look at Driver 3! He's making power. How to be the leader? Customize and drive like a freak with fiery pants.

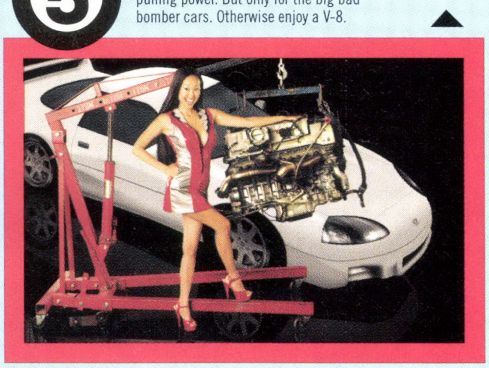
A big, 19 inch, 3 piece magnesium wheel is your fun friend in the quest for a sweeter contact patch. It's hot too.

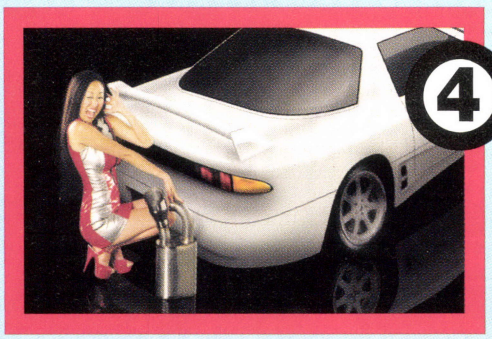
YOU FOLLOW MY ADVICE. YOU CUSTOMIZE. YOU BEAT EVERYBODY. POW!

Tear it up in this total competition speed trip where you can build original machines from scratch or tweak over 130 GT sports cars that reproduce exact handling and performance specs. Then use your VMU to trade machines, parts and laptimes on the net. Assuming you got anything worth trading, Grandma.

6 The shock absorber is often overlooked. Not here. In Benny's shop everyone concentrates on the shock. A good shock where it really counts will bring forth nimbler handling and quicker transitions.

5 Oh my God! Look at that engine! Yes, that's a kicky big damn motor. Benny likes the superhuge V12 for stump-pulling power. But only for the big bad bomber cars. Otherwise enjoy a V-8.





4 Oh! What a loud muffler! Loud coolie mufflers intimidate chump-ass rivals. Get a big pipe for greater flow at high rpm levels.

Legend of Zelda: Ocarina of Time

Hidden Pictures: Find the place in the Hyrule Castle courtyard where you meet Princess Zelda for the first time. When there, look to your left and right; there will be windows. Look (with Up-C) to the right window and you will see pictures of Yoshi, Mario, Luigi, Bowser and Princess Toadstool! Now, take aim with your slingshot and shoot at the window. A red rupee will pop out, and you will be able to collect it for a gain of 20 rupees! If you take aim and shoot the window on the left, a guard will pop out, scold you and throw a bomb right back at you!
Multiple Bottles Trick: Choose any one of the EMPTY bottles you have. Find a shallow pond with a fish or find a fairy. Swing the bottle and, in mid-swing, press START. On the "Select Item" screen, choose any weapon or item (except the ice, fire, or light arrow) and equip it to the spot where the bottle is. Now you will have a bottle in place of the weapon. The best part is if you use the bow or a special arrow, the bow will still work with the special arrows. When you collect ammo for the item, it will go back. Note: If you cover a needed weapon, you may not get it back!

Even though you can't activate the robot, it is important, so be sure to remember it. After getting the robot, go to the Royal Capital and enter the bar. Ask for some information; you should learn about the Saint Dragon and a hunter will ask to join your party. Recruit him and go to the Mining City. When you get there, help the Saint Dragon. You should be able to get the Aquarius Zodiac Stone there. Take the Stone back to Machinery City and use the it on the robot. Once it becomes functional, leave. On your way out, you should find another machine. You can't do anything with it just yet, but make sure to hold onto it. Leave the city and head for Nerubes Temple. After fighting Worker No. 7, the Saint Dragon will transform into a young girl and you will get the Cancer Zodiac Stone. Head back to Machinery City. Use the Cancer Zodiac Stone to activate the ancient machine. It will bring Cloud back from the future and he will join you. Now find Aeris in one of the towns nearby and buy some flowers from her. She'll be attacked and Cloud will rush to the rescue. At the end of all this, Cloud will officially join your party.

Pokémon

Easy Level Gain: To easily gain experience, simply switch the Pokémon you want to train with the top Pokémon on your list. When you go into battle, the Pokémon will pop out. You can then switch to another Pokémon. Once you win the battle, both the beginning Pokémon and the fighting Pokémon will both gain experience points.
Fight Safari Zone Pokémon: This will allow you to fight and catch the Safari Zone Pokémon outside of the Safari Zone. To begin you must have a Pokémon with the Surf Ability. Be sure you don't encounter any enemies on the way, or the trick won't work (this does not include the Pokémon in the water on the way there). On the edge of the islands there is a strip of the screen that is half land and half water. Now, surf on this section and just keep going up and down on it. When you run into an enemy, it will be the Pokémon from the Safari Zone section you just left. This time though, you will be able to fight them and use the other Balls on them as well.
Infinite Items (Red and Blue only): First, head to Viridian City and talk to the old man who instructed you how to use Poké Balls. When he asks you, choose to watch his demonstration again. After that, immediately fly to Cinnabar Island. Choose one of your Pokémon who has the Surf Ability. Ride up and down the east coast of the island (hugging the shoreline) until you get into a battle. Eventually, you will encounter one of two glitchy Pokémon, either one with a name made up of scrambled boxes or the infamous Missingno. Whatever you do, do not catch any Pokémon that you encounter here. Repeat: Do not catch any of them! It will ruin your saved game. Run from every battle as soon as you get into one. After running from a battle with a glitch Pokémon, check your inventory. Whatever item was in the sixth slot should have a strange symbol where the quantity used to be. This usually means that you have well over 100 of that item. This trick can be done repeatedly, so you can essentially have infinite items. Now, you can have a ton of Master Balls or enough rare candy to power up all your Pokémon to level 100. Just don't power them up past that because you then run the risk of damaging your saved game.

Super Mario Bros. Deluxe
Many of the old tricks for the original Super Mario Bros. game on Nintendo work on the new Game Boy Color version. For example, the warp zone found in World 1-2 is still intact!
Warp Zone: Go to World 1-2 and find the second set of moving platforms (the ones moving upward). Get on these platforms and ride them until you reach the top. Then jump up and to the right. You will land on the top bricks of the level. Run right and keep going until you reach an opening. Fall down the opening and you'll see three pipes that will allow you to automatically warp to worlds 2, 3 or 4!
Max Out Lives: Go to World 3-1 and get to the end of the level where the staircase of blocks leads up to the end-level flagpole. Two turtles will come down the steps and you'll have to avoid or get rid of the first one. Now, you will have to get the second turtle shell between one of the blocks and Mario's body by jumping on it to make it bounce off the block and Mario multiple times. Once you do this correctly, your score will increase and eventually turn into 1-Ups! This way you can max out your lives!
The Lost Levels: Basically, you must get the number-one position on the "Ranking" screen (a minimum score of 300,000 points). Then on the title screen, select the Luigi icon for an entirely new game—Super Mario Bros. 2: The Lost Levels.
You vs. Boo: You must get a minimum score of 100,000 points. On the title screen, select "Boo" for the "You Vs. Boo" bonus levels.
Five Extra Lives: Note: This works only on a new game. Select the "Toy Box" option at the main menu screen, and then choose the "Fortune Teller" option. Keep choosing cards until you get the Extremely Lucky card. This will give you five lives. Return to the main menu and choose to play the original levels. Start a new game to begin with 10 lives instead of five.

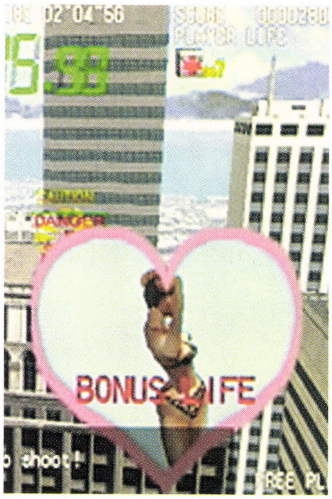
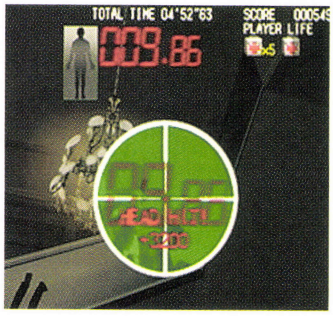
Silent Scope

Publisher: Konami
Developer: Konami
Release Date: October

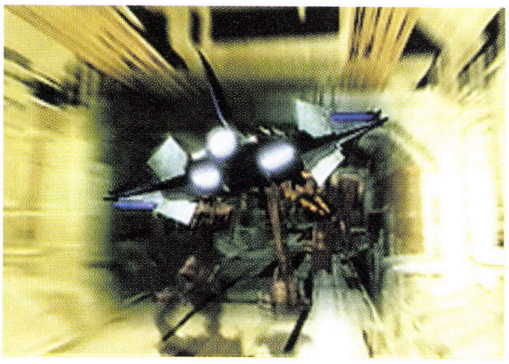


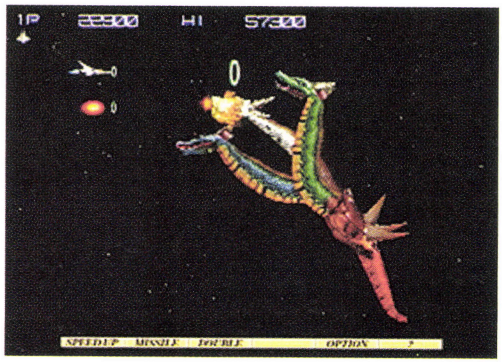


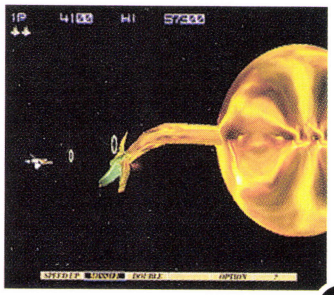
Based on of the popular quarter muncher, Silent Scope puts you behind the scope of a powerful Sniper Rifle in a mission to kill the terrorists who are threatening the President and his family.

With such a powerful piece of equipment, head shots are the key to victory. While you can nail the bad guys pretty much anywhere, getting head shots will put them down for good and earn you more time for your mission as well. If you're too slow on the draw, you'll take some damage. But that's OK, because there are some lovely ladies hidden in each level that will grant you bonus health.

The home version of this game has more features than the coin-op, so even if you already beat the arcade, Silent Scope on the PS2 will still have plenty for you to do. Also, look for this game to come out on the Dreamcast.







Gradius III & IV

Publisher: Konami
Developer: Konami
Release Date: November

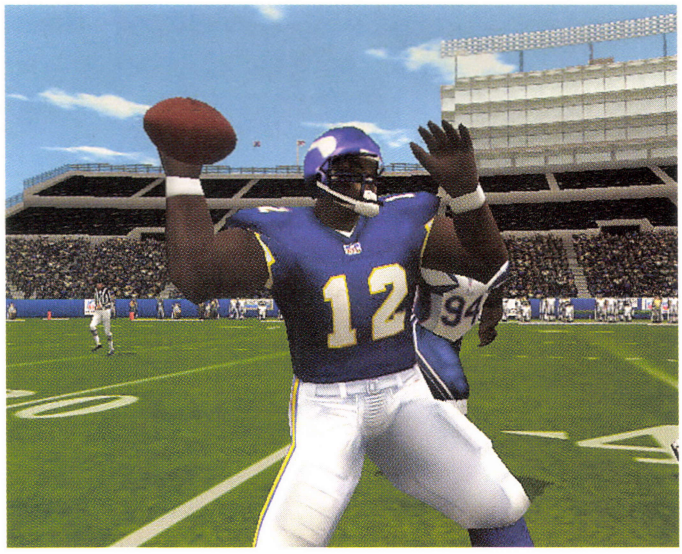
The Gradius series goes one step further with its latest offering for the PS2. Take classic shooter gameplay, meld it with detailed graphics, and you've got one hot game—Gradius III & IV offers some of the most intense action ever to grace a system.

In the old days, players had to deal with slowdown, which in a way, made things easier. Using the PS2's capabilities, there is no slowdown (despite the screen filling with shots). If you want a taste of the days when shooters were king, you will definitely want to pick up this game.

Dreamcast

NFL 2K1

Publisher: Sega
Developer: Visual Concepts
Release Date: September



Building on the success of a rookie year is never easy, and NFL2K1 will have to do just that. Last year, NFL2K sold an estimated 750,000 copies and was hailed as a visually ground-breaking masterpiece. And while this year's version looks very similar, we can assure you that the gameplay has undergone a major overhaul.

Innovative blocking schemes now pave the way for a powerful, balanced running game. If you like the aerial attack, you'll be happy to know that the passing game received some much-needed zip. Other major enhancements include Franchise Mode, expanded playbooks and online play. Yup, that's right, this fall you can log onto SegaNet and take on opponents from around the country for the ultimate in gridiron glory. Early indications are that the action is nearly, if not entirely, lag-free. Online or not, though, NFL 2K1 looks like a winner.

Power Stone 2

Publisher: Capcom
Developer: Capcom
Release Date: August

Power Stone's first incarnation couldn't decide if it wanted to be a fighter or a 3D action/platform game and as a result, the game wasn't all that successful. The sequel is primed to hopefully change that.

The most noticeable difference between Power Stone 2 and the original is that the action has changed from a crazy two-player brawl to an insane four-player free-for-all. This means (according to our calculations) that Power Stone 2 will be at least twice as wild as before! The arenas in the game are now much more interactive than before—you might be running from a rolling rock or skydiving the entire fight. And with more pots, boxes, vases, crates, pillars, rocks, swords, benches, and bombs to throw at your various opponents, the action is going to be intense.

PlayStation

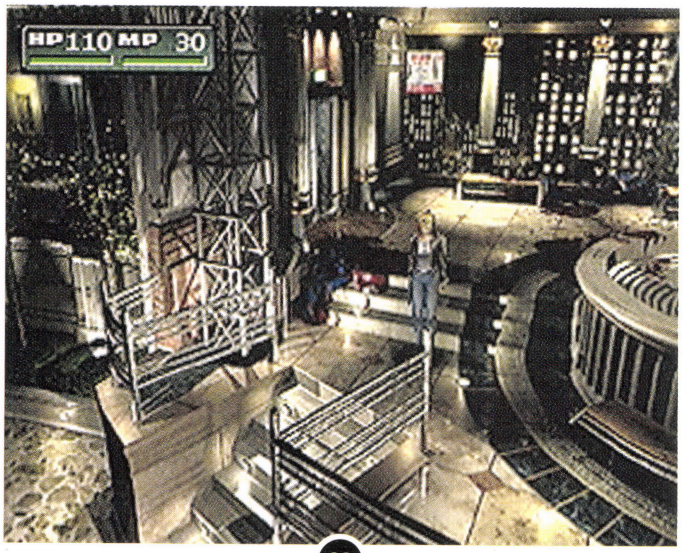
Spider-Man

Publisher: Activision
Developer: Neversoft
Release Date: August

Get ready, true believers. Your friendly neighborhood Spider-Man is swinging onto the PlayStation, and he's bringing his nefarious rogue's gallery of villains with him.

The web-slinger's latest game is based around the Tony Hawk's Pro Skater engine and it plays just as well as its older cousin (only with less skateboarding, of course). Spidey can climb on any surface—even the ceiling (when you crawl across ceilings, they become transparent, allowing you to see the floor below). He also uses his webbing to capture villains, cast web domes and, of course, to swing between buildings. Activision even got Spider-Man's creator, Stan "The Man" Lee, to provide narration throughout the game.

Even though this is an early version of the game, it plays great and is a ton of fun. This could end up being one of the best PlayStation games yet.



Parasite Eve 2

Publisher: Square EA
Developer: Square
Release Date: September

In the sequel to Square's sleeper hit, Parasite Eve, a younger Aya returns to the fray to fight more mitochondria-related monsters, and from what we've seen, Square has definitely invested in some improvements.

Some of the new features include new locations, improved graphics and faster action. In fact, instead of a pre-rendered New York, the game takes place in a pre-rendered Los Angeles, and—like Eidos' Fear Effect—the backgrounds are now sometimes FMV clips. The game still retains the RPG elements of hit points, magic points, experience points and various other points, but the battle system is even more active than the original. When walking around, you can choose to avoid or engage enemies; in battles, you can attack whenever you please (rather than waiting for your turn to come up).

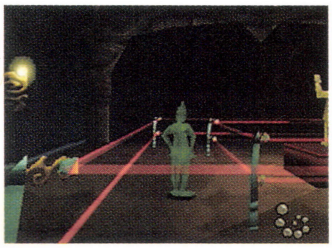
The Grinch

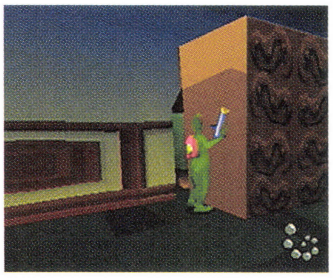
Publisher: Konami
Developer: Konami
Release Date: November

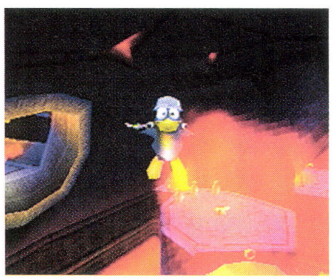
He's a mean one, that Mr. Grinch, and now he's coming your way in time to make a horrific holiday heist.

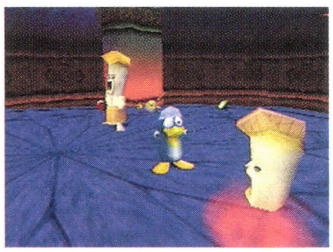
Loosely based on the classic Dr. Seuss book and the upcoming Jim Carrey movie, Konami's The Grinch places you in the title role on a quest to cause as much trouble as you can for the innocent Whos. Your ultimate goal, of course, is to steal Christmas. Along the way, you need to cause as much damage and chaos as possible. There are presents to smash, Whos to blast with your slime gun and statues to deface. If you're worried about being attacked, send out the Grinch's faithful dog, Max, to survey the scene. You'll then be able to control him and see what lies ahead.

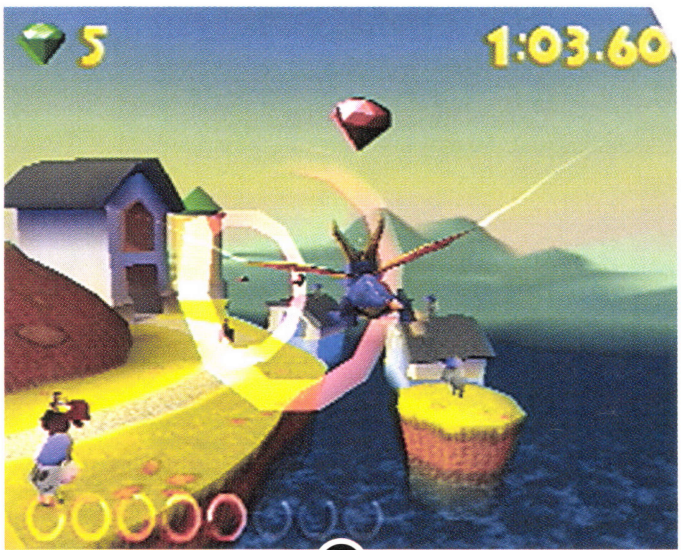
While it may not be as gritty as Konami's other hit game, Metal Gear Solid, The Grinch is a good game for the whole family.











Spyro: Year of the Dragon

Publisher: Sony
Developer: Insomniac
Release Date: October

Spyro the dragon returns for his third adventure on the PlayStation. This whimsical game sports a number of improvements over the other Spyro titles, and we're rather pleased with what we have seen so for—four new characters to help out on the quest, a host of new Critter Challenges and lots of new gameplay.

Dragon Eggs have been stolen, and Spyro must collect all 140. Like before, the little dragon is accompanied by Sparx, the useful dragonfly who is crucial to solving some of the puzzles. Spyro: Year of the Dragon will give players more than enough opportunity to try out their gaming skills with a wealth of minigames. From skateboarding to boxing, Spyro offers a multitude of different gaming that will please young and old alike.

Perfect Dark Guide Part Two

by Andy Baran
andy_baran@ziffdavis.com

Here is the follow-up guide to last month's Perfect Dark strategy. This issue will give you some game winning tips for the Challenge Modes, Multiplayer as well as the second part of the Solo walk-through.

Multiplayer is where Perfect Dark really shines. There's a broad depth of gameplay and the level design works well with both players. There's Cooperative mode (which I've been hoping for in a game for some time), Solo Mode (try this with the Counter Agent option) and four-player Challenges.

For a hardcore multiplayer match, make sure to have Dragons, Sentry Guns, Proximity Mines and the FarSight. If your group plays with these weapons, you'll get really good against other people. Long after you've beaten Solo, the multiplayer aspects will keep this game from sitting on the back of your shelf.

PERFECT DARK

COMPLETING CHALLENGES

If you want to complete the Challenge Mode the honest way, you'll need to cheese the computer and take advantage of any flaws in the AI. The missions get progressively tougher, and some seem downright impossible. Here are some tips that will help you out.

▷ Are You Alone?

Having a friend help you out may seem like a good idea, but doing so will make the game increase the difficulty. Most Challenges are easier when you are alone.

▷ Flawless

The computer will not make any mistakes when it aims. Use the computer against itself with items like the Sentry Guns—they never miss!

▷ Spawning Grounds

Each level has set locations where weapons and shields appear. Memorize these spots so you can be equipped how you want, when you want. These areas are great for "camping"—hide near a spawning point and blast anyone who tries to go for the items. In the end, most battles will take place around a certain spawning point in a level.

▷ Ambush Points

Any place where you can keep your back covered is a good ambush point. These rare locations can make excellent kill zones if your opponents are pursuing you. Sentry Guns and proximity weapons can ensure your safety if you can set things up before your enemy comes along. Just be wary in games with the Far Sight or Fly-by-Wire missiles.

▷ Devious Weapon Tactics

Use these nasty tricks to take out your opponents without even having to break a sweat. Be warned: these tactics will not make you popular!

1. Dragon Surprise: Set your Dragon to Proximity Self-Destruct and place it exactly where the Dragon normally spawns. When your opponents go for the gun, they'll get blown to smithereens.

2. Proximity Mine Traps: Place a Proximity Mine on the bottom part of a door. If it's low enough, it'll blend in and be unnoticed. Whoever walks through the door will get a real nasty surprise.

3. Sentry Gun Hell: Turn the Laptop Gun into a Sentry Gun and place it high on a wall, which will keep it from attracting attention. Placing it above doors is a good idea, because your opponent will start getting shot when he/she walks through, and they will not know where the shots are from.

4. Through Doors and Walls: If you blow up something close enough to a door or wall, the explosion can carry through to the other side.

MULTIPLAYER TACTICS

If you're going up against your friends in a multiplayer battle, you'll need more than just guts to win. Here are some basic techniques that you can use to improve your kill ratio.

▷ Playing Styles

Everyone has their own way of playing a multiplayer game. Perfect Dark's wide variety of weapons and functions is sure to shake things up, so here is a list of tactics you can expect:

1. Lurker

Tactic: This guy will camp out by weapons and wait for you to show up before he nukes you.

Counter: Weapons like Fly-by-wire rockets or the FarSight will allow you to neutralize this opponent.

2. Weapons Shark

Tactic: This player knows the level like the back of his hand and knows where everything spawns. He will keep moving along a set path, picking up the best items before you can.

Counter: Trap his route with mines or with the Dragon (which works really well). The best place to set up a trap is by a shield—where a shark is sure to go.

3. Roving Death

Tactic: This player will follow you relentlessly and keep pelting you with whatever weapon he has. If you're not shielded right away, he will kill you within moments.

Counter: Practice dodging and get him to use up his ammo. When he runs out, you can hunt him down!

▷ Challenge Cheat!

If a Challenge is getting you down, there's a way to beat it with ease! To begin, have the first player enter "Advanced Setup." Once there, have the second player join in. Player one must then enter the "Presets" option screen. Once he's there, the second player should select a level that he normally cannot select (i.e. a level that has not been beaten.) The first player must choose a preset and then the game will begin. This will be a normal game of one-on-one, but when it's finished, the Challenge will have been considered complete. This is a great way for multiplayer fans to skip past the annoying single-man challenges so they can go right to the heart of the options.

Mission 4: Area 51 Escape

COMPLETING OBJECTIVES

1. Locate Alien Tech Medpack
Difficulty: Perfect
Reach the location shown on the map. There will be a locked bullet-proof glass door blocking your way, along with some explosive barrels. Shove the barrel next to the glass and then shoot it to make it explode. On Agent and Special, there will be a Shield for you to collect instead of the alien medpack.

2. Rendezvous with CI Spy
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
Jonathan is hiding in one of the hangers. You simply have to find him to accomplish your mission. Although he can protect himself with his Magnum, you should try to keep the guards off of his back when he follows you.

3. Locate Secret Hangar
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
Once you lead Jonathan into the facility room (see below), he will begin to plant explosives along one side of the wall. It's up to you to protect him from the guards that will show up. Pay special attention to the bridge, as most of the enemies will appear from there.

4. Revive Maian Bodyguard
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
On the Perfect setting, you need to administer the Alien Tech Medpack on Elvis. Once it has started to work, immediately switch to a weapon—as soon as you begin the process, a pair of guards will attack. Protect Elvis as long as you can. After a nerve-wracking minute, Elvis will be up on his feet. On Agent and Special, Elvis will revive as soon as you come back to him with Jonathan.

5. Escape from Area 51
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
On Agent, all you have to do to escape from Area 51 is to reach the UFO in the hanger. On the harder difficulty settings, you have to activate the switches found on the catwalk above the alien ship and then find another way out of the fortress. Head back to the warehouse found next to the locker rooms. Climb to the second floor and continue through the passages. Keep going until you come across a vent on the right side of the wall. Crouch through and the exit will be nearby.

HIDDEN WEAPON ONE
Falcon 2 (Scope) X2
Be sure look at the feet of one of the dead scientists you'll find at the beginning of the level. When he fell, he dropped his gun. Fortunately for you, you can equip it in your left hand. This extra firepower is certainly handy for taking out the guards quickly. When you go for the gun, you must move quickly, because the poison gas will injure you if you stay there too long.

HIDDEN WEAPON TWO
Remote Mines
You'll have about 37 seconds to find a safe place to hide Elvis, then you will be able to acquire the mines in the nook of the room where the CI Spy will plant the explosives. The Remote Mines are a great way to deal with enemy spawning points.

Use the explosive barrels to take out the large packs of guards.

To escape from Area 51, you must find a vent that leads to the warehouse.

Mission 5: Airbase Espionage

COMPLETING OBJECTIVES

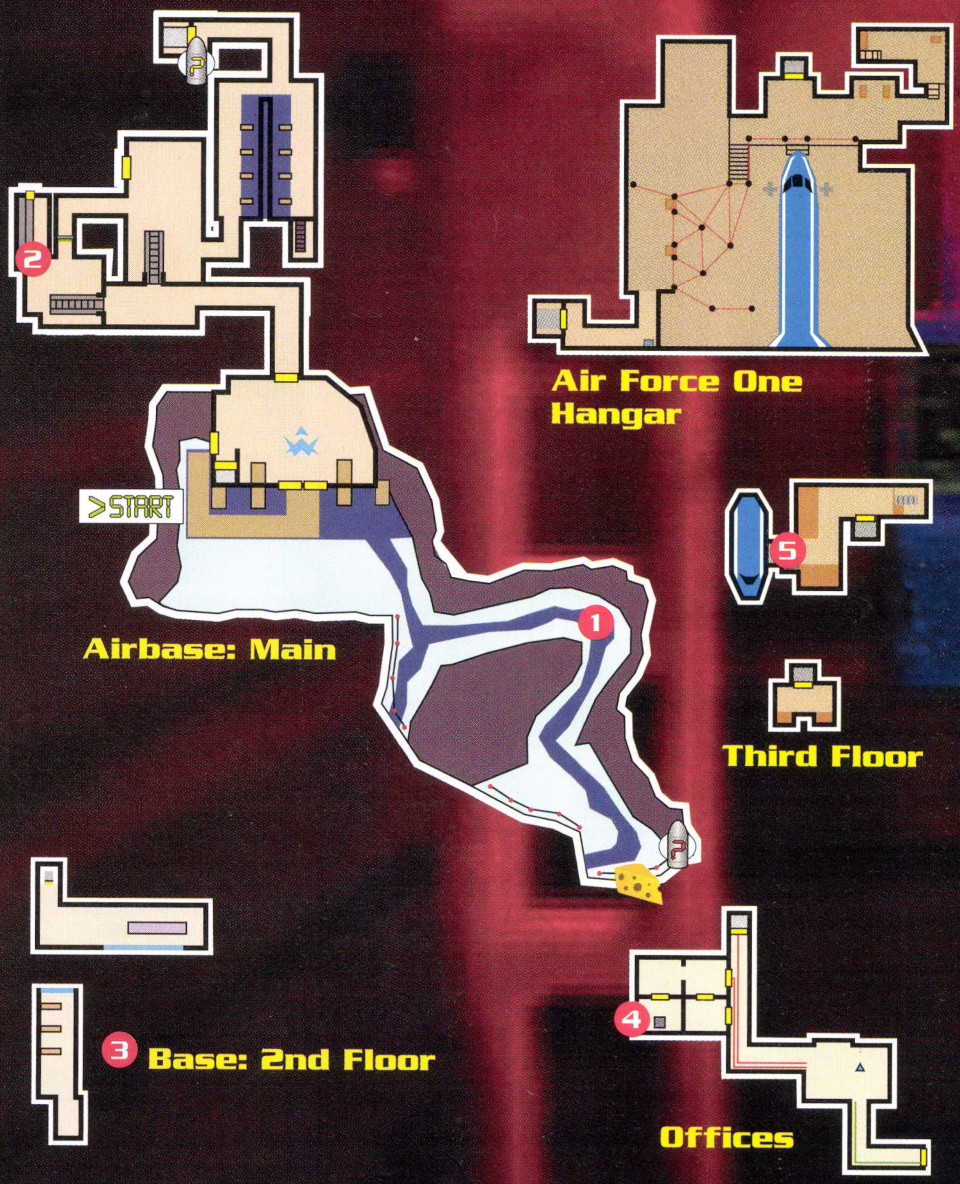
1. Obtain Disguise and Enter Base
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
After knocking out the guards with your Crossbow, head into the ice cave. Inside is a stewardess with the outfit you'll need. Knock her out and grab the disguise, but watch out for the two nearby guards that follow her. Your disguise will hold out as long as you remain unarmed.

2. Check In Equipment
Difficulty: Special, Perfect
Grab the suitcase from the second floor (get there by using the elevator in the foyer). Downstairs there will be a conveyor belt. If you place your weapons in the case, you will be able to smuggle them onto Air Force One. Once you send the suitcase full of weapons on its way, you only have a few seconds to shut security down. Run through the nearby doorway for a shortcut to the security room.

3. Subvert the Security Monitoring System
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
A guard and a scientist are in the room with the security switch. Neutralize both and hit the switch to complete the objective. Remember, you will fail the second objective if you hit the switch before stashing the suitcase.

4. Obtain Flight Plans from Safe
Difficulty: Perfect
Three enemy agents will be in this room trying to wire a door with explosives. Kill all three, then shoot the explosives. Make sure that you are standing far enough away, or you'll get ripped apart by the blast. Crawl through the broken window to reach the safe room. On the back part of the room is a switch. Press it to open the safe.

5. Board Air Force One
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
Depending on the difficulty level, the length of the path you take to get to Air Force One will vary. On Agent, you will be able to shut the laser beams down so you can avoid the offices. On Special and Perfect, you will have to brave the Air Base offices. The hardest part of the level is the final stairway before the boarding ramp. Try to lure the guards down the stairs for an easier shot.



CLASSIFIED >> < INFORMATION

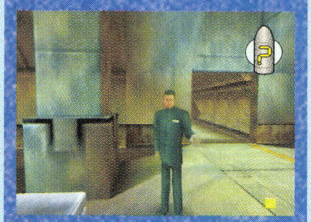
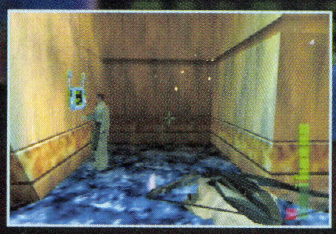
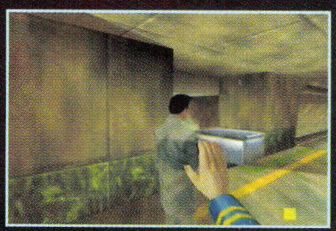
Proximity Mines
If you follow the path that the stewardess walks down, you will find a stash of Proximity Mine in a snow drift. Since they're kind of difficult to spot, you should walk around the left section of the cave's exit. The mines are best used near the escalators, right before you pack them away in the suitcase. When you deactivate security, you'll take out three guards.



HIDDEN WEAPON TWO
DY357 Magnums X2
There are identically dressed three guards dressed, all of which are armed with Magnums. If you neutralize all three before shutting down security, you will get the double Magnums. Looks for these guys at the elevator, escalator and security room.



Take out the guard closest to the alarm to get a good start on the level.



Knocking out most of the guards in the area will prevent troubles later.

Mission 5: Air Force One Anti-Terrorism

COMPLETING OBJECTIVES

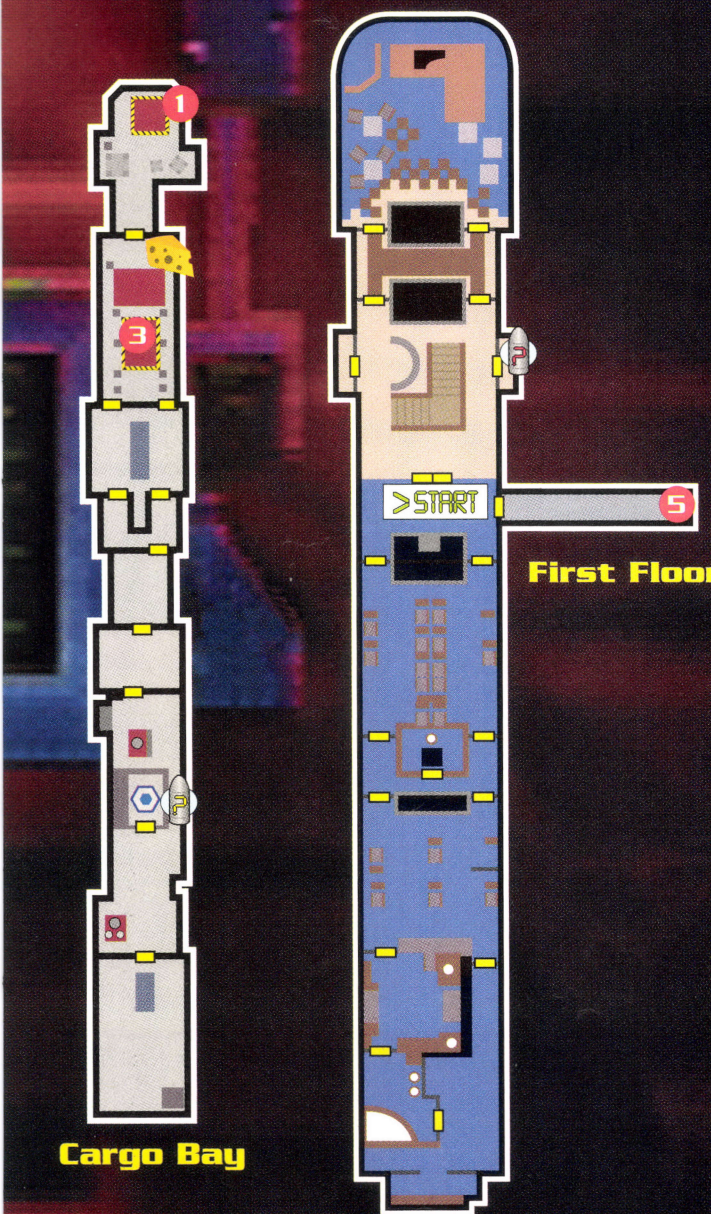
1. Locate and Retrieve Equipment
Difficulty: Special, Perfect
Head to the back of the plane and look for a sliding door on the floor that leads to the storage bay. Once you are below, you will have to head back up to the nose of the plane. In the far end room, there will be a guard who is carrying a keycard. Knock him out and raise the platform. The suitcase in on it. Retrieve it to get all of your weapons. To get back to the main floor without hassle, climb into the dumbwaiter in the kitchen and ride it up.

2. Locate President
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
The President is in the first office on the right, on the second floor. After revealing what's really happening, Air Force One will come under attack. You will need to get the President to safety. Do NOT allow him to get shot. Learn who is an enemy and who is not. The Secret Service will help fend off the dataDyne personnel as long as you did not incapacitate them earlier in the level. Once again, killing any innocents will cost you the mission. It's OK if the bad guys kill them though.

3. Get President to Escape Capsule
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
Lead the President down to the storage level. Inside is an escape pod that he can hide in. After the President is safe, wait around a few seconds, because two evil agents will come down after him.

4. Secure Air Force One Flight Path
Difficulty: Perfect
After the plane is attacked, head immediately to the cockpit and kill all three agents. If they kill the pilots, the plane will crash and you'll fail the mission. Accomplish this BEFORE you lead the President to the escape pod.

5. Detach UFO from Air Force One
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
The Timed Mine you have in your arsenal is just the thing you need to blow that enemy UFO off of the plane. Dash in, plant the Mine and then run like hell. Assuming you have accomplished the other objectives, you will have finished your dealings with Air Force One.



CLASSIFIED >> < INFORMATION

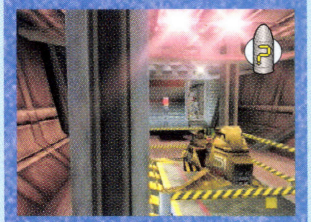
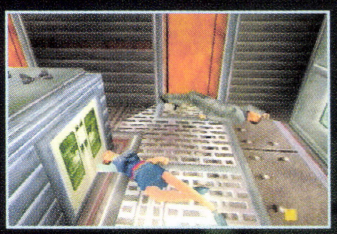
Double Cyclones
Get the keycard from one of the guards who circle the staircase. You can either knock them out before seeing the President or wait till the dataDyne soldiers kill them later. Nearby is a locked set of doors—enter and you'll find a second Cyclone. Now you should be able to rip right through the dataDyne guards with ease. Remember, conserve your ammunition.



SECRET TWO
Hoverbike
The bike is in the hold at the bottom of Air Force One. You will want to lower it if you want it to appear in the next level (as it is essential for getting a good time). Acquire the keycard from the guard that protects the suitcase and switch the panel by the bike.



Do not kill any of the Air Force One personnel or the mission will fail

Don't let the President come under fire. You must keep him alive!

Mission 5: Crash Site Confrontation

COMPLETING OBJECTIVES

1. Retrieve Presidential Medical Scanner
Difficulty: Special, Perfect
You will find the medical scanner lying in a snow drift next to some toilets. It's on the right side of the crashed Air Force One, where two guards are patrolling.

2. Activate Distress Beacon
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
The escape pod is sitting right out in the open. Unfortunately, someone got to the President before you. Run up to the pod and trigger the beacon. Once you do, three guards will appear from your left in the far distance. It's best to take them out now, before they can even attempt to fire upon you.

3. Shut Down Enemy Jamming Device
Difficulty: Perfect
The alien ship is in one of the back fields. It's protected heavily by two Sentry Guns; take them out from an extreme distance or you'll get ripped apart. There are also two guards milling about, but they shouldn't pose too much of a threat. To destroy the ship, stand far back from it and shoot. The explosion this thing makes is huge, and if you stand to close, you will end up as bloody gravy.

4. Retire Presidential Clone
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
The aliens plan on switching the real President with a clone. Look for the clone in the dark caves surrounded by guards. If he sees you, he'll try to run, so try to kill him quickly. As soon as he dies, expect a handful of elite guards to hunt you down. Discourage them with a few Proximity Mines.

5. Locate and Rescue President
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
Trent is holding the President captive in the small cave. There are six sentry droids that are guarding Trent, and you'll have to lure them out and kill them—don't shoot too close to the President or he'll get killed by the explosion. Shoot Trent before he caps the President or the mission will be aborted. Once Trent runs off, you have to escort the President back to Elvis' UFO. Assuming that you killed most of the guards when you first went through the area, this part shouldn't be too bad.

HIDDEN WEAPON ONE
Proximity Mines
If you head backwards to the UFO crash site when you first begin, you have a chance to acquire a handy batch of Mines. Before attempting to complete any of the missions, go see Elvis. He has the items you need. The Proximity Mines are best used in the dark cave. After you kill the Presidential Clone, drop a Mine and watch the guards blow up.

HIDDEN WEAPON TWO
DY357-LX
Want a gun that kills anyone, no matter what? Trent (the guy holding the President captive) has this gun, and you'll have to disarm him to get it. Shoot him once to turn him away from the President, then run in and Disarm him as soon as possible.

You can pick off most of the enemies on this stage at long range.

Do not destroy the droids too close to the President. Lure them out first.

Mission 6: Pelagic II Exploration

COMPLETING OBJECTIVES

1. Disable Primary Power Source
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
First, kill all of the guards in the area. Next, head to the second floor and don your X-Ray Scanner so you can look at the switches. You have to activate all of the green switches, but none of the red. Next, head to the lower level and press the trigger at the base of the machine—this will cut the power from most of the ship.

2. Secure Laboratories and Research Data
Difficulty: Perfect
There are two laboratories on this ship which are conveniently located across the hall from each other. In each lab is a scientist; shooting them causes the level will end, so you'll need to knock them out with your fists. Do it quickly, because they will run. Acquire the disks they are holding to complete your objective.

3. Deactivate GPS and Autopilot
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
Kill all of the guards in the surrounding area so there's no possibility of interference, then approach the crew with your guns drawn and force them to shut the boat down. Midway through the transaction, one of the crewmen (normally the one on the left) will attempt to kill his mates. Blast that guy into oblivion before he prevents the objective from being accomplished. Don't be discouraged if this takes a few tries. This is a tough objective to complete the first time about.

4. Activate Moon Pool lift
Difficulty: Special, Perfect
After a short but intense firefight with a handful of guards, head to the switch on the right side of the wall. Triggering it accomplishes this relatively easy task.

5. Rendezvous and Escape with Elvis
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
You'll find Elvis in the very bowels of the ship, and he will lead you toward the submarine you will use to escape. If you have killed off all of the guards in the level, this part will be pretty easy. Otherwise, you will have a battle on your hands. Try to keep Elvis alive, otherwise the mission will get scrubbed. If you destroy all of the crates, the enemy will have nowhere to hide.

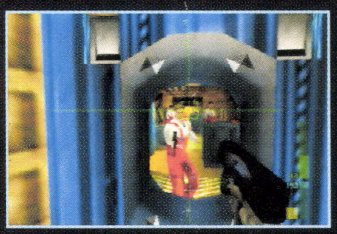
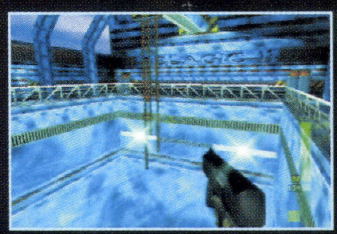
If you can kill the guards at the start of the level before they or the rest of the crew can set off the alarm, you will be rewarded for your efforts. The best way to kill these guards is to shoot them through the door windows. If you are fast enough, you can clear out an entire room without alarming the rest of the ship to your presence.



This is the best level to use the "shoot through doors" trick.

Clear out all of the nearby guards before you cut the power.



Clear a path between Elvis and the sub bay or he'll end up getting shot.

Mission 6: Deep Sea Nullify Threat

COMPLETING OBJECTIVES

1. Reactivate Teleportals
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
First, take out the guards, then protect Elvis while he tries to activate the teleportals. A few guards may attempt to stop him, but you should take them out easily if you are watching the entrance. After the teleportals are set, three cloaked guards will attack you inside the corridors.

2. Disable Cetan Megaweapon
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
This objective changes depending on the difficulty. On Agent and Special, you must protect Elvis while he attempts to shut down the megaweapon. In Perfect, you can deal with the megaweapon before ever seeing it. First, you will come across a series of rooms with locked doors. Blast the green energy bars to unlock them, but be careful when you do this. Otherwise, you might get swamped with Skedar critters. If you are skilled with the Far Sight, kill off the Skedar creatures from behind the closed doors. By nuking all of them from their nests, the megaweapon will be destroyed. Use caution when navigating the corridors—there are a few Sentry Guns in the ceilings that can make life difficult.

3. Secure Control Room
Difficulty: Special, Perfect
There are a few elite guards protecting Dr. Caroll in the control room. Don't bother entering the room—be safe and take them out with the Far Sight. This is one of the easiest objectives to complete on this mission.

4. Restore Dr. Caroll's Personality
Difficulty: Perfect
When you reach Dr. Caroll, simply insert the Data Disk from your inventory into the AI. The disk can be found in the inventory menu when you pause the game (you normally cannot access it from the basic menu).

5. Escape from Cetan Ship
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
Follow Elvis out of the ship before it blows up. There will be a small group of guards blocking the way out. They don't put up much of a fight, so rush them with your guns blazing—just make sure Elvis doesn't bite it.

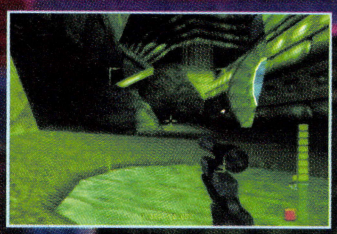
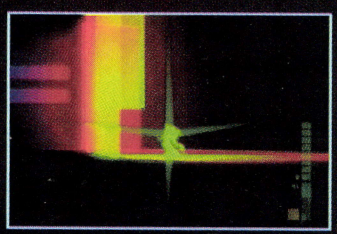
HIDDEN WEAPON ONE
Proximity Mines
Three cloaked guards will attack when you move from the airlock into the alien structure. If you can kill them before Elvis does, one of them will drop what looks like a large box of noodles. This item contains three Proximity Mines. These handy items can be loads of fun and are most effective for taking out those obnoxious small aliens.



To get a good time, just run through the first section of the level.

In the tight cave section, shoot the lanterns to open up the passages.



Use Elvis' Far Sight to kill off the Skedar creatures from a safe location.

Mission 7: Carrington Institute Defense

COMPLETING OBJECTIVES

1. Reactivate Automatic Defenses
Difficulty: Special, Perfect
Turn on the three Defense Guns to rid the area of enemies. If they reach Carrington, you'll lose the mission. Near each gun is a small panel on the wall. Press the panels and the area will be secure.

2. Release Hostages
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
There are four rooms where your fellow agents are being held hostage. Rescue them by killing their captors. Since your opponents have shields, this is easier said then done. You should use Combat Boosts to slow down the action in the Simulation room, otherwise you're going to lose a few people. If too many people die, the mission will be aborted.

3. Retrieve Experimental Weapon
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
Head back to the firing range and check out the computer. It will unlock a glass case on the wall which contains the RC-P120, a powerful gun that cuts right through enemy shields. This gun also allows you to cloak for a limited time so you can get past the guards to your next objective. Just be careful—the cloaking device eats up ammunition like mad.

4. Destroy Sensitive Information
Difficulty: Perfect
Cloak up and run to Carrington's office. Blow up the safe and the papers inside will be destroyed—this will prevent the dataDyne and Skedar conspirator's from getting any crucial data.

5. Deactivate Bomb
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
The Skedar have landed a ship just inside of the hanger area. It's surrounded by elite guards, so you'll have to use a little skill to get rid of them. If you have the Devastator, you should have a much easier time getting rid of these guys. After all the enemies have been dealt with, try to launch the craft carrying the bomb with your Data Uplink. As soon as you try to crack the system, a few more guards will be come your way. This is one of the "triggers" we mentioned in the last guide. The enemies will most likely come from deep inside the hangar area when they attack.

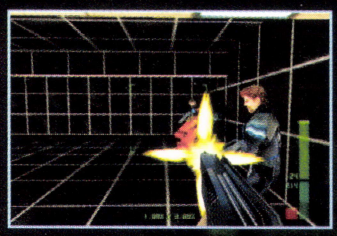
Devastator
If you rescue both attendants within the Hacker's room of the Institute, you will acquire the Devastator. This gun is a wonderful tool for dealing with massed enemies, particularly the ones in the training room. Remember that you must save both occupants of the room. Combat Drugs are an ideal way to get a jump on the hostage takers.

You'll get hit by your own Sentry Guns if you step in front when they fire.



Combat Boosts are essential to taking out large packs of guards.

Once the hostages run out of their room, it's OK if they get blasted.

Mission 8: Attack Ship Covert Assault

COMPLETING OBJECTIVES

1. Disable Shield System
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
Destroy the three terminals in this room with the Mauler you can retrieve from one of the guards. Once all three are gone, you can progress.

2. Open Hangar Doors
Difficulty: Perfect
Once you reach the hangar, continue going straight until you reach a nearly identical room. There is a single computer inside. Activate it and the Maians will be able to help you out. Little grey aliens will enter the hanger and start duking it out with the Skedar. Before heading up the lift with Elvis, make sure to grab any of the Mauler ammo left on the ground.

3. Access Navigational Systems
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
Take out both cloaked guards in this room and guard Elvis while he works his magic. This objective is pretty simple.

4. Sabotage Engine Systems
Difficulty: Special, Perfect
In this large circular room there is a power core being held up by two structure supports. Blast both supports and run as far from this room as you can—the whole area is going to explode.

5. Gain Control of Bridge
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
The final battle is pretty intense. When you first enter, you will be attacked by three Skedar at once. This battle is relatively easy—the hard part is when reinforcements start pouring through both doors. Keep blasting away as long as you can. Sooner or later, Elvis will gain control of the ship and help you out. Once this happens, this mission is as good as complete. Charged Mauler shots work best for putting the Skedar down. Do not be afraid to run up the ramps to retreat, though.

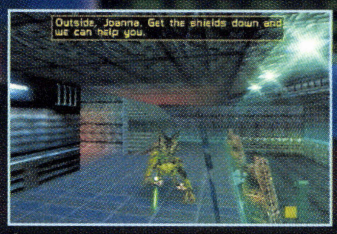
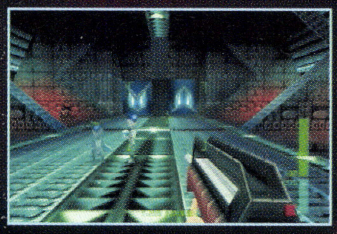
When you first enter the bridge to the alien ship, you will see two Skedar on the flanks and one large one in the center. Kill the large Skedar and he will drop a second Mauler for you to use. Clear out the attacking aliens with charged-up shots from these two weapons and you will be able to take the bridge and control it. Keep firing at the two doors.



Kill the first Skedar by throwing the Knife and waiting for him to die.



Let the Maians kill off the Skedar instead of wasting your ammunition.

Mission 9: Skedar Ruins Battle Shrine

COMPLETING OBJECTIVES

1. Identify Temple Targets
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
There are five obelisks in the Temple area of the level. Only three of them are actually the correct target, though. The game will let you know when you come across your first correct target. Once you do, place the Amplifier on it. From here on, you will need to use your R-Tracker to find the correct obelisks. After the third Amplifier has been placed, make sure to step back. If you don't, you will get nailed by a small explosion as Elvis blasts them from his ship.

2. Activate Bridge
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
Deal with the Skedar critter in this room and move to the right side of that strange obelisk. If you look down, you will notice a small indentation in the floor. Shove the block until it sits on the indentation. After a few seconds, the bridge will stretch across the chasm. Don't worry, you do not have to place the block exactly.

3. Gain Access to Inner Sanctum
Difficulty: Special, Perfect
Tread carefully through the darkened corridors. This area will go much easier if you memorize how many Skedar critters are waiting to leap out at you. Sooner or later you will come across a locked door atop a bridge. To open it, look for a shrine asking for a sacrifice. Equip a weapon that you do not plan on using again and place it on the pedestal by tapping the B button while looking down.

4. Destroy Secret Skedar Army
Difficulty: Perfect
Skedar will start waking from their cryogenic sleep and will immediately start attacking. Circle the room and keep an eye out for any motion. Use the charged Mauler to kill them in one shot—tale them out quickly or you will get boxed in and torn apart. This is one of the most intense rooms in the game, so don't get discouraged if you get nuked the first time you reach this battle.

5. Assassinate Skedar Leader
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
See the next page for the most effective way to deal with this monstrosity. This is it, the final battle. Do you have the guts?.

This weapon is great for tackling large groups of Skedar.

SKEDAR LEADER

1. An Invincible Foe?
The Skedar Leader is protected by an impervious shield that your weapons will never be able to get through. In fact, he has a deluxe shield that will regenerate after a few seconds. You will know that his shield is at full strength when it is red. Shoot it until it becomes green—the power drain will make the talisman behind him vulnerable.

2. The Leader's Attacks
This boss normally stands idly on the platform in front of the Talisman while he lets his cronies do all the work. Skedar Warriors and critters will appear from either side of the pedestal. It's easy to forget about these small fries when the boss is taking up most of the screen, but they're the ones who will do you in. Once you kill these little guys off (they will respawn endlessly) you'll have a moment concentrate on the Leader. His primary attack is firing rockets at you. One hit, even if you are shielded, will probably kill you. When he's firing at you, head back toward the boxes near the entrance to the room. After the boxes are blown up, you will be able to find ammunition on the ground. If you don't see the boss for some reason, start running as fast as you can. This means that he has teleported and is now cloaked right next to you. As long as you keep moving, you will be able to avoid his Joanna rendering claws.

3. The weakness
Blast the boss until his shield turns green. At this point, the Talisman will become vulnerable. Use the High Impact Shells of the Callisto and target the four arms of the talisman. After the four are shot off, fire away at the central piece. Once that is destroyed, the Skedar Leader will get impaled and you will have prevented the Skedar from threatening Earth any further. Note: This boss is relatively the same on all three difficulty settings. He will attempt to teleport more often on Perfect, though.

The Leader's strongest attack is firing rockets at you.

Shoot his shield until it flashes green, then shoot the talisman.

NEW INTRO?

Prove You Beat Perfect Dark
After you have beaten Perfect Dark, you will be treated to a brand new opening intro that is reminiscent of the ending credits. Normally, you get stuck with a boring repeat of the first cinema of Joanna infiltrating the dataDyne Building. If you've already earned the cinema, you can enter your options and turn it off. This is just another bonus for players who have spent the time playing all the way through the game.

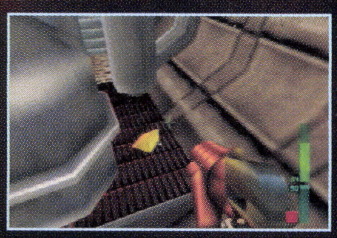
CHEESE?!?

What's with All of Those Pieces of Cheese?
For some unknown reason, each level contains a hidden a hunk of cheese. Although you cannot collect them or interact with them in any way, it still might be fun to find them. Look on our level maps for where you can find the cheese. The pieces are in some pretty bizarre locations, including a toilet. Who knows what the programmers at Rare were thinking.

The odds are good that the pieces of cheese were some kind of secret early on in the game's design cycle which were partially removed before the eventual release. If you can find them, enjoy the fact that most players will never even see them.



All in all, the cheese does absolutely nothing for you if you find it.

UNLOCKING SPECIAL ASSIGNMENTS

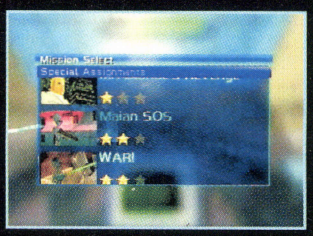
The Mission Continues...
There are four more missions to Perfect Dark than is first apparent. Every time you complete the game on one of the difficulty settings, you will open up another level. The three main extra missions are not for Joanna. For these Special Assignments, you will be assuming the roles of Mr. Blonde and Elvis.

Complete Agent Setting: Mr. Blonde's Revenge
This mission is reminiscent of the scene in Terminator where Arnie kills an entire police station full of cops. It's a great stress reliever.

Complete Special Setting: Maian SOS
You will learn about how Elvis got captured and sent to Area 51. This mission is his first attempt to escape before Joanna came to save him. This level is a rehash of the Area 51 buildings.

Complete Perfect Setting: War!
Finish the fight against the Skedar once and for all! In this mission, you play as one of many Maians who are assaulting the ruins. Assassinate the three new Skedar leaders before they can start the war against Earth.

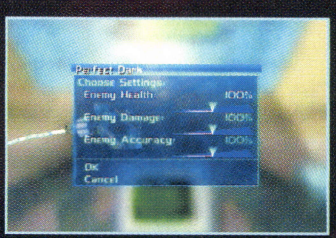
The Duel
Earn a Bronze in all weapons and beat the game to play a mini-level where you must duel against three opponents.



You can unlock four more missions if you are skillful enough.

PERFECT DARK MODE

Tailoring Your Levels:
After you have completed Perfect Dark on all of the difficulty settings, you will have unlocked Perfect Dark Mode. This new option is yet another way to play the solo games. You can modify the game to suit your needs by adjusting three options: Enemy Health, Damage and Accuracy. You can play with all the level objectives intact, which is great because you can use this feature to learn how to beat the time test secrets. Keep in mind that beating these levels will not add another star—the difficulty level of Perfect Dark Mode is just for your added enjoyment.



You can adjust the difficulty in any way that you see fit.

Special Assignment: Mr. Blonde's Revenge

COMPLETING OBJECTIVES

1. Plant Explosive Device in Lab Lift
Difficulty: Special, Perfect
Reach the lab elevator by cloaking and strolling past all of the guards. Once you reach the elevator, kill off all of the surrounding personnel. If you make any loud noises, some guards are certain to come running. If they reach the elevator, the mission will be aborted. Use this to your advantage by sniping anyone trying to lock down the elevator. Once all of the guards have been taken care of, plant the explosives and move to Cassandra before the time runs out (thus killing you).

2. Eliminate dataDyne Captain
Difficulty: Perfect
The dataDyne Captain is standing right outside of the elevator offices. Simply kill her and this objective will be completed.

3. Locate and Escort Cassandra to Helipad
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
Cassandra's on the top floor, but you'll have to work to get to her. Kill off all of the guards on the 21st and 22nd floors. This will trigger an elite guard into riding an elevator (the one that is normally locked) down to your position. Kill him, then ride the elevator up to the 23rd floor. Flip the switch on the table outside of Cassandra's room and enter. Disarm her before she can shoot you, then hold her at gunpoint. If you do this quickly, there will not be as many guards to deal with. Lead her up to the roof, where you will have two more elite guards. Once you kill them, you will have a free run to the roof. This is one of the toughest missions in the game because of the time limit and the vast number of guards you must clear through.

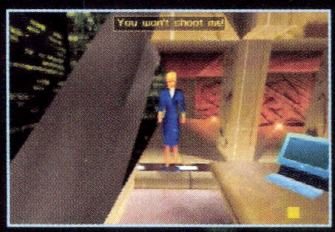
Send a BombSpy into the security room and clear out the guards inside.



Take away Cassandra's gun, but do NOT knock her out or you will fail.

Watch out for the elite guards. They will toss N-Bombs at you.

Special Assignment: Maian SOS

COMPLETING OBJECTIVES

1. Sabotage Enemy Medical Experiment
Difficulty: Special, Perfect
Locate the laboratory that looks exactly like the one you started in. It will be the first door on your left when you enter the hallway. Inside you will see two scientists dissecting one of your fellow Maians. If you stand at the doorway, and fire your Dragon at the hoverbed, it will explode, destroying the experiment and the scientists.

2. Destroy Captured Maian Saucer
Difficulty: Perfect
To get to the hangar where the UFO is being held, you'll need to do a little running. Run from the second lab down the hallway and get to the giant warehouse that is in the door beyond the locker rooms. Deal with the guards from the doorway here, then move up to the second floor. The door on the right side of the room will be the one you will want to use—it leads to a small vent that you can crouch into. This will drop you down into the warehouse that you started the Area 51: Rescue level in. Kill all of the guards and ride the elevator to the second floor. Remember the doorway that led to the Phoenix before? Head through it and take care of the four guards on the ground before taking to the ramps. Using the extreme distance of the Dragon, you'll want to shoot the UFO. If you are within 50 feet of the UFO, you will get nailed by the blast. Remember, this will cause one massive explosion.

3. Activate Distress Signal
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
After you have dealt with the UFO, make your way to the elevator that is at the end of the ramp. Ride it upward and you will be a few hallways from the room where you acquired the Phoenix when you were in this area earlier in the game. This zone has four scientists who are easy to miss. They like to hide in their little cubicles before shooting you in the back. When you reach the large room, shoot the barricades lining the center of the room. You should see a computer terminal at the opposite side of the room. Deal with the scientists, then flip the switch on the computer.

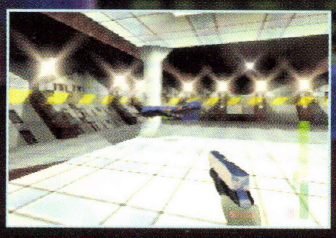
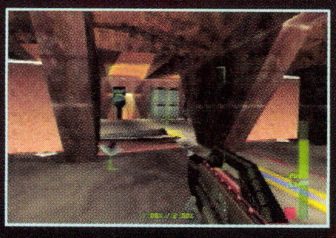
The rarest weapon in the game has only one shot. You can only get it by knocking out the second scientist in the lab that you start in. With him out of the way, search the table for the weapon. The Psychosis Gun is a non-lethal weapon that resembles the tranquilizer guns. Hit an enemy with it and he will start shooting wildly at the other guards.

HIDDEN WEAPON TWO
DY357 Magnum (x2)
This guard has two Magnums, which can hose anyone with a single shot. This guy will give you a real bad day unless you deal with him—use the Psychosis Gun on him and you'll have a real deadly ally clearing the halls for you. It's an instant guard removal.



To escape the first room, shoot the hoverbed while it's by the glass.



Blow down the barriers in this area to be able to reach the distress signal.

Special Assignment: War!

COMPLETING OBJECTIVES

1. Kill Skedar King
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
The first King is located right in front of the war alter where Joanna had to sacrifice a weapon. Skedar will be bounding down from the ramps above, so make sure to have a few Maian troops around to cover your back. Switch the Phoenix to the secondary function and let loose at the giant Skedar. His primary attacks are rockets, so keep strafing to avoid the catastrophic damage. After a few blasts, he will go down, but it's far from safe to rest. Skedar will start pouring down from the bridge, so make a tactical retreat and go back to letting the other Maians do all the work.

2. Kill Skedar King 2
Difficulty: Special, Perfect
The second Skedar King is in the room where the Secret Army awakened. He will be in the back of the room, using the central pillar as cover. The hardest part about dealing with this boss is getting to him. The doors create a nasty bottleneck and Skedar are just lined up to pounce. Don't be afraid to fire your explosive Phoenix through the door. You will end up killing a few of your guys, but eventually you will be able to blast a hole through the wall of flesh in front of you. This King is killed the same way as the first one you met.

3. Kill Skedar King 3
Difficulty: Perfect
In the talisman room, the final Skedar King awaits. You will have to strafe a lot to avoid getting smeared by his rockets. Don't let up with the Phoenix shots and he should fall like the other two Skedar fiends.

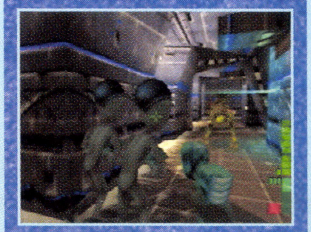
Infinite Maians
Cheap Cannon Fodder
In this mission, you won't be alone—you get to bring a small army of angry Maians with you. They are normally sent out in squads of four and are armed with Callistos (you'll have a Phoenix). The Maian troops are unlimited, which means you can kill as many of your own troops as you'd like, just for the ammunition. This may sound cruel, but whoever said that war was fair? As a good rule of thumb, keep these guys between you and the Skedar. As a Maian, you do not have as much life as Joanna. A single good claw swipe will kill you.



Let the other (expendable) Maians take all of the risks.

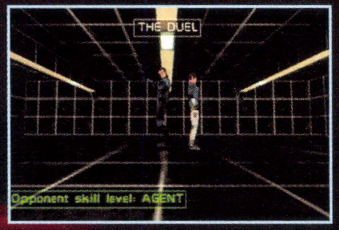
Special Assignment: The Duel

COMPLETING OBJECTIVES

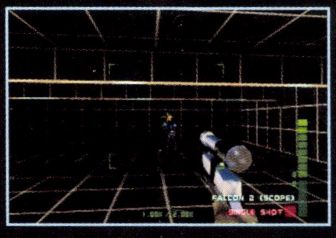
Defeat dataDyne Guard
Difficulty: Agent, Special, Perfect
Your best bet to taking the guard out is to strafe to the side, duck down and shoot. He's not to skilled with the gun, but he is smart enough to blast you if you get close. Once he's targeted, fire fast, cut out of the zoom and dodge the retaliatory shot he fires.

Defeat Jonathan Dark
Difficulty: Special, Perfect
Jonathan will appear behind the wall, so you can get a jump on him by heading over there and Disarming him before he can even fire. Knock him out with your fists for the easiest chance at putting him away. He is the easiest of the three Duelists.

Defeat Trent Easton
Difficulty: Perfect
Trent will appear randomly in the room. Try to close the distance as soon as possible so you can punch him out. The AI expects you to try to shoot, so you can really surprise it. You have a good chance at ambushing it from behind the wall Jonathan used.



Earn a Bronze medal in every weapon and beat the game once for The Duel.



You will want to conserve your ammunition for the harder agents.

X-treme X-citement

by Kenneth Miller
kenneth_miller@ziffdavis.com

When I first heard about Mutant Academy, I'll admit I was skeptical. To be honest, I was even insulting it. An American-made fighter with a movie tie-in? I can't think of a worse formula that doesn't involve sheep. I hadn't played five minutes, though, before I changed my opinion 100 percent. Along with the fighting game staples like Arcade, Versus and Training modes, Mutant Academy has plenty to keep real fighter fans interested, like deep gameplay and fun Combos.

This game may share a license with Capcom's VS series, but that's where the similarity ends. Mutant Academy's game engine is a lot more controlled and although it has some big Combos, they take skill and timing to perform.

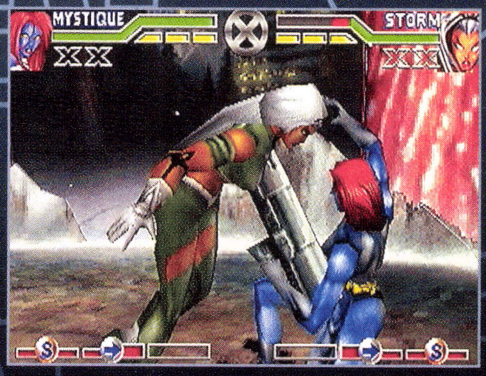
Try to ignore the movie tie-in and let's concentrate on getting started.

Basics

- In the same style as Street Fighter EX, X-Men Mutant Academy has 3D characters and backgrounds but plays like a 2D fighter. It has no side-stepping, side-throws or side-anything else. The characters do make use of the 3D environment on a graphical level, but it never affects the gameplay.
- The characters each have the classic six attack buttons as well as Street Fighter-esque Special moves and a dash by double-tapping forward or backward.

Throws

Throws are performed by pressing either Light Punch and Light Kick together or the pre-set Throw button (the default is L2). You will get a different throw depending on which direction you're holding on the controls. Throws have very good range, so they can be a great surprise tactic—especially after a dash or when you're blocking a close-range attack. Remember that even though some Supers involve a throw as part of the command, they can be blocked.



Counters

Counters are performed by pressing either Medium Punch and Medium Kick together or the pre-set Counter button (the default is L1). When you perform a Counter, your character will go into his or her Counter animation and if any attack hits them, even a projectile, they will perform a Counter attack. You can't Counter in the air, but you can Counter an attack from an airborne opponent while you're on the ground. You can attempt a Counter as many times as you want, but if your Counter attack actually comes out, whether it hits or not, you'll lose one of the yellow stocks under your Life Bar. You only get three stocks per match; when you run out of stocks, you can still attempt a Counter, but you'll just get hit as if you weren't blocking.

Chain Combos

Like so many Capcom fighters, the main Combo system in Mutant Academy is chain Combos. There is no basic chain that works for every character, but they tend to follow a weak-to-strong pattern such as Beast's LP, LK, MP, MK, MK chain. Most chain Combos can be finished with a Special or Super (we've listed some of the best Combos for each character on the following pages). Remember that some longer chain Combos will only work in the corner or after a dash or jump-in attack. Otherwise, you'll be pushed too far away before you complete it. Other times, your entire chain may hit, but your Special or Super may be too far away to connect. It's always fun to show off, but sometimes a simpler chain will prove to be the better Combo.

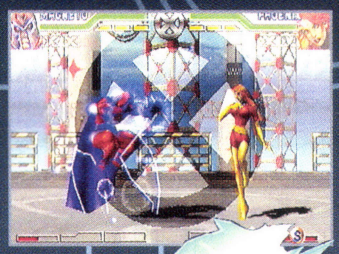
Super Attacks

At the bottom of your side of the screen you'll see three bars that represent your available Super Attacks. The bar closest to the edge of the screen represents your Super, the middle bar represents your Stringed Super and the bar closest to the middle of the screen represents your X-Treme Super. Each kind of Super Attack is stronger than the one before it and they are all performed differently (see explanation below).

Supers

The Super is your simplest Super Attack. Most characters' Supers do 25 percent damage, but there a few exceptions that trade a few percentage points of damage for an added effect like Phoenix's Hyper Air Strike or Metaphysical Confusion. Supers charge up faster than any other Super Attack and they don't take much energy to perform. In fact, you can end nearly every long Combo with a Super.



Stringed Supers

■ When you perform a Stringed Super, a directional arrow will appear at the bottom of the screen. If you press the direction indicated, another arrow will appear. Keep pressing the proper directions for a total of five arrows. You only have a short time to perform the directions, but for each you get, you'll increase the damage of the Stringed Super by two percent. Because a Stringed Super starts at 25 percent damage, you can get up to 10 extra percentage points for a possible total of 35 percent damage.

■ Although the directions are different for each character, everyone always has the same set of five directions (and they don't change, regardless of which side of the screen you're on), so you can memorize your character's set. We've indicated each character's Stringed Super directions under the Stringed Super command.

X-Treme Supers

■ The X-Treme is the most powerful of the three Super Attacks., but it also takes the most time to charge. Even when you fill your X-Treme Super bar to max, you still can't use the attack yet. When the bar reaches its max, two halves of an X will appear at the opposite ends of the bar. Rapidly tapping the X button on your controller (regardless of what attack it is) will cause the halves to come together, allowing you to actually perform the X-Treme Super. Once the X symbol has formed on the bar, though, you only have about 10 seconds to get the move off before the two halves of the X separate again.

■ A few of the characters' X-Treme Supers feature a special effect instead of an attack, like Wolverine's Weapon X. For the most part, however, X-Treme Supers hit for 45 percent damage.

Transferring Super Energy

■ Each Super Attack bar has its own button on the control pad, but the positioning depends on which player you are: Square is always the left-most Super Attack bar (Super for the player one; X-Treme Super for the player two); Triangle is always the middle Super Attack, so it's the Stringed Super bar for either player; and Circle is always the right-most Super Attack bar (X-Treme Super for player one; Super for player two). To transfer energy, hold Left or Right on the control pad and hold the button of the Super Attack bar you want to transfer from, then press the button of the Super Attack bar you want to transfer the energy to. For player one to transfer energy from the Super bar to the X-Treme Super bar, for example, he or she would hold Left or Right, hold Square and then press Circle.

■ The stronger Super Attacks require more energy than the weaker ones. Keep this in mind when you're transfering energy, because a full Super will only fill an X-Treme Super bar halfway, even though there's no "loss" in energy from the transfer.

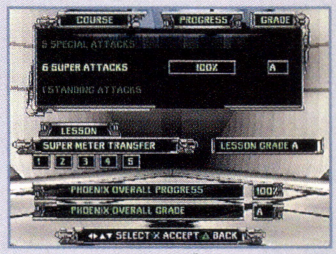
■ You can transfer energy at any time, even while performing another Super Attack. So, for any Combo that uses the same Super Attack more than once, you'll need to transfer enough energy back into that bar during the first Super Attack to activate that same Super Attack after the first one finishes.

Survival Mode

The Survival Mode in Mutant Academy is pretty much like that of any other fighting game: you're pitted against a never-ending stream of opponents that must be defeated one at a time, you have only one Life Bar and you regain life between rounds based on how quickly you beat your former opponent. The faster you win, the more life you'll regain. The Survival mode doesn't show you how many foes you've defeated until after you lose or quit, so if you're trying to unlock pictures in Cerebro Mode, you'll need to keep track of your wins yourself.

Academy Mode

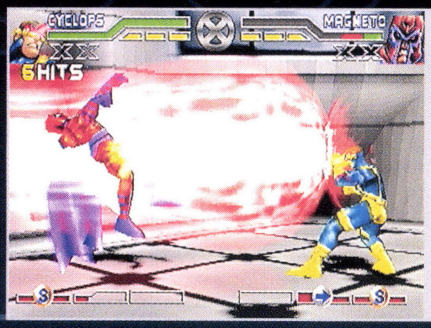
Within Academy Mode you'll find Independent Study and Academy Training. Independent Study is a standard training mode and Academy Training is a long (and boring) series of lessons on how to perform your various attacks. Each character has to complete every lesson to unlock its Outro FMV in Cerebro Mode (if you get an "A" on every lesson, you'll also earn that character's third costume).



Cerebro Mode

Cerebro Mode displays all the available locked movies, pictures and character costumes. You can view any movies or pictures you've unlocked by highlighting the "prize" and pressing X. If that item is still locked, press X to find out what you need to do to unlock it.

CYCLOPS



Tips and Strategies

• Cyclops' Optic Blast hits very high, so just about any character can duck under it. Because of its long duration, you should use the beam when your opponent is jumping away from you.

• The Hyper Rush moves very far very fast. You can easily use it to catch an opponent who misses an attack (even from far away). If a projectile is on screen when you activate the Hyper Rush, it will pass right through you before the Super even starts—this allows you to safely fly over and barrage your opponents before they can block (this is particularly useful against Gambit's Card Toss or Storm's Ball Lightning).

• The Super Power Lunge Kick has a rather short range. Don't try to use it to finish a long chain Combo—it will likely miss and leave you open to attack.

Combos

- Jump-in HK, LP, LK, MP, HK Lunge Kick, juggle with Optic Blast.
- Jump-in HK, LP, LK, MP, low HP, Hyper Rush or Concussion Blast.
- Jump-in HK, LP, LK, MP, HK Lunge Kick, juggle with Concussion Blast.
- Jump-in HK, LP, LK, Super Power Lunge Kick, juggle with Optic blast or Concussion Blast.
- Jump-in HK, LP, LK, Super Power Lunge Kick, immediately perform Hyper Rush to juggle.

GAMBIT

Tips and Strategies

• Gambit's important Special Attacks require charges, so you'll always want to have one ready to keep the pressure on or to finish a chain Combo.

• Even though it's performed with a throw command, the Charged Staff can be blocked. You shouldn't discount the move, though, because it comes out quickly and moves a good distance. You can easily use it to snag your opponent after any close-range move you block.

• The Card Trick has a very short forward range and will often miss an opponent that's using a low attack. Don't try to use it at the end of a chain Combo (unless it's a short one). Instead, use it as anti-air—it comes out quickly and will even hit an opponent that is high above you.

PHOENIX

Tips and Strategies

• In order to perform Phoenix's best Specials, you'll have to jump—so keep to the air and assault your opponent.

• Phoenix is the only character that has two regular Supers, but neither of them does as much damage as a typical Super. Instead, each has an added effect if it hits. The Metaphysical Confusion temporarily reverses your opponent's controls, and if the Hyper Air Strike hits your opponent on the ground, you can follow up with a juggle.

• The Phoenix Force temporarily creates an energy shield around Phoenix. If your opponent attacks her while the shield is active, they'll take 50 percent of any damage they do to her.

Combos

- Jump-in HK, LP, MP, HP, Inferno Kick.
- Jump-in HK, LP, MP, low HP, low MP, Double Phoenix, walk forward until second bird hits, then jump and perform HK Air Strike to juggle.
- Jump-in HK, LP, MP, low HP, low MP, Double Phoenix, dash forward until second bird hits, then jump and perform Hyper Air Strike to juggle.

Corner Combos

- Jump-in HK, LP, MP, low HP, low MP, Double Phoenix, immediately perform Metaphysical Confusion to juggle.
- Jump-in HK, LP, MP, low HP, low MP, Double Phoenix, immediately perform Double Phoenix again to juggle.

TOAD

Tips and Strategies

• Although the best strategy for Toad is to keep him on the move so he can confuse your opponent, he does have some nasty Combos that you can employ if the chance arises.

• Don't be fooled by the Kicking Toad. It looks slow and appears to be a throw, but looks can be deceiving—it's actually quite easy to use in Combos (it can be blocked, though).

• If you want to juggle after the Frog Legs, you'll need to adjust your timing depending on where you are and which move you're using. If you're not in the corner, you'll need to use the HP Toad Spit as quickly as possible for it to hit. In the corner, though, you'll need to wait. Juggling with another Frog Legs in the corner takes especially tight timing—you'll need to wait until your opponent is right above you to use it.

WOLVERINE

Tips and Strategies

• Wolverine has no long-range attacks, but he's great at close-range pressure. Assault your opponent with a non-stop barrage of attacks.

• Although the Samurai Slice moves quickly, it doesn't do a lot of damage and you can't Combo into it. When it does hit, however, it leaves your opponent stunned and open to attack. You can use it to replace the jump-in attack on any Combo, though you may need to walk forward a step before you begin the chain.

• Wolverine's Weapon X doesn't do any damage to your opponent. Instead, it will heal a significant amount of your lost life—just make sure you don't leave yourself open when you use it.

STORM

Tips and Strategies

• Storm's Static Force creates a ball of electricity that revolves around her for several seconds and can damage your opponent if he or she touches it. It doesn't help much for offense, but it's a good defensive tool and it can also encourage your opponent to go on the defensive so you can get some throws in.

• You can juggle an opponent hit by the Lightning Uproar, but you have to time it very carefully. Wait until he or she is just above the ground to attack again.

• The first part of the EMF is very short range. You can only Combo into it from a very short chain.

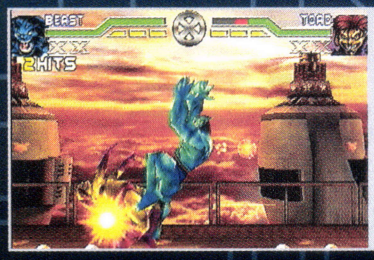
BEAST



Tips and Strategies

• Like Wolverine, Beast has no long-range attacks, but he does have one of the easiest long chain Combos in the game. Keep attacking and you can end almost every Combo with a Super.

• Beast's low Heavy Kick moves forward quickly and leaves you safe. Use it often as a good pressure tactic.

• All three of Beast's Supers hit at about the same range, so you can pick whichever you want to end most Combos. There is slightly better range on the more powerful Supers, but they're all rather similar.

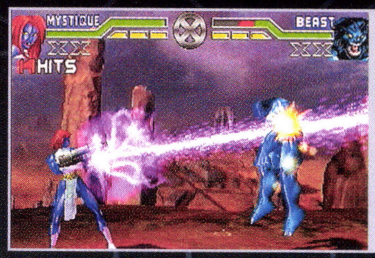
MYSTIQUE



Tips and Strategies

• When Mystique attacks, there's a short lag before her gun actually fires, so it's best to use her at mid to long range. She does have some great close-range Combos, though.

• The Gun Shot fires at different heights; where you shoot depends on which button you are using. LP shoots at the head, MP goes diagonally into the air and HP shoots at the feet. Mix up your shots to confuse your opponent.

• Mystique's Sum Total hits almost instantly, even from full-screen. You can end any Combo with it, or, if your opponent tries any attack from far away, you can easily hit with it. Because it's a beam Super, it even leaves you safe if it's blocked.

SABRETOOTH

Tips and Strategies

• The Ill Treatment is a throw that can grab your opponent from rather far away.

• Sabretooth's Weapon X only heals red (recoverable) damage and is slower than Wolverine's.

• Rampant Strength temporarily increases the damage of all attacks by 50 percent.

• Unlike most other moves, the Ground Pound can be used to repeatedly juggle your opponent. The last Combo listed below does over 100 percent damage; but it requires you to fill all three Super Bars.

MAGNETO

Tips and Strategies

• If your opponent tries to attack from far away, you can use the Magnetic Lift to bring him or her over to you for an easy juggle.

• Unlike all other projectiles, the Lure actually pulls objects towards you from behind your opponent. In a projectile battle, you'll always hit first.

• Magneto's Hyper Magnetic Lift will bring your opponent in front of you and leave him or her momentarily open to attack. Keep in mind, though that this can be blocked and it won't actually lure your opponent to you if it hits in the air.

Kirby Certainly Does Suck

by Phil Theobald
phil_theobald@ziffdavis.com

Well it's about time this game came out. Nintendo has been promising another Kirby game since before the Nintendo 64 was released.

Originally designed as a racing game called "Kirby's Air Ride," Kirby 64 has been reworked time and time again into a traditional Kirby game. That is to say, it's a relatively simplistic side-scrolling action game, but one that has an immense sense of fun about it.

Sure, it's not going to take that long to beat, but did you find all of the Crystals? Some of them are pretty well hidden. Heck, the real fun of this game is playing with all the different abilities that Kirby can get.

You don't see many side-scrollers on the N64, not to mention any good ones. It's too bad Yoshi's Story wasn't as good as Kirby 64. That's bad considering that Kirby both sucks and blows.

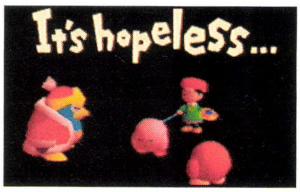
KIRBY 64™ The Crystal Shards

Getting Started

The best thing about the Kirby games is that the more you suck, the better you are. It may sound odd, but it's true. By inhaling certain enemies, Kirby gains powers that not only win battles more easily, but also allow him access to the hidden Crystals. A little experimentation is all you need to find the proper power for whatever situation you find yourself in.



Yeah...thanks for the support, Nintendo. Don't listen to them, though. You can win if you try.

Extra Bonuses

After collecting all the Crystals and beating the game, you open up a few hidden options—these include a Settings menu (where you can change the look of the health meter in the game) a Sound Check (which lets you listen to the game's music and sound effects) and Boss Battles (which lets you challenge all the game's bosses).

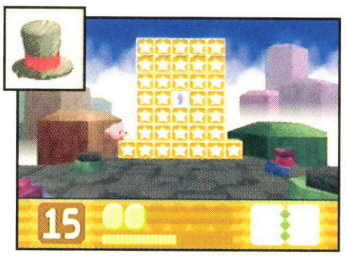
1-Up Loop

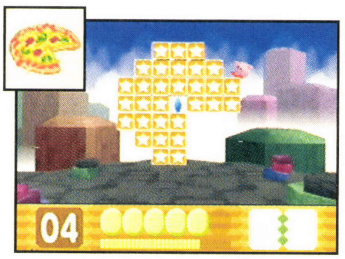
As you probably know, collecting 30 Yellow Stars earns you an extra life, and a Blue Star is worth 10 Yellow Stars (hence, three Blue Stars equals 30 Yellow Stars). Because Blue Stars replace Crystal Shards when you reenter a cleared level, you can return to a level you've already conquered and pilfer its Blue Stars till you get all the 1-Ups you'll ever need. To do ths quickly, go to a level where the Crystal was found near the beginning (Level 1-1, for example). Once you grab the Blue Star, pause the game and choose "Try Again." Next, exit the level, then go right back into it so you can collect another Blue Star. You can repeat this process as often as you like.

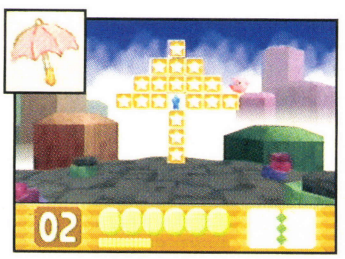
Level 4-3's Block Puzzle

One of the trickier puzzles in the game is the "match the painting" challenge that appears in Level 4-3. In order to find the second Crystal, you need to duplicate one of Adeleine's paintings in a large group of blocks. It can be a bit tricky to get the exact pattern that makes the Crystal appear, so if you need a bit of help, just duplicate the pictures to the right.

You need to be careful that you don't unintentionally break the wrong block. Even with these pictures to help, it's far too easy to inhale or smash the wrong block by accident. If this happens, just reset the blocks by walking off the screen to the left and coming back to the area .





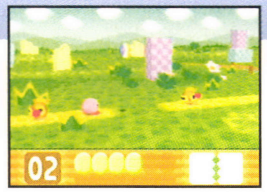


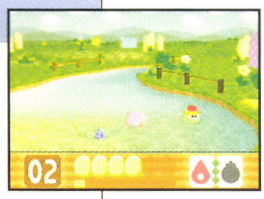
End of Level Picnic

During the picnic minigame at the end of every stage, you have the opportunity to earn Stars, Health, 1-Ups and Enemy Info Cards. The items will be placed in front of Kirby on a picnic blanket. He'll be rotating from left to right, so to make him stop rotating, you'll have to press A. Once he's facing the item you want, Kirby begins to swing his arms as though he's going to jump. Pressing A again will make him jump (he goes farthest when his arms are down and behind him; when they're up in the air, he'll make a short hop). With a bit of practice, you'll make Kirby land on the item you want every time.

Level 1: Pop Star

Stage 1



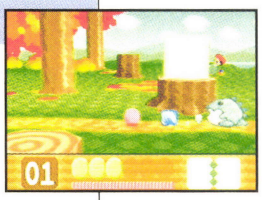


◆ Walk right until you cross a small stream. Continue from there until you reach a white ramp. Once you hop over the ramp, you'll come to a break in the path. The Crystal is in plain sight.

◆ After going through the house, continue right until you reach the stream. Get the bomb ability and destroy the platform in the middle of the stream. The Crystal is hidden underneath.

◆ Go to the end of the level and defeat Waddle Dee to get the Crystal.

Stage 2



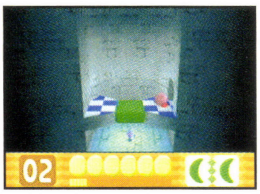
◆ When you get to the area where you ride the platform across the bottomless pit, keep an eye open for the three Stars below. Jump down to collect them and you'll fall right on the Crystal—immediately fly back up to the platform to avoid running out of breath.

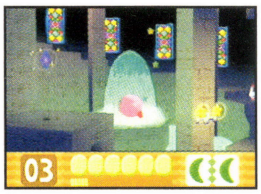
◆ After getting off the platform, go into the hollowed out tree and fall down into it. Defeat the spring mini-boss at the bottom to get the Crystal.

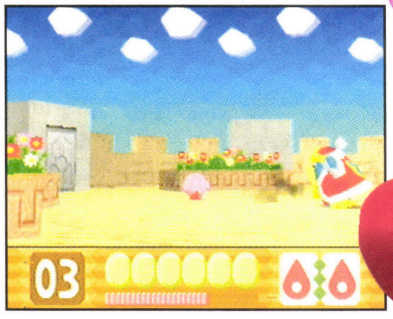
◆ Defeat the mini-boss, Adeleine, at the end of the level to get the final Crystal.

Stage 3

◆ Absorb the powers of two Cutters to get the large boomerang weapon. Go into the castle and go up to the roof. Walk right on the roof until you can drop back down. At the bottom, use the boomerang to break the green block and get the Crystal.





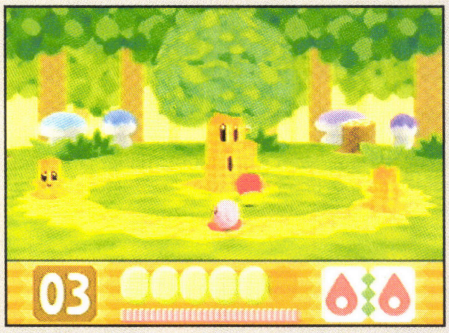


◆ Once you leave the room with Adeleine in it, fly up to the platform above the door you just came out of. The Crystal is on that ledge.

◆ Defeat King Dedede at the end of the level to get the final Crystal.

Boss: Whispy Woods

◆ Attack this tree's roots to earn the Crystal.



Kirby's Abilities

If you want to win this game, you need to know what Kirby can do. Here's his abilities:

Kirby can lob bombs at his foes. Holding down the B button throws the bombs farther.

Kirby turns into a blazing fireball and flies across the screen, burning whatever he touches.

The Cutter power lets Kirby throw his face as a boomerang. It has fairly good range.

Try not to get dizzy as Kirby spins around, spraying freezing breath all around him.

Giant spikes will jut out all over Kirby's body. Enemies will be popped if they touch him.

Kirby becomes conductive and generates a small electrical field around him.

Kirby's body turns to stone, making him invincible (but he won't be able to jump).

Kirby's Abilities

Careful mixing of Kirby's powers can create even more forms. Be cautious.

Hold down the B button to launch as many as three guided missiles from Kirby's body.

Kirby becomes a living firework. Keep hitting B to create more powerful explosions.

Throw an invisible throwing star at your foes—it'll stick and explode after a few seconds.

Kirby becomes a snowman with a bomb for a hat. You can walk for a bit until it explodes.

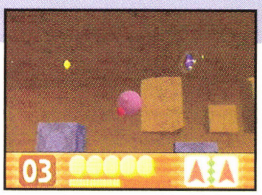
This combo will make Kirby a spiked mine that will explode and launch spikes everywhere.

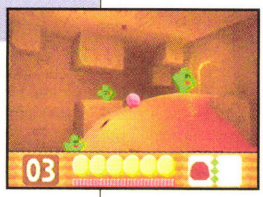
Kirby becomes a glowing bomb—use this combo to illuminate darkened rooms.

Now, Kirby can toss dynamite. Get far away, though, as the blast radius is huge.

Level 2: Rock Star

Stage 1



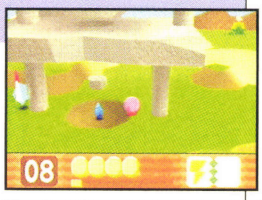


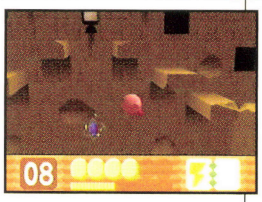
◆ Walk right until you reach the building with the falling eyeball blocks. Fly up directly above the second eyeball block to get the Crystal.

◆ Defeat the cactus miniboss to get the Crystal.

◆ Gain the rock/lightning power-up, then climb up the tower that fills with sand. Once you reach the top and leave the door that Waddle Dee makes, fall down to the surface. There will be a yellow and brown striped wall to the left. Break it with your attack and get the Crystal.

Stage 2





◆ Continue right until you move to a new screen. Head up and around the stone structure—you'll see the Crystal on the ground in the middle of it. To get it, fly up on the right side to a ledge with a small pillar on it. Hop over the pillar and land on the platform below. You'll break through a hole in the floor and fall down to the Crystal.

◆ In the darkened room with the ghosts throwing fireballs at you, head to the middle of the platforms that form a large "X." Drop down the middle to get the Crystal, then fly back up to the ledge.

Stage 3

◆ Go right until you can fall down into the sand whirlpool. When you hit the bottom, walk left and fall down that whirlpool. Defeat the miniboss there and fall down the hole he was blocking. The Crystal is just left of where you land.

◆ Towards the end of the level, when you're swimming up the purple cavern with fossils falling down at you, swim all the way up to the top to get the final Crystal.

Stage 4

◆ Enter the UFO and go up until you see the Crystal in the middle of the screen. Hop through the breaks in the moving colored platforms to get it.

◆ Have the Bomb/Spark power when you get to the room where Adeleine is so you can see her drawings (it will be dark in there). Remember the pictures in order from left to right, then head into the room to the right. In this room, there will be about six blocks—press down on the three blocks you saw from the previous room—in the proper order—and the Crystal appear on the right side of the room.

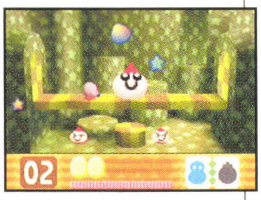
◆ To the right of the room where Adeleine is, there's a room with a ladder in it. Climb the ladder to the room above, then fly to the elevator that's located in the upper-left of the room. The elevator will deposit you in front of the miniboss—defeat him to earn the next Crystal.

Boss: Pix

◆ You can only hurt Pix at the tower's top.

Level 3: Aqua Star

Stage 1

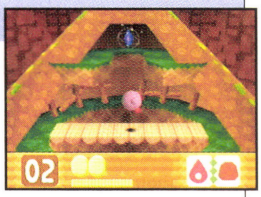


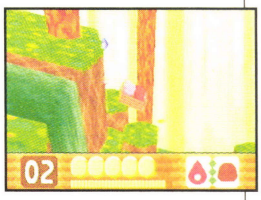
◆ Go to the first cave and use the green blobs to shoot you up to the fourth platform. Fall off the left side of that platform and you'll hit the Crystal on the way down.

◆ Get the Ice/Bomb weapon before you fight the spiked miniboss—you'll need it to get the next Crystal, and you can't get it later. Once you win the miniboss battle, drop down to the hole beneath him to collect the Crystal.

◆ Eventually, you'll get to an area that has drop-through platforms and you'll be able to see the Crystal, which is stuck in a column in the middle of the screen. Drop down to the platform below the main column and use the Ice/Bomb weapon to blow up the black and blue segment. Fall through the gap and use the green blob to launch you to the Crystal.

Stage 2





◆ Gain the Burn/Stone ability before facing the crab miniboss. Once you beat him, the first crystal will appear at the top of the screen. It will be trapped by a checkered block. Break the block and fly up to collect the Crystal.

◆ Soon, Kirby and Waddle Dee will hop in a raft and take a ride down a river. As you cruise along, keep a eye open whenever you go over one of the river's many waterfalls. You'll see the Crystal floating in midair just over the edge of one. Jump up right before you go over the falls to steer your raft into it.

◆ After a while, you'll tumble out of the raft and become separated from Waddle Dee. As you continue to the right, you'll fall down more waterfalls. The last Crystal is hidden at the base of the last waterfall. Walk into the falls to find it.

Stage 3

◆ Be sure to have the Bomb/Cutter before you enter the mountain. Once you have the weapon, climb to the top of the mountain and drop inside. Use your weapon on the left wall of the room you land in to reveal the first Crystal. To get back out, just break the small block in the middle of the room and stand where it was.

◆ First, make sure you get the Cutter/Stone ability, which you'll need to get the third Crystal. Then, seek out King Dedede, who will knock you over to another island. Once you land, continue right and climb up the cliff with the hole in the top. Going down the hole puts you face-to-face with the Cutter miniboss, which you'll have to defeat in order to claim the second Crystal.

◆ Once you defeat the Cutter miniboss, a hole will appear in the left of the room. Go down the hole—after a long drop, you'll land in the room below. To the left of where you land there's a checkered wall, which you can break with the Cutter/Stone ability. Go through the hole you just created and climb up to the ledge to collect the 1-Up. Next, use the ability to transform into Rick the Hamster. Climb the wall to the left of the ledge by pressing against the wall and keep hitting Jump. Eventually, you'll reach the Crystal at the top.

Stage 4

◆ Upon entering the level, immediately float down to the ocean floor and enter the door to the right. Continue through the room, making sure to avoid the boulders that tumble down into the water. The next room you enter is filled with fast-moving currents. Navigate through them to get to the upper-left of the room. In the ceiling up there, you will see a divot containing the Crystal.

◆ From the location of the first Crystal, swim right into the next room. You'll enter a winding tunnel with a strong current pushing you through it. Soon, you'll come to a pole in the room that Kirby will grab onto. From the pole, you'll notice the Crystal to the right. Climb down the pole, rotate around to the right side of it and begin walking across the floor. Once you're directly underneath the Crystal, jump up to collect it.

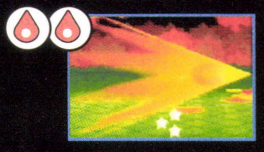
◆ You'll come across a fish miniboss. Defeat it and continue on. In the next area, dodge the rocks that the current throws at you. The last Crystal is in one of the many ditches along the ocean's floor. Fight the current and go into the ditch to get it.

Boss: Arco

◆ Swim to the surface after you defeat this aquatic boss on the ocean floor. He'll attack you again, so knock him out again for a Crystal.

Kirby's Abilities

Many of the hidden Crystals require a specific combo to uncover. Always experiment.

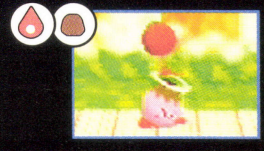


Like the Phoenix, Kirby arises in an explosion of flame and cuts a burning path across the land.

What a useless combo. Kirby becomes an ice cube that instantly melts.

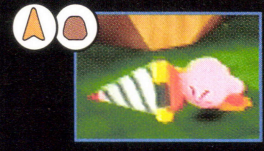
Kirby becomes a bow to shoot flaming arrows. Hold down B to shoot at a higher angle.

This isn't very useful, but it's darn funny: Kirby shines his head until it bursts into flames.



Kirby becomes a volcano and can shoot flaming rocks out of his head.

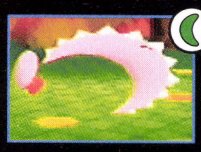
This is Swiss Army Kirby. It's much like the pure Needle form, but more powerful.



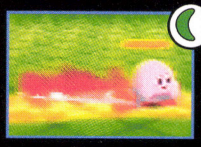
Bore through enemies and certain rock with this drill that can attack left, right and down.

Kirby's Abilities

Remember that you can go back to old levels, get abilities there and continue on.



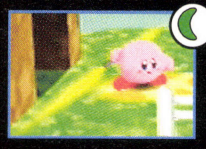
Once again, Kirby's face becomes a boomerang, but it's much larger and spiked now.



Brandish a large flaming sword. Throw it by pressing Up and hitting B.

Kirby performs like a crazed Brian Boitano he dons ice skate and makes deadly spins.

Bear Trap Kirby gains long, spiked arms that shoot out to his sides and snap above him.



Aw, yeah...Kirby gets a double-bladed lightsaber a la Darth Maul. Press Down to turn it off.

Kirby carves himself into one of his many friends from Dream Land 3 (different powers).

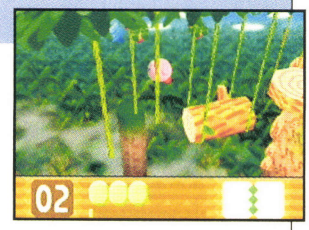
Level 4: Neo Star

Stage 1



◆ From the beginning of the stage, head to the right and make sure not to fall into any of the traps that are scattered along the path (look for different textures on the ground to identify the traps). The first Crystal is hidden in the second to last trap that you encounter before the entrance to the cave.

◆ As soon as you enter the cave, fall down and to the right of the small ledge to claim the second Crystal (this one was easy to find).

◆ You will eventually come to an area where you must cross a series of logs that are suspended from vines. Also in this area are wooden circles that fall once you step on them. Fly into the leaves above the first of these falling platforms to find the third Crystal.

Stage 2

◆ When you first enter the level, you'll begin falling. Lean toward the left of the screen as you fall to intercept the first Crystal. If you accidentally fall past it, quickly fly back up to get it.

◆ After Kirby's long descent, Waddle Dee will accompany you in a mine cart ride. You'll quickly come to a segment of track that splits into two paths. Jump to the upper path and you'll find the Crystal along the way.

Stage 3

◆ Equip yourself with the Burn/Needle or the Stone/Needle weapon when you enter the level. As you walk along the rocky path, you will come across an orange-colored chunk of ground. Use one of the abilities above to break the chunk so you can drop down to collect the Crystal.

◆ Continue walking until you get to the area where Adeleine is standing next to her easel. Take careful note of the picture that she's painted, then proceed to the right. In the next room are a bunch of blocks. To earn the Crystal here, you must break the blocks so the pattern forms a crude match of Adeleine's picture—once you do, the Crystal will appear in the center of your "drawing." If you're having trouble making you picture match perfectly, we've included the solutions on the first page of this guide.

◆ After matching the picture, continue to the right. Eventually, you'll come to cliff, which—of course—you'll have to climb (look for food items that are inside some of the holes in the rock). Once you get to top, walk to the right edge of the cliff. You need to jump over to the red ledge to continue into the level, but before you do, fall down the gap to get the Crystal that's floating in midair.

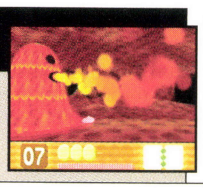
Stage 4

◆ Continue through the level until you hitch a ride on King Dedede's back—he'll carry you through a cave where you must break rock barriers with the King's hammer. Near the end of that area, you'll break through a rock wall that reveals stepping stones in a sea of lava on the other side. Go back to the rock wall you just broke, then jump up and swing with the hammer. You'll break away a small chunk of rock up above and find the hidden Crystal.

◆ You'll need the Ice/Ice ability to find the second Crystal. After getting through the King Dedede section of the level, you'll travel across a long, thin stone road. If you use your ability on this part, you can just roll through it, destroying enemies as you go. In the next room, there are some enemies in the background and a small rock hill in your path. Simply use your ability to roll over the hill and break the it. Guess what's hidden inside...

◆ When you leave the room and head to the right, you'll soon find yourself being chased down by a wall of molten lava. Unless you have absolutely no survival instincts, you'll know what to do: Run away as fast as you can. When you finally get out of that cave, you'll find that the next room begins filling up with lava from the bottom. Immediately fly up and to the left to find the Crystal above one of the many ledges there.

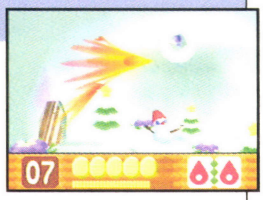
Boss: Magman



◆ Magman may be hot stuff, but stay cool and you will claim this level's final Crystal.

Level 5: Shiver Star

Stage 1

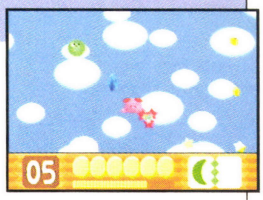


◆ You get to take another ride with Waddle Dee—this time in a toboggan. Pay close attention during the ride, because the Crystal is right on top of a hill. Jump to get it.

◆ You'll need the Burn/Burn ability—it's in the room with the snowman miniboss. Use your fire to beat him, then fly up to the mound of snow that's hanging from the ceiling. Burn through the snow to reveal the Crystal.

◆ After the miniboss room, you'll come to a iced-over lake with a few cracks in it. Fall into the last hole before the end of the area. Once in the water, swim down to the rock wall to the right. There's a hole in the rock that you can swim through. Continue swimming to the right and claim the Crystal that's just past a few jellyfish creatures.

Stage 2



◆ You will be walking on clouds as soon as you begin the level (you're shot up there). In the first area, you will come to a part where you must jump across small platforms with multi-colored stars on them. Stay on the first of these platforms (it has yellow and blue stars on it), then drop down to the left to the nearly hidden cloud below. Walk left on this cloud to find the Crystal.

◆ From the first Crystal, proceed to the right until you reach the area where you find one of the green blobs. Hop into the blob so it will shoot you upward. Find the next blob and do the same. Then, when you find the rotating blob, launch yourself when its eyes are facing up and to the left—you'll fly right into the Crystal.

◆ Be sure to grab the Needle/Spark ability on your way to the miniboss. Defeat it and use the lighting rod ability to blast open the box surrounding the Crystal in the same room as the boss.

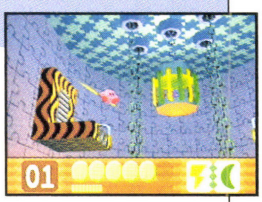
Stage 3

◆ Walk right into the building with all the conveyer belts and begin riding them up. When you hop on the fifth belt (it's travelling up and to the right), jump off and fly to the platform to the left. The Crystal awaits you there.

◆ Continue on and you'll reach some elevators. Ride them until you get to the miniboss—simply defeat it to earn a Crystal.

◆ When you arrive in the room where Adeleine is, wait for her to draw her pictures on the glass that she's behind. After you memorize what they are, proceed in to the next room. To make the final Crystal appear, you need to press down the buttons that correspond to the color of the objects that she's painted (if she painted a lemon, for example, press down the yellow button).

Stage 4



◆ Move downward into the level, making sure to pick up the Stone/Needle ability along the way. Soon, you'll come to an area where you must jump down through platforms while cannons shoot at you from the left of the screen. Through the narrow passages to the right of the cannons, you'll see the first Crystal blocked by some brown blocks. Use your ability to drill through the blocks on each level, clearing a path to the Crystal. Once the blocks all gone, you can walk through the lowest passage and climb a ladder to the Crystal.

◆ Continue deeper into the level and collect the Cutter/Spark weapon. At last you will reveal yourself to the firebird miniboss; at last you will have revenge. When you defeat it, head up to the top of the room where you fought it. Use your lightsabre to cut open the cage containing the Crystal.

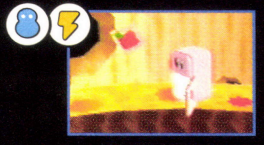
◆ Go to the area where you're running away from the glowing yellow walls of energy; keep dodging the walls until you get to the level where you're dodging the fourth wall. Instead of flying up to the next level, run quickly to the right, grab the Crystal and then fly to the next tier.

Boss: HR-H

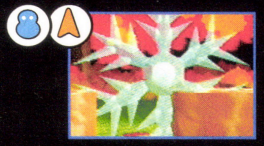
◆ Once you defeat the robot boss's first form, HR-H, it will transform into another form, this one called HR-E. Finish off both forms to get the Crystal.

Kirby's Abilities

Sometimes it's best to lose a power and fight certain enemies with Kirby's basic skills.

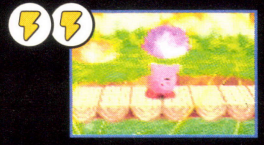


Gain health back by turning into a refrigerator and spitting out three food items.

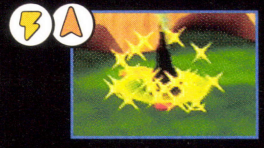


Kirby changes into an ice crystal that continues to expand the longer you hold the B button.

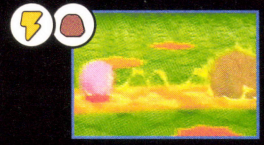
Transform Kirby into a curling stone. Now, he can slide around and turn foes to ice.



A sphere of lightning surrounds Kirby. Moving around causes it to contract back towards him.



Kirby turns into a lightning rod and is hit by an electric bolt that wipes out nearby enemies.

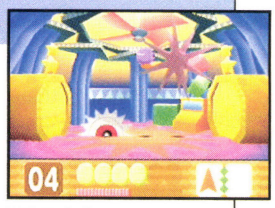


A giant boulder, tethered to Kirby by a bolt of electricity, begins bouncing around.

This is exactly like Kirby's stone form, only this time Kirby also grows much larger.

Level 6: Ripple Star

Stage 1



◆ Head to the right and you will soon walk over a small bridge. The first Crystal is hovering in the air just to the right of the bridge.

◆ If you start heading to the right of the first Crystal, you'll reach a building. Go inside and defeat the buzz-saw miniboss to claim the second Crystal.

◆ You'll need the Needle/Bomb ability to find the last Crystal. Once you defeat the miniboss, keep walking to the right. Near the end of the level, you'll come across a small stream with an orange block sitting in the middle of it. Use your ability to blow up the block so you can collect the Crystal underneath.

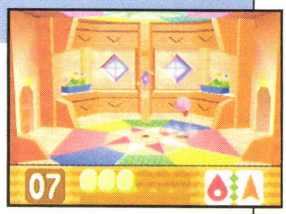
Stage 2

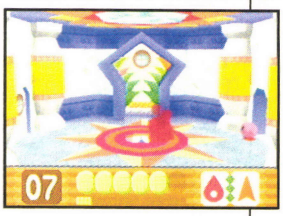
◆ Get the Spark ability before entering this level; once you get it, walk to the right until you see Waddle Dee directing you down a hole. Jump down the hole to the pool of water below. Just underneath the surface is a yellow block. Shock it with your power to get the Crystal.

◆ Ditch the Spark ability as soon as you can, then get Cutter—you'll need it for the third Crystal. Swim through the tunnels until you reach land. King Dedede will help you pass a fallen boulder and you'll climb down through holes in the floor back into the water. Upon reentering the water, swim directly to the left through a hidden tunnel in the rock to find the second Crystal.

◆ From the second Crystal, swim to the upper-right to get out of the water and enter the door there. You'll come across Adeleine and her trusty easel and canvas. She'll give you a lollypop that makes you invincible and allows you to easily burst through the blocks in the halls next to her. A bit below her, you'll see the third Crystal, but it's blocked off by a green pillar. Use the Cutter ability to knock the pillar away.

Stage 3



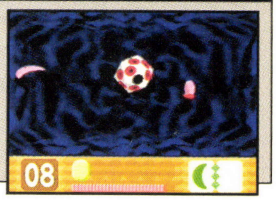


◆ The first Crystal here is pretty easy to get. Head to the right and you'll become trapped in a room where several small enemies appear—simply defeat them to make the Crystal appear. While you're fighting, though, get the Burn/Needle combo—you'll need it in a bit.

◆ Head out of the room and walk up the steps—you'll enter a room with rapidly appearing enemies. Defeat them all, then head up another flight of stairs that lead to another room where you must face a barrage of minor foes. Once you rid this room of all the pests, launch a fire arrow into the sun design on the floor—it will burn away, revealing the second Crystal.

◆ Keep going up the stairs and enter the room that's two doors down from where you just were. Wipe out all the flying enemies in that room and the third Crystal is yours. Pretty easy, eh?

Boss: Miracle Matter



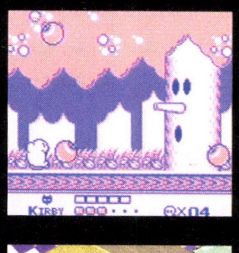
◆ The boss of this level, Miracle Matter, will morph into many forms and use every power against you. Defeat it to get the Crystal.

Kirbys of Days Past

Good ol' Kirby's been around for almost 10 years now, and he's made appearances on four different systems. While Kirby 64 may be the latest, here's the games that make up Kirby's past.

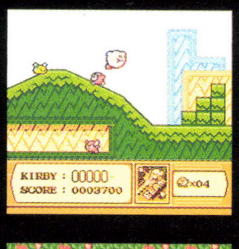
Kirby's Dream Land
Game Boy - 1992

The original Kirby adventure was one of the best Game Boy games at the time.



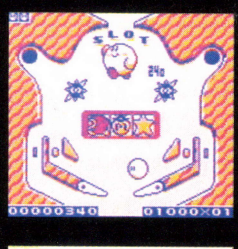
Kirby's Adventure
NES - 1993

Soon after his Game Boy hit, Kirby made his way to Nintendo's classic 8-bit machine.



Kirby's Pinball Land
Game Boy - 1993

Kirby's first non-platform game finds him as the ball in a wacky pinball adventure.



Kirby's Dream Course
Super NES - 1994

Kirby busted onto the SNES with this bizarre game that played like mini-golf.

Kirby's Avalanche
Super NES - 1995

This game is a rockin' fun version of the classic puzzle game Puyo-Puyo. Squishy!

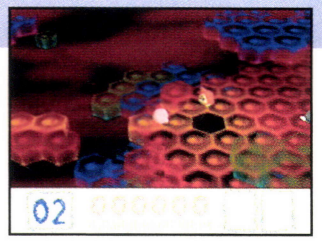
Kirby's Dream Land 2
Game Boy - 1995

Finally, a true sequel to the original Kirby game. It introduces Kirby's animal pals.

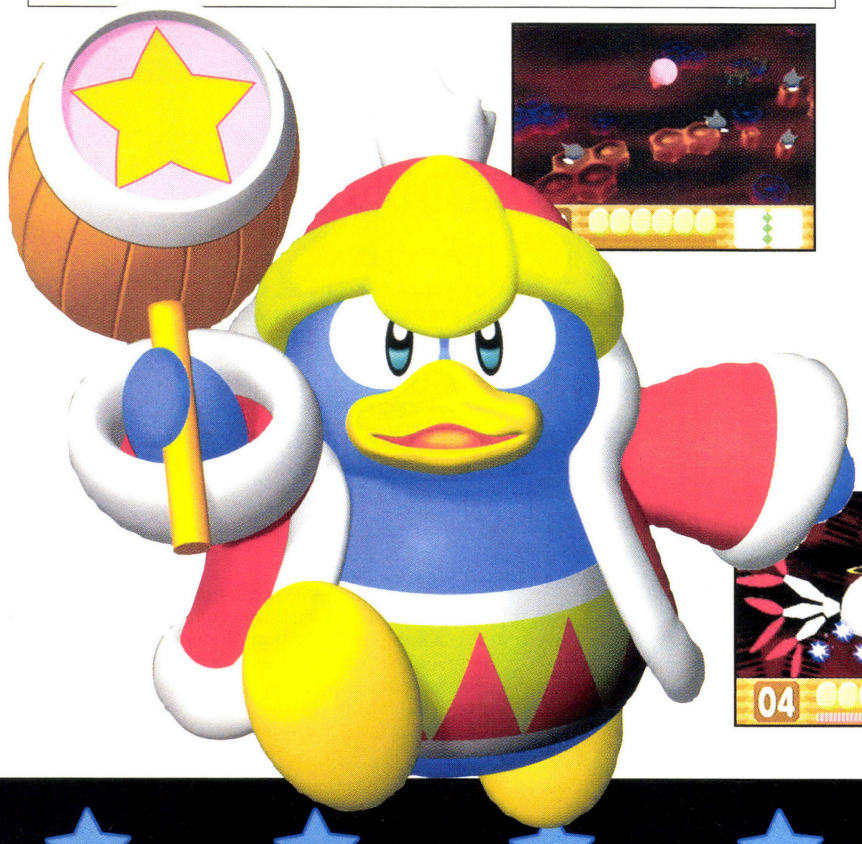
Level 7: Dark Star

Stage 1

◆ This lone stage in Dark Star is quite easy. As you head to the right, all of your friends will appear to help out in their own ways. There aren't many enemies to contend with, so you should have no problem. The simplicity of the stage is countered by the tricky final boss you'll encounter at the end of the level.



In order to get to Dark Star, you must collect all the Crystals from the past stages and defeat the final boss on Ripple Star. A cinema will play that reveals the circumstances behind the creation of Dark Star. From there, Kirby and company must face their most dangerous foe yet.



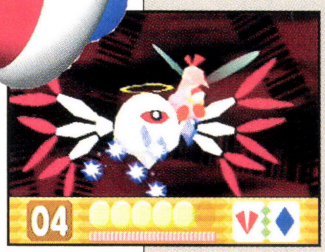
Final Boss: O^2

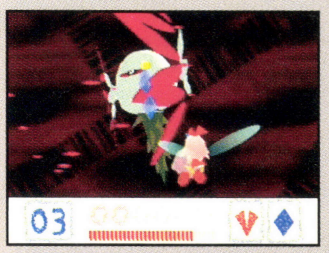
◆ When you confront O^2, Ribbon (the fairy who's been collecting the Crystals from you) hops onto your back and the two of you wield the Crystal Wand.

◆ Begin by shooting O^2 in its eye. This can be difficult, because it shoots energy at you that will block your shots and damage you if it makes contact.

◆ Once you get a shot through to the eye, use the L and R Shoulder buttons to rotate yourself so you're looking down at O^2's halo. Unload the Crystal Wand on it until it explodes.

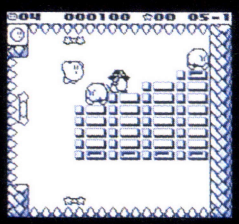
◆ At this point, a large, gas-spewing root will grow from underneath O^2. Rotate around to face it, then fire away (making sure to dodge the gas). This attack will damage O^2, but you won't have much time to do it. After a bit, the root will disappear and O^2 will begin shooting from its eye again. Repeat the entire process until O^2 is destroyed.





Kirby's Block Ball
Game Boy - 1996

Kirby continues to expand his interests with this Arkanoid-style game.



Kirby Super Star
Super NES - 1996

Kirby's first SNES platform game was made up of several smaller adventures.

Kirby's Star Stacker

Released only in Japan, this is a much prettier version of the Game Boy game.

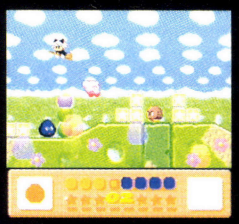
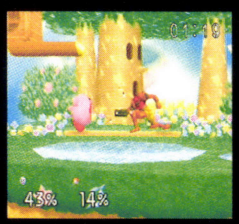
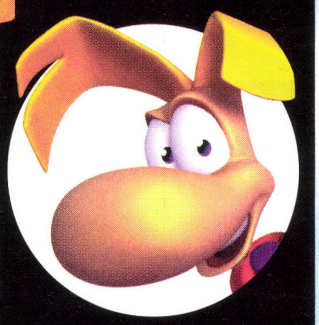
The Dream Land series moves onto the SNES with very enhanced graphics.



Super Smash Bros.
Nintendo 64 - 1999

Kirby makes a welcome cameo (and his first N64 appearance) in this great fighter.





Sweet Baby Ray...man

by Ray LeWan
ray_lewan@ziffdavis.com

Jump, jump, kids, kids, oh what a relief it is...to sit down and play a side-scroller that brings back memories of my childhood days with the NES.

Yes friends, there is definitely something satisfying about popping the batteries in the GBC and taking a break from all the gratuitous 3D action that we have gotten so accustomed to.

Rayman has the epic battle that has been carried down through the ages. Light vs. Dark; Good vs. Evil. You have the basic superhero task in front of you. Go out and overcome tremendous odds in order to save the world.

You better suck it up, because all the Toons are counting on you. It's not a hop, a skip, and a jump to victory. It is exactly 397 hops, 421 skips and 560 helicopter glides to victory. Don't come back until the game is 100 percent complete, OK?

RAYMAN

No Arms, No Legs, No Problem!

Rayman proves once and for all that you don't need limbs to be a success in the superhero biz. His unattached fists and feet turn out to be quite an advantage. For example, not even Batman can throw out his own fist or pivot 360 degrees with both feet on the ground. Rayman is the ideal dude to save the Toons' universe, and you should have fun helping him do it.

You Have to Beat the Game Before You Can Beat the Game?

You heard that right everybody, you can't finish the game 100 percent through the first time around. There are Cages in early levels that simply aren't attainable without the powers you will earn later in the game. You must carry on and leave them behind, with the promise you will return after taking out Mr. Dark. Once you have beaten the game, a world map opens and you can return to the necessary levels one by one. The text sections highlighted in red are the areas you must return to in order to get the remaining cages.

Trust Your Ears

Game music is important, but in Rayman, the music and sound effects are crucial. Your ears will reveal secrets your eyes can't even see yet. When the music changes to the serious tone, you know a Cage is nearby. And when you hear chimes, it can mean anything from a new passage opening up to a 1-Up appearing. Whenever you hear a mysterious sound, be sure to investigate!

Take Lessons from Solid Snake?

Rayman is the type of game in which the main focus is exploration, not decapitation. Your struggle for the most part is with the environment, not the enemies, so plan accordingly. Many times you are best off just dodging your foes completely.

Some-Ting Good

The Tings are the tiny little fairies in the magical red globes. Love them and cherish them, for they are your guiding light through the evil world of Mr. Dark. They open up certain new passages for you and act as a "living map" that leads you to victory. Whenever you hear a chime, give a look-see around— the Tings are telling you something important is nearby!

The Invisible Man

In many games, when your character takes a hit, he is invincible for a short while. After getting hit in Rayman, you are transparent and invincible for a rather long while (almost four seconds!). USE THIS TO YOUR GREAT ADVANTAGE. Run through fire, jump through enemies or walk over spikes. You don't take any damage while transparent. Yes!

Superhero Powers

Helicopter

This is probably the most useful ability in the game. After you jump, press A in the air to activate your helicopter. It enables you to glide across long jumps and reach places you otherwise couldn't. Once you have this power, you will never want to play without it again.

Grapple

Once you have this, you can grab and swing from all the flying rings you come across. Press B to punch and grab the rings, then use A to jump off and release. The farther away you are from a ring when you punch it, the faster you swing and the farther you will be able to jump off. Experiment for best results.

Super-Helicopter

This power is only utilized in a select few of the levels. It is an unlimited helicopter and you never need to land. Repeatedly press A to keep flying. You will need to navigate through many tough spots while using this, so the timing of your A-button presses is very important!

Gold Fist

This "super-fist" makes Rayman's punch faster, stronger and able to go much farther. This is not really a huge necessity, but it really comes in handy. It is especially useful for long and complicated flying ring jumps. There are many of these scattered around. Listen for the Tings!

Auto-Hang

You have this ability from the start. Instead of having to jump on top of a platform, all you have to do is jump close to the edge. Rayman will automatically grab the edge and hang down.

Spellbound Forest

POST GAME REQUIRED

Welcome to the world of Rayman. Your journey begins in this wonderful lush forest. You have only your basic abilities, so this is a good time to master your jumping and exploration skills. Train well—it will soon get harder!

Level 1

■ Follow the Tings over the platforms and vines to the right until you reach the bottom corner of the map. Here you will find the Ubi Key. Use the swinging plum to exit the level to the upper-right.

Level 2

■ Walk a tad to the right. (Chime.) Use the new lilies to the left to get up to Cage 1. You can only get it when you have the Helicopter power.
■ Go right until you find the bouncing plum. Punch it left for the Bonus Map; punch it right to float to Cage 2.
■ Go far right until you come to a stationary swinging plum. Use it to jump up to the level exit.

Water Level

In water levels, the screen moves automatically and you are forced to move quickly as you avoid the wild storm of H2O that is chasing your tail. Usually you need to zig zag upward in a left-right sequence, doing a variety of platform jumps and vine climbs along the way. Don't rush, and make sure you know where you are going before you move.

Level 4

■ Go right and punch the hanging plum into the water. Ride it to the first green platform you come to and jump off. (Chime.) Jump on the new left lily and go up. Punch the swinging plum and use it to jump up. Head right, timing your jumps carefully. There is a Bonus Map in the upper-right corner.
■ Go down a bit onto the lily and punch the hanging plum on your way down. Float right, dodging all the fish, and climb up the the first vine you come to. Head right to the small lake and jump over it. (Chime.) Go left to find a duplicate lake. (Chime.) Walk back to the right and use the new lily to hop over the wall. You got the Cage!
■ Go back down and to the right, punch down the hanging plum, then ride it past the spiky balls. While on the plum, you can control the direction you float—whatever direction you face is the direction you float. Ride the next lily up and go left to a rock wall. (Chime.) Use the new lily to your right to get up to the level exit. Nice job!

Airy Tunes

POST GAME REQUIRED

This is the first time you can slide, so focus—you need to react fast to all the traps that will greet you. Push Down or Forward on the D-Pad to speed up while on a slope. Also, you will need to ride vertical trumpets. To move while riding one, simply punch the opposite direction of where you want to go!

Level 1

The flying signpost is your guide through this level. Use him to keep on track.

■ Follow the signpost to Cage 2. Go right of the Cage and use the hill to slide left, then jump up to the Cage.
■ Follow the guide right and then left after the totem blocks. The trumpet will blast you up to the level exit in the left corner.

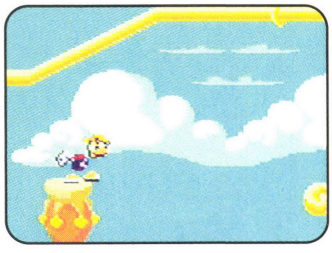
■ Follow the Ting path to the right and then to the left where you will fall down a few short slides. Go right—Cage 1 is in the lower-right corner (you need the Helicopter power).



■ Jump up and use the trumpets to zig zag you upward. The third trumpet on the right will blow you to the left across to a long path. You need to jump off the hill left to reach the higher ledge. Go right to find Cage 2.
■ Go back left and cross the long music note pit. Use the vertical trumpet to get higher, then go right, left, right to finish the level.

■ Follow the path right until you come to two sliding clouds. Jump down between them into the hole in the notes and proceed left to the Bonus Map.
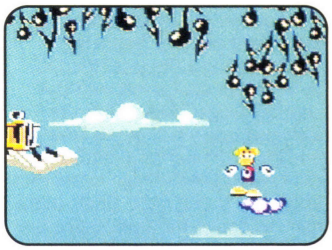
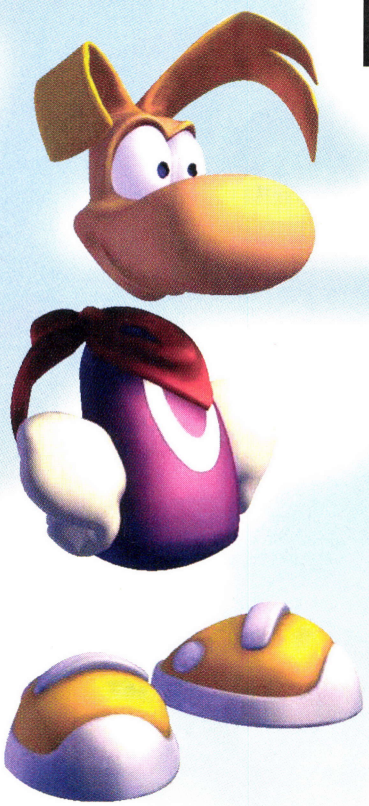
■ Go down, then right until you come to three little blue enemies. Follow the Ting path to the level exit, but don't go to it yet. Hang down onto the cloud and go to Cage 2 in the upper-right corner.
■ Fall straight down from the Cage to land on the cloud that will take you back to the level exit.

Level 4

■ Go up and ride the vertical trumpet, then go right. Follow the Ting path down until you come to the piano keys. Take the lower path and go down and left to Cage 1. Go left to the start of the level.
■ Hop on the new cloud to go up. Take the upper piano key path this time and ride the vertical trumpet up. Use the left trumpet to blow you up to the ledge with three spiky balls. Slide left to Cage 2, where you will need the Helicopter power.



■ Go left and ride the vertical trumpet up, then go right to find a falling totem that lets you get the Bonus Map. Go back up and to the right to reach the level exit.



Rainy Forest

POST GAME REQUIRED

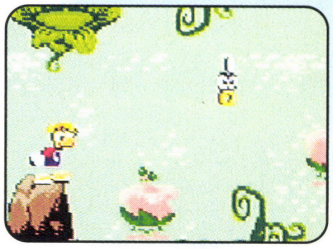
Ah! Finally you have earned the awesome Helicopter power. You will need to use this ability extensively—so quickly hone your gliding skills. Rainy Forest is a good place to practice; just make sure you know what you are landing on. A lot of the foliage is just for decoration, so don't jump on flowers that are part of the background.

Level 1

■ Follow the Tings to the right. The Bonus Map is to the right of the three vines you come to.
■ To the left is a flying ring that leads to Cage 1 (you'll need the Grapple power).
■ Follow the Tings to the far right floating lilies. After riding them to the right (Chime), use the new lily to the left to carry you up. Go left to Cage 2.
■ Go back to the right and a new lily will bring you to the level exit.

Level 2

■ Go up the green flower platforms and let the moving lily carry you up. Follow the Ting path to the right to the ledge between the two swinging spiky balls. Hang, punch the plum into the water, then float right to Cage 1.
■ Continue right to the flying ring. Cage 2 is only attainable with the Grapple power.



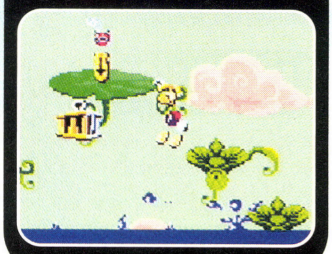
■ Now head to the upper-right corner to find the level exit. If you jump quick enough, you can dodge all three falling spiky balls.

Level 3

Water Level

Once again, your water level skills are put to test. You will go upward in the usual zig zag fashion. Be extra careful in the timing of your swinging plum jumps, and don't jump onto the falling lilies too early or you will have problems!

■ Get up to the top, but don't run to the exit yet. The Cage appears below the lily pad, so hang down and save the Toons.



Rocky Peaks

POST GAME REQUIRED

This may be the most confusing world in the game. There are many tricky routes you have to take, and the slippery terrain can make the going rough. You can slide and use the Helicopter power, which enables you to reach some far places. See what you can find!

■ Go right and use the bouncing cloud to reach the Ting above your head. (Chime.) The cloud to the left lets you get the Bonus Map.
■ Go right over the bouncing clouds and use the last cloud to bounce you up. Go left over the slippery ledge, then punch the swinging spiky ball out of your way and go to the right. Go left and up until you reach the high cloud that takes you to the right. Duck, jump, duck to dodge the spiky balls. Go up the clouds, then go left to find a flying ring and the Cage. Stop back here with the Grapple power!
■ Slide down to the right, then head for the level exit that is in the bottom left corner.

■ Go up and then left to the four stalagtites. Climb up the one to the far left. (Chime). Go up and follow the cloud path left to the heart refill. (Chime.) Use the new cloud to jump up to the ledge above you (the cloud will drift to the right first, then come back left so you can jump up). Fall left to Cage 1.
■ Follow the Tings to the right, then fall to the beginning of the level.
■ Jump onto the new cloud and ride it down and go left past the swinging spiky ball. Next, go down the moving clouds and follow the path around. Fall down under the moving spiky ball and go right past another swinging spiky ball. Follow the path to a new cloud (Chime) and ride it up to the beginning of the level.
■ Hop on the cloud to your right and follow the clockwise Ting path all the way around until you come to another new cloud. (Chime.) Ride up and use the clouds to the right to cross the long spike bed. Slide and jump left over the ledges, then take the upper path to slide and jump back to the right. Finally, head left to the level exit.

Level 3

Super Helicopter

■ Follow the Ting path to the right and down. Go through the long passageway left, grabbing the Tings in the ceiling indents (you will hear a Chime in each one). Up the newly opened passage is Cage 1.
■ Follow the left path past all the spiky balls. The high ceiling passage has the Bonus Map.

■ Ride the low cloud left to Cage 2.
■ Go back right and follow the curve up to the level exit.

Level 4

■ Head up to the moving cloud and go right down the path. Slide down to the right and glide over the huge spike pit. Continue up to the cloud that carries you left through all the spiky balls. To the left is a flying ring with Cage 1. You know the drill: Come back later with the Grapple power.

■ Ride the cloud left past two swinging spiky balls and then go down to a long fall. Follow the Tings right to a new cloud. Duck during ride and go right to Cage 2!
■ When the cloud to your left brings you up, slide out to the left. Fall down to the Tings and then ride the cloud left to the level exit.

Ancient Forest

You are now complete as a man...er Rayman. You just got the Grapple power and you can go anywhere with it. Use this power in combination with the Helicopter to explore everywhere and find everything! Don't get too excited, though; you still have many hard levels ahead before you can trounce Mr. Dark for good.

The Force Is with You

Now that you have both of your super abilities, you can get every Cage from here on out. You have three more levels to go; after you defeat Mr. Dark, the world map opens up and you can go back and reclaim all the Cages you had initially left behind. Good luck!

Level 1

■ Go up to the sleeping trumpet and punch it to reach the upper ledge. Note: If you jump above the trumpet at the perfect time, the air will hit you at the peak of your jump, sending you much higher. Punch the hanging plum onto the walking stone-man's head. Use him to jump up and follow the Ting path right to the bouncing plum. Hop on and punch it left, riding down and gliding over the trumpets to the right. Go right and ride the falling flying ring down. Jump off to the left to get the Bonus Map.

■ Go back left across the flying rings to the level exit. This big level is now over!

Level 2

■ Go right until you come to a sleeping trumpet, then go up and follow the path until you reach the blowing trumpets. Next, go right and follow the Ting path down the pit. Go left across the thorn bed and then go right to the swinging plum. Ride the lily under the thorns and go left to the sleeping trumpet. Use him to glide over the thorns and make sure to hit the plum on your way down. Punch it left and use it to get up to the flying ring. Swing left to Cage 1.

■ Go right and stop on the first green platform you come to. Fall off the right side and get down to the Ting—the lily will carry you left to Cage 1.

■ Jump up and proceed to the right. Follow the path down and you will come to a lily that will carry you far to the right. Use the sleeping trumpet to blow you up, then go left until you reach the wall. Go right up to the swinging plum, jump off left, then punch down the hanging plum (punch it down and left so you can jump on the column). Follow the Tings left and down, then hop over the level exit. Use the sleeping trumpet to get you right, then swing left to get Cage 2. Fall back down to get to the level exit.

Fiery Depths

Get ready for a struggle—this world has some of the toughest terrain in the game. You are constantly avoiding spikes, fire and lava, so your jumps and glides all need to be precise. You may die often at first, but you know what they say, "What kills you only makes you stronger." Right?

Level 1

■ Go up and right, then ride the moving bat-ring to the top. Head left, then follow the path to the right. Next, continue through the spikes, swing to the second flying ring, and from there, glide under the spikes through the bottom path. To the right is Cage 1.

■ Go back out, then head right and drop down on top of the second falling rock you come to—jump left before you hit the ground to avoid the lava. Crawl past all the flames and follow the path to Cage 2.

■ Go all the way to the right and ride the moving bat-ring up. Move up past the swinging spiky ball, then follow the Ting path to the left. Head to the upper-right corner to find the level exit.

Level 2

■ Go left, then follow the winding path up and to the right—you will need to go under a swinging spiky ball. Go right and get the Ting under the spiky ball moving up and down. (Chime.) Go right and ride up the moving bat-ring, then follow the path left to reach Cage 1.

■ Go right and follow the looping Ting path around until you come to the Bonus Map in the lower-left corner.

■ Head right past the flames and go up past the two swinging spiky balls. Go to the right and then go up the two moving bat-rings until you reach the right wall. Jump on the first platform—when it moves up, fall off it down to the left and land on the lower moving platform. Fall down to a lower platform and use your Helicopter to glide left over the long lava pit. You will need to get the low Ting (Chime), then use the new platform to reach Cage 2.

■ Go back up the two moving platforms you came down on by the right wall and follow the Ting path left to the level exit.

Level 3

Lava Level

This is just like the two water levels. Now there are flying rings to move you on your way, so watch where you swing!

■ Halfway up the level is the Cage—look for it on the left side of the map (there's two Tings giving it away). It's a blind leap of faith, but you can glide to the Cage with no problems. The lava stops when you go to the Cage, then it re-starts again when you continue upward.

■ Keep going up until you find the level exit. Hot enough for ya?

Level 4

Super Helicopter

■ Follow the Ting path up and to the right, then almost down to the bottom. Curve back up and tap A fast enough to evade the row of spiky balls following you. Spiky balls will now chase you to the right. (Chime.) Go back left to find the Cage.

■ Follow the looping Ting path to the right, then come back left past the four moving spiky balls. Follow the path left and go up the tunnel with the moving spiky balls to find the Bonus Map.

Arcane Forest

It seems Mr. Dark knows you are getting close, because he has bumped up the difficulty a notch—this forest has two of the hardest levels in the game. It may take a good deal of practice to conquer the Dark Rayman level and the Reverse Level, but you can handle the challenge, right?

Level 1

■ Go right and hop on the swinging plum. (Chime.) Fall left onto the Tings and the lilies will take you to Cage 1.

■ Go back, then follow the path until you reach the far right wall. Move up by jumping on the lilies. Slide down twice and then go left. Use the lily to pass the two swinging spiky balls. Continue to the far left wall and hop on the left vine. (Chime.) Fall left onto the lily to get to Cage 2. Charge up your punch on the way down and face to the right so you can break open the Cage in one trip.

■ Go back up and to the right to find the level exit. Jump over it and land on the lily to reach the Bonus Map.

Level 2

■ Slide down and follow the Ting path by using the moving lilies. Walk right past the three falling spiky balls (Chime), then go back left and drop down to get Cage 1.

■ Jump up and continue to the right. Follow the path to the swinging plum, then pass the two swinging spiky balls. Follow the Tings down and you will land on a slide. Jump off to the right and go to Cage 2 in the lower-right corner.

■ Go up and left, then cross the pit with the flying rings. You will see a hanging plum—knock it down and punch it left. Go left, slide down and use the flying rings to cross the spiky pit. Use the sleeping trumpet to reach the flying ring, then swing up to the level exit.

Level 3

Dark Rayman

This level has no Cages or Bonus Maps. You must "simply" evade the evil copy of yourself and get to the level exit before he can catch you. One hit from him will kill you, so be careful! This is also a one-shot deal. There are no check points, so you need a perfect run to come out on top. This one may take some practice, so learn the level and show Dark Rayman what's up!

Reverse Level

■ Go right until you come to a lily and jump on. (Chime.) Ride back up onto the new lily and slide down left twice. Climb up and use the flying rings to carry you to the Cage (stay attached to the second flying ring; it moves to the right.)

■ Go down and follow the Tings to the right. Use the sleeping trumpet to get up, then get the heart refill to the left (Chime); this will spawn lilies on the other side of the rock wall that will bring you to the Bonus Map.

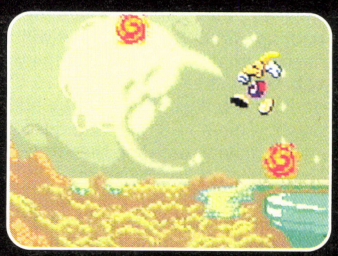
■ Go right and zig zag down the slides, then go left across the falling lilies and swing right to the level exit.

Mr. Dark

This is the only boss battle you will encounter in the whole game. Although your focus has so far been about exploration, now you must test out your fighting skills. You should have him in no time!

Get Him!

Mr. Dark has a simple pattern: He will attack first, then transform into a ball and fly around. While he is in ball form, you must punch him three times, making him smaller each time. The top platform is the best spot to jump around and punch his moving ball form. If you don't hit him fast enough, he will change back into human form and repeat the previous attack. After you punch his ball three times, he will attack again and repeat the pattern. Complete the cycle three times and Mr. Dark is toast! Note: After each cycle, a heart refill will appear on the top platform—save the Hearts until you need them!



1 Mr. Dark will first drop down a storm of small fireballs—these can be dodged by simply moving left or right on the bottom platform. Now punch his ball!

2 His next attack is a barrage of bigger fireballs that come in sets of two. Go up to the top platform, jump over the first fireball and land on the middle platform. His second fireball will miss you, so jump back onto the top platform and repeat the dodge pattern. Now punch his ball!

3 Now he throws lightning. Start on the top platform, and when the lightning is in the air, jump over and down to the bottom platform. When he throws lightning there, jump back up to Platform 3. Repeat this dodge pattern. Now punch his ball!

■ Mr. Dark is no more! Make sure you write down the last password and then turn off the game after you watch the credits. Turn the game back on and enter in the password to continue.

Extra! Extra! Read All About It!

Rayman really goes the extra mile to show you that he's not a slacker. After saving the Toons' universe and getting the precious 100 percent rating, good ol' Rayman dives back into the action for more. Getting every Cage and reaching 100 percent unlocks Dark Legacy. Read on—there's still more!

Dark Legacy

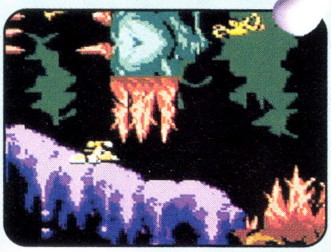
We hope you are prepared, because these extra levels are more complicated than what you've had to go through thus far. You must combine all your powers together to effectively clear the tough terrain, so you better have them mastered by now. There are no Cages or Bonus Maps; these levels are just for kicks (and for unlocking the Time Attack Mode). Try to have fun, OK?

Level 1

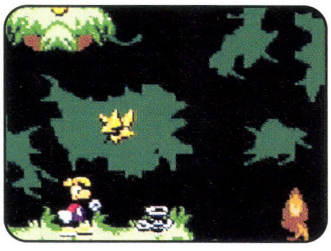
■ Go pretty far to the right and then follow the Ting path back to the left. Go up past the swinging spiky ball; after sliding down, hurry left to avoid the spiky ball chasing you. Follow the Ting path down and ride the moving platform over the spikes to the right wall. Go up the platforms you come to. Take the lower-right path and glide down to a special Ting. (Chime.)

■ Go back up through the cleared path and use the flying rings to cross the large spiky pit. Go down and follow the path to the Ting at the far left wall. (Chime.) The level exit just appeared above your head! Jump up to it!

Level 2



■ You start by falling onto a slide, so duck! Go up onto the moving lilies and ride them to the upper-right ledge, then slide to the right and ride the falling flying ring down. Continue going left and around the loop to the right until you reach the moving bat-ring. Take him up and follow the Ting path through all the spiky passages. Use the flying rings to cross the long pit to the left. When you reach the sleeping trumpet, you are at the level exit. Go up!



Level 3

■ Follow the Ting path around the green ledges and make your way to the right. Punch the swinging spiky ball and then loop over it (Chime) to clear the blocked path. Fall down and follow the path left, slide down and glide across the pit, then ride the bat-ring up. Jump off onto the lily and duck through the tight spikes.

■ Slide down to the right, then climb back up and follow the Ting path around the bend by grappling all the flying rings. (Chime.) Hop on the new lily and ride it straight up, then move fast around the curve to avoid the spiky balls chasing you. Slide down and follow the path of the falling platforms to reach the level exit.

Level 4

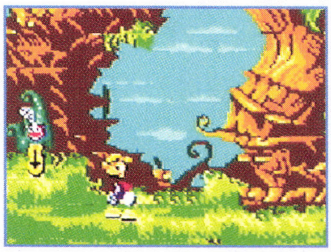
Super Helicopter

■ Follow the Ting path, being careful to dodge all the fire. A spiky ball blocks the road, so you will need to get three Tings in the corners of the spikes (you'll hear a Chime after each one). Proceed to the right and loop around the swinging spiky ball. (Chime.) A new Ting path appears to lead you down, with a new open path to the left. Go get the Ting at the end of the left path, then go back right where a new Ting path will lead you to a far left heart refill. Grab the heart and follow the Tings through the new right path. Go up past the bats and follow the path left and down. Grab the Tings and then go up and follow the path to the swinging spiky ball—punch it out of your way and go up to the level exit. You da man!

Wait, There's More!

Time Attack

Once you have cleared all of the Dark Legacy levels, the Time Attack Mode is waiting for you. Here you can retry all of the Bonus Maps you encountered during the game. You can build up countless 1-Ups or compete with your friends to see who can get the fastest time. Replay value!



If you want to exit the Time Attack and get your password, go to this level exit in the bottom-left corner.

The Ubi Key

Still looking for something to do? Got a friend that has a GBC and a Ubi Soft game? Well, invite him over to test out the cool infra-red feature in Rayman. By linking up two systems and two compatible games, you are sent to an exclusive Bonus Stage that is brand new and nowhere else in the game. Try it out! Your game manual has complete instructions.

Our 10 All-Time Favorites

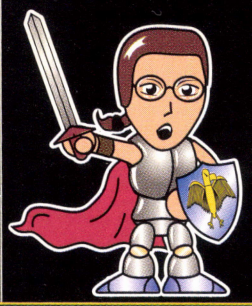
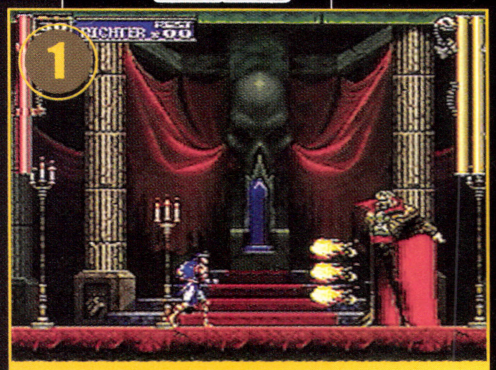
As fall draws near, Expert Gamer reminisces about lazy summer days spent indoors. Don't get us wrong, we love the great outdoors, too, but when a great game's got your attention, nothing else exists. You don't leave the house, you don't leave the room and you certainly don't turn away from the game. We've all had these experiences, so take a look at some of the games that have eaten away at the lives of our editors.



AndyBaran

This hardcore gamer plays the games that most resemble his life. When he's not off searching for ancient artifacts, he's battling the forces of darkness. He uses these game for practice.



If you start the game off right, your statistics with Alucard will end up being much better. Learn Dracula's patterns and you should be able to beat him quite easily.

Go Ahead and Sink Your Teeth Into This!

Castlevania: SOTN - PlayStation

Exploration meets RPG in this gothic masterpiece with hundreds of items and plenty of technique.

XG TIP Get off to a good start by defeating Dracula in the beginning without getting hit or having to use special items. If you can, you will be rewarded with better stats. To defeat him, jump and whip his head, then pull back and duck. Whip the fireballs he tosses, and when he morphs, slide underneath his jumps.

Why Adventure Games?

What better way is there to escape the nightmares of a mundane existence than with an adventure? These games offer a storyline and exploration to those who seek them out. Games of this nature are not for everyone. They require hours of gameplay and even the most hardcore gamer will be hard pressed to find every secret. You'll laugh, cry and sometimes throw the controller—when that happens, you'll know that you've been drawn inside.

You'll note that some of the games on this list may belong to a whole series of great games, and you may wonder why we haven't included more than one game from each series. Well, we had to go with the one game that we thought best represents a given series—if we didn't there's be nothing but Final Fantasy and Zelda games!

2 Legend of Zelda: A Link to the Past - Super NES

Near perfect, this Zelda game had more secrets, bosses and weapons than the rest of the series. Only through determination can one get through...

XG TIP In the Light World desert, there is a mysterious guy who wants to be left alone; in the Dark world, there is a chest in one of the ruined houses. Take the chest from the Dark World to the guy and you will be rewarded with a highly useful jar.

3 Final Fantasy II (IV) - Super NES

More than one gamer lost sleep to this classic. It had a wondrous story that never slowed down. The international version is even better.

XG TIP Undead monsters are usually some of your toughest opponents. However, there is a way to hurt them badly with a common spell! Cast Cure on an Undead and it will take a lot of damage. The better the Cure, the most it hurts the monster.

4 Dragon Warrior IV - NES

This threads multiple stories into a single tapestry and weaves one of the most engrossing tales of all time. Taloon introduced many original game concepts.

XG TIP Since this game features both a daytime and nighttime, you should take advantage of the situation by talking to people during both times. There are plenty of juicy pieces of gossip that only get spoken of at night...

5 Phantasy Star 2 - Genesis

PS2 was the most expensive Genesis game for a long time, but it was worth the hefty price tag. This game was way ahead of it's time in all categories.

XG TIP Keep Nei alive! Normally, she will be killed by Neifirst and will be unable to come back. Before heading to Climatrol, use Shir to steal some Moon Dew. Give it to a character other than Nei, then resurrect her during the battle.

6 Super Mario RPG - Super NES

Most people scoffed at the idea, but this Nintendo/Square tag team was an inspired game with a wealth of secrets that did the Mario world justice.

XG TIP The first time you enter the palace (right in the beginning), start jumping around in the hallways. There is one "?" Block that you can only get in the beginning. If you miss it the first time, it will not appear when you go back.

7 Metal Gear Solid - PlayStation

Konami outdid itself with this brilliant espionage thriller. What made this game so cool was the attention to detail.

XG TIP Kill Sniper Wolf without breaking a sweat. How? Take cover so she can't shoot you. Next, equip your remote controlled rockets and guide them to her. There's no threat in doing this at all!

8 Super Metroid - Super Nintendo

Samus's return was anything but tame. Nintendo's cinematic style showed real flair as players around the world freaked out when the Mother Brain showed up...

XG TIP Save the aliens that helped you out! When the fortress starts to crumble apart and you are trying to get to your ship, all of the doors will be locked except for one. Follow it to the critters and bomb a path for them to use to escape.

9 River City Ransom - NES

This is what happens when you combine a Double Dragon-type scroller with RPG elements. This original game became an instant cult classic.

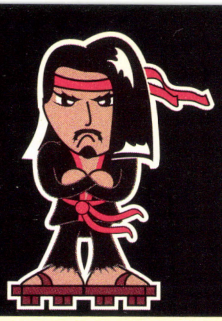
XG TIP If you want to find the elusive hidden shop that's loaded with expensive-but-effective goodies, look no further. Press Up into the wall underneath the fourth light that you find in the Armstrong Thru-Way (a great way to prepare for battle).

10 Raiders of the Lost Ark - Atari 2600

One of the first Adventures based off of the greatest of adventure films. This game broke new ground as one of the most complex 2600 titles.

XG TIP Locate the Ark by using the Eyepiece in the Map Room when the sun comes up. This will show you the exact mesa to jump off of. Grapple to the mesa, then fall. Use the parachute and glide under the branch. Use the shovel to find the Ark.

Kenneth "Slim" Miller



Slim is the fighting game fanatic (well, 2D fighting game, anyway) around XG. He practices his techniques daily in the never-ending pursuit of one more hit on that combo.

Geese puts the smack down on Joe with a move called the Raging Storm. Notice the similarity to Akuma's Kongou Kokuretsu Zan in the more recent Street Fighter 3: Third Strike.

The Finest Fatal Fury

Real Bout Fatal Fury - Neo Geo

The fifth of the Fatal Fury games, RBFF had tight gameplay, big combos, flashy supers and Mai. What else could you ask for? If you've never played it, try to find the PlayStation or Saturn conversions and see for yourself.

XG TIP Geese's Super Desperation Move is kinda lame, but he has another hidden one. When your Super Bar is full and your life is flashing red, get close to your opponent and enter a half-circle Back+A, then A, B, C, C, C, B, C, then quarter-circle Back+C for the devastating Deadly Rave!

Why Fighting Games?

Fighting games are the last bastion of true warrior spirit. Nowhere are the topics of honor and technique as prominent as when playing them, and as a result, gamers get serious about fighting games like nothing else. No one wants to pluck down 10 bucks to compete in a Get Bass tournament, but with games like Street Fighter Alpha 3, such tournaments are commonplace.

Fighting games aren't for just anyone. They take very quick reflexes, intense concentration and at least some amount of competitive spirit to win. However, nothing is as satisfying in the gaming world as playing against a really tough opponent and coming out on top or landing a big combo in front of a crowd of onlookers. If you've got the spirit, fighting games are the only thing you'll need.

2 Street Fighter 2 Turbo - Arcade, SNES, PS, Saturn

Many people agree this is the best SF game ever. Fast action, a good character balance and no super combos provide pure Street Fighter fun.

XG TIP (This is for the SNES version.) During the title sequence when the word "Turbo" is scrolling across the screen, input down, R, Up, L, Y, B on the second controller. You can now set the turbo speed up to an insane 10 stars.

3 Samurai Shodown 2- Neo Geo

Samurai Shodown 2 is an old favorite among fighting gamers—it has colorful characters, great graphics, an amazing soundtrack and it just oozes style.

XG TIP A few characters have extra powerful hidden moves. For example, with Haomaru, input Down-Forward, half-circle Forward, Back, Down, Down-Back, then BC to perform his Tenha Fuujin Zan attack.

4 JoJo's Bizarre Adventure - Arcade, DC, PS

A crazy game based on a famous Japanese manga, JoJo introduced the "Stand" system—which was never before seen in fighting games.

XG TIP If you take too much damage with your Stand on, you will be Stand Crashed and momentarily open to attack. To avoid this, try to keep your Stand off as often as possible to replenish your Stand Bar energy.

5 The King of Fighters 97 - Neo Geo, PS, Saturn

The King of Fighters series is a long-running and popular line of fighting games. In 1997, the original story came to a climactic finish.

6 Street Fighter Alpha 3 - Arcade, DC, PS, Saturn

This is Capcom's most recent and most complex SF Alpha game. New techniques and combos are still being discovered more than two years after its release.

XG TIP For most characters, V-ism is the best choice. All V-ism characters move and attack faster than the other "isms," and the V-ism bar charges faster than the other two. Also, most of their Custom Combos more powerful than any Super.

7 Match of the Millennium - Neo Geo Pocket Color

It may be on a portable system, but this little fighter is packed with characters, combos, game modes and can even be linked with King of Fighters on the DC.

XG TIP When using Zangief in Rush mode, you can perform a chain combo and end it with the Spinning Piledriver or even the Final Atomic Buster!

8 Mortal Kombat 2 - Arcade, SNES, Genesis, Saturn, 32X, GB, GG

People tend to either love or hate the MK series, but most will agree that the second was the best game of the series.

XG TIP Shang Tsung can morph into Kintaro for a hidden third Fatality. On the second round (assuming you win), hold Low Punch for the whole round—when it's time to finish your opponent, stand sweep-distance away and release Low Punch.

9 Pocket Fighter - Arcade, PlayStation, Saturn

Pocket Fighter didn't have the most advanced game system, but it was just so much fun to fight it out with the cute little SD Capcom characters.

XG TIP Akuma and Dan are hidden characters in Pocket Fighter. To select Akuma, put the cursor on Ryu and press Left. To select Dan, put the cursor on Ken and press Right.

10 Eternal Champions CD- Sega CD

The Sega CD version of Eternal Champions was even better than the Genesis version because it had more characters and great music.

XG TIP The music in the game is all redbook tracks on the CD. You can put the game in any CD player to listen to the awesome soundtrack.

PhilTheobald

All his life, Phil has tried to conquer his foes by jumping on their heads or by shooting pellets out of his arm. While it never worked in real life, he found comfort in his platform games.

Walking mushrooms, flying turtles, hidden coins and Warp Zones a-plenty—Super Mario games have it all. They introduced gameplay elements that just about every game since has used.

Get Your Game On!

Super Mario All-Stars - SNES

This game features four of the best side-scrollers ever made in one cart. You can't beat that deal! It includes Super Mario Bros. 1-3 as well as the Japanese version SMB2 (dubbed "The Lost Levels" over here). You can't beat this game for sheer fun.

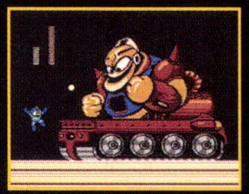
XG TIP All of the classic tricks, secrets and warps from the original Super Mario games are recreated perfectly in All-Stars. The only trick that wasn't ported over is the infamous Minus World trick. If you're itching to swim through a never-ending level, you'll need an NES copy of Super Mario Bros.

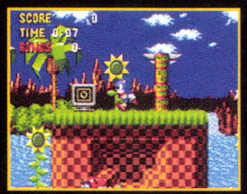
Why Platform Games?

If it weren't for a simple platform game, all of these "Soney Player-Stations" and "Seega Dreamsicles" that the kids play nowadays might not even exist. Think about it. If Nintendo never got the world hooked on Super Mario Bros., would video games have ever resurfaced as a popular form of entertainment after they fell out of favor during the big crash of the early '80s?

Once video games were going strong again, the side-scrolling platform was the genre of choice. Unfortunately, with the invention of 3D polygons and other such innovations, the number of true, old-fashioned platform games has slowed to a crawl.

Don't get me wrong, we love these newfangled games as much as the next guy. Still, we'll always have a soft spot for a quality platform game. Now if you'll excuse us, we have a Warp Zone to find.





2 Yoshi's Island: Super Mario World 2 - SNES

If it weren't for the incredible package that is Super Mario All-Stars, Yoshi's Island would be the best side-scroller ever. Just beware of Baby Mario's whine.

XG TIP To play the bonus games at any time, go to the map screen, hold down SELECT and press X, X, Y, B, A. You can now play the minigames whenever you want.

3 Mega Man 2 - NES

Capcom's made about a million Mega Man games, but many will argue that the second one is the best. This game made Mega Man the star he is today.

XG TIP To completely power up Mega Man with all weapons and items as well as four Energy Tanks, just enter this password: A5, B2, B4, C1, C3, C5, D4, D5, E2.

4 Sonic the Hedgehog - Genesis

Just when everyone thought that Nintendo was invincible, along comes Sega with the original "dude with 'tude" to teach us a lesson.

5 Contra - NES

While it's not really groundbreaking, the original Contra game was the pinnacle of run-and-shoot games. Grab that Spread Gun and mow down the alien forces!

XG TIP What else can we say about Contra but "Konami Code, baby!" Just enter the classic command: Up, Up, Down, Down, Left, Right, Left, Right, B, A, START before the title scrolls into view to gain a whopping 30 lives. Now go beat that game!

6 Ninja Gaiden - NES

Ninja Gaiden's biggest contribution to video games is that it introduced cinema scenes to further the plot. Not only that, but the game kicked major booty.

XG TIP To listen to this game's classic music, wait until the screen says "Tecmo Presents 1989." When it does, press and hold Left+Down+A+B+SELECT. Right after doing this, press START to enter the Sound Test mode.

7 Bionic Commando - NES

Sure, you couldn't jump in the game, but there's something about swinging on that robotic arm that just felt "right." You even got to kill Hitler at the end!

XG TIP If you ever get stuck in a level or just need to get out, press and hold A+B+START. This will take you back to the main map screen where you can select a new level or return to the previous level with new weapons.

8 Revenge of Shinobi - Genesis

From the music to the gameplay, everything about Revenge of Shinobi was perfect. Sega even threw in Spider-Man, Batman and Godzilla as bosses.

XG TIP For unlimited shurikens, go to the "Options" screen and set the number of shurikens to zero. Now, just wait for about 20 seconds and the zero will change into an infinity symbol. Man, you gotta love these easy codes.

9 Ghouls 'n' Ghosts - Genesis

Not only was this one of the first Genesis games, but it was also one of the first games to be a near-duplicate of the arcade version.

XG TIP To make Arthur invincible, press A, A, A, A, Up, Down, Left, Right at the title screen. If done correctly, you'll hear a chime. At this point, press and hold B, then START. There will be another chime. Finally, press and hold C and then START.

10 Strider - Genesis

Billed as the first 8-meg game for the Genesis (8-megs was darn big for the time), Strider was another arcade conversion that was missing only the coin slot.

XG TIP To gain extra continues, press A, C, B, C, A and START at the intro screen. Now you have a few more chances to win this classic game.

JustynHarkin

When he's not too busy being Expert Gamer's resident grammar nazi, Justyn plays the games that the others leave in front of him. We'll train him in the ways of hardcore gaming yet...

Whether you play it alone or against a friend, Tetris Attack is sure to please. Recently Nintendo announced a sequel of sorts called Pokémon Puzzle League. We can hardly wait.

Killer Combos!

Tetris Attack - Super NES

The best puzzle game of all time is Tetris Attack. Its amazing gameplay and combo system makes for a truly skill-based game. The entire office stopped for a week when this game hit the stores shelves, and years after its release, we still play it like it's new!

XG TIP Never go for anything smaller than a four-block combo, otherwise you're not sending anything to your opponent. Try not to let the blocks stack too high (obvious tip), but don't clear away too much. If you don't have anything to work with, all an opponent has to do is drop something big to choke you out.

Why These Games?

The games on Justyn's simply just don't have a genre to call their own. Some games don't belong to a clear-cut genre like sports or platforms or fighting, but that doesn't mean that they are bad games. In fact, we love the games that aren't afraid to break the mold. In a sea of sports and fighting games, why not try something a little different? Even the most hardcore gamer can get in a rut, so any game that breaks away from the norm is like a gem.

Every now and then, a company will come along with a breakthrough title that in effect creates its own genre. Thunder Force 3, for example, made shooters the crowned king of the Sega Genesis. Likewise, as soon as Street Fighter 2 appeared, fighting games became all the rage. Who knows what the future will hold for gaming? What will be tomorrow's innovations?

2 Mario Kart - Super NES

This is the game that started that whole "Kart Racing" genre. Mario Kart's innovation and gameplay made for some of the best multiplayer madness around.

XG TIP If you accelerate at the right time before the race starts, you will get a super boost to speed past the competition. Remember to stay away from the other karts, otherwise you'll lose coins.

3 Lifeforce - NES

For the harder than hard, this shooter pretty much honed the skills of gamers everywhere. Very few players could beat this one the first time out.

XG TIP The classic Konami code will give you 30 lives that you can throw away (Up, Up, Down, Down, Left, Right, Left, Right and then START). This will help you out, but still keep the game challenging.

4 Twisted Metal 2 - PlayStation

SingleTrac took players by storm with the very best in vehicular combat. Excellent gameplay matched the inspired level design.

XG TIP Look for secret codes on the ground in the New York level—you'll see them as you are plummeting to your death. Twisted Metal 2 has all sorts of wicked codes that you can enhance the battles with.

5 Herzog Zwei - Genesis

This odd-sounding game was the first real-time strategy game on a console. Its multiplayer features made it an instant cult classic.

XG TIP Build up an army of tanks (or boats, when applicable) around your base. Once you've maxed out your troop allotment, send the commands to attack the enemy base. There's no way to stop a full-fledged attack!.

6 Dance Dance Revolution 3rd Mix - PlayStation

Show us your moves! Sometimes you just need to get up and dance, and DDR is the way to go. Bust a move to a ton of techno, dance and J-pop tunes.

XG TIP There's plenty of secrets to unlock in this game, including extra modes (such as Endless Mode) and new songs. All you need to do is dance well and clear songs to make the secrets appear. If you play a lot, you'll unlock them all in no time.

7 Warhawk - PlayStation

SingleTrac's flying thriller combined some of the best action with the coolest visual effects of the time. Despite being an early PS title, it still holds its own!

XG TIP For infinite weapons, enter Triangle, Triangle, Circle, Triangle, Square, Triangle, Triangle, X. For invincibility, enter Circle, Circle, Circle, Right, X, Triangle, X, X. With these two codes, you'll be unstoppable!

8 Resident Evil 2 - PlayStation

While it may seem like it belongs in the adventure column, this series created the "thriller" genre all its own. There are few games make you leap out of your seat...

XG TIP The best tip we can give for Resident Evil to is to learn how to run. You don't have to kill every single monster in the game, and if you try, you'll run out of supplies before you're halfway through. Learn to dodge zombie attacks and keep moving.

9 Final Fantasy Tactics - PlayStation

Square entered the tactical scene with this game, and it was by far the best of its kind. Its tough turn-based strategy could absorb a gamer for hours on end.

XG TIP Did you know that you can build up experience by attacking your own party members? It's true! This is a nifty little way to build up some experience levels before the really difficult missions come down the pipe.

10 Golgo 13 - NES

The famous manga secret agent broke new ground on the NES with multiple types of gameplay, as well as steamy loves scenes. Ooooh yeah!

XG TIP You can select your level with this tricky code. At the demo screen, press START when you see Golgo's eyes on controller 1. Next, hold Up+A+B+START while holding Left+Up+A+B on controller 2.

DanLeahy

We know. You want to know which game would have been No. 11, right? Well, it's Bill Laimbeer's Combat Basketball for the SNES. Care to comment on Dan's list? E-mail dan_leahy@ziffdavis.com.

Maybe it doesn't look as pretty as NFL 2K, but it plays pretty damn sweet. Madden NFL 2001 stands atop Dan's list as the best sports game of all time.

Boom! Wham!

Madden NFL 2001 - PlayStation

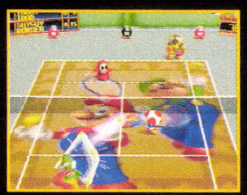
Arguably the greatest gridiron game of all time, this one mixes deep gameplay and sim options galore for the true football buff. (We know it's still a week or two from being out, but Dan's already played it, so it's safe to trust him).

XG TIP Since this game isn't out on store shelves yet, we can't release any codes. What we can tell you is that the Player Cards earned during Two-Minute Drill and other gameplay challenges are awesome. Some cards boost player performance for a quarter by 15 percent or more. Use 'em to thrash your friends.

Why Sports Games?

According to Dan, sports games offer something no other genre (except for maybe fighting) can match. As long as you've got a buddy or two around, sports games will deliver intense competition and unlimited replay value. Think about it. You never know the outcome when playing a sports game. Different players perform better than others at different times, and actually take on a personality of their own within the game. Ever taken a bench player and nurtured him to MVP status? Of course you have.

That's another part of the beauty of sports gaming. You get a chance to rewrite history. Get Dan Marino his Super Bowl ring, turn the L.A. Clippers into the darlings of the NBA and end the Curse of the Bambino in Boston. For a sports fan like Dan, there's really no substitute.



2 NHL '94 - Genesis

This one added innovative features such as goalie control, season stat tracking and fake shots. NHL '94 was the best EA had to offer in the 16-bit era.

XG TIP For a fast-break take on hockey, hold down A+C while powering up your Genesis. Keep the buttons pressed until you reach the "Edit Lines" screen. This code will result in 30 second periods.

3 All-Star Baseball 2001 - N64

This series made its final appearance on the N64, and it went out in style. Fantasy drafting, great graphics and a blend of arcade/sim gameplay set it apart.

XG TIP Having trouble keeping your eye on the ball? Enter BCHBLKTPTY for a larger baseball. If you want to simulate playing the game in a Darryl Strawberry-like drunken stupor, enter MYEYES for extra blurry action.

4 NFL GameDay '98 - PlayStation

Football goes polygons and Dan goes ga-ga. Throw in the endless list of easter eggs and great all-around gameplay and you've got a classic.

XG TIP There are too many to mention, but my favorite codes are ones that tweak gameplay (frilly "big head" codes do nothing for Dan). Anyway, enter CPU DEFENSE or CPU OFFENSE (or both) for a tougher one-player game.

5 Tecmo Super NBA Basketball - SNES

Tecmo, whether it was football or hoops, knew that multi-person seasons were a good thing. Deep stat tracking and fast-paced play kept us coming back.

XG TIP This isn't a code, but rather more of a bug. If you want to dramatically increase your odds of making three-pointers, position yourself at the top of the screen on the baseline. Soon you'll be draining 16 of 20 treys with stiffs like Pete Chilcutt.

6 Hot Shots Golf - PlayStation

Before Hot Shots, video game golf was something best reserved for the PC realm. Despite its Caddyshack-esque appearance, HSG is a serious golf game.

7 NBA 2K - Dreamcast

Of the "2k" games, this is definitely Dan's favorite (despite players receiving passes out of bounds). Dunks are overdone, but when they look this nice, who cares?

XG TIP Another non-code, this little maneuver will help you score extra points while missing free throws. On your final free throw, switch control to your center and—as the ball nears the front of the rim—jump and slam it home for two points.

8 Tony Hawk's Pro Skater - Dreamcast

Is this really a sports game? Yup. It's an extreme sports game, which gives us an excuse to join the ever-growing legions of THPS fans. Trick-tastic indeed!

XG TIP The best tip for this game is just to play the ever-lovin' heck out of it, but if you want to spoil it a bit, here's how to unlock everything. Hold L at the pause screen and hit B, Right, Up, Down, B, Right Up, X, Y.

9 Mario Tennis - N64

Amazingly simple controls don't limit the depth or fun factor of this game. Mario Tennis gets all the gameplay details right. Multiplayer is an absolute riot.

XG TIP If you need to get a few cheap wins, learn to play as Boo. He is a tricky-type player who can put some crazy spin on the ball when serving. Hold down B after the serve and use the analog stick to steer the ball away from your opponent.

10 NBA Showtime - Arcade

A serious time-killer in the office, NBA Showtime packs Blitz style intensity and rolls it out on the hardwood. One note: beware Team Thin!

XG TIP Enter 201031 for the 1985 Bears and kick the stuffing out of any opponent. Next, enter GENERIC for super duper heads. Also, throw in these passwords PINKY and STINKY for additional fun times!

Let's Begin at the Beginning

Chrono Cross has received lots of hype. In some ways I think it's well deserved, but ultimately, the game didn't really do it for me, personally.

Although it has amazing visuals and a beautiful soundtrack (courtesy of my lord and master, Yasunori Mitsuda), the story feels a little broken up to me. Throw in 40 characters to keep track of, and it gets even more confusing. Despite all that, Chrono Cross is still an enjoyable game and it's worth playing, especially for fans of Chrono Trigger.

The guide will get you started on the nuts and bolts of the gameplay (Look for a full walkthrough next month). Hey, for all I know, you might like the game more than I do anyway. Stranger things have happened, right?

It's Elementary

All of the game systems in Chrono Cross are based around Elements. Elements are pretty much just spells, but don't be mislead—they are a lot more complex than the magic you see in your typical RPG. Every character can use Elements, but which character uses which Element at what time can be very important.

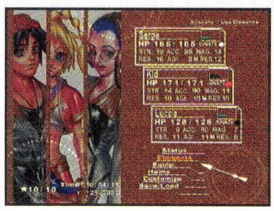
Allocating Elements

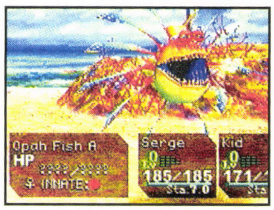
Each character has a number of slots that you can put Elements in. You begin with one slot for Level 1, Level 2 and Level 3, but you'll gain more slots and more levels as you progress through the game. You can't just throw any old Element into any slot, though. Each Element has a natural level, but that level is negotiable to a certain degree. For instance, the Element "Cure" is Level 1, but you can put it in a slot as high as Level 8. This is indicated with the notation "Lv 1 ± 7." If you put Cure in a Level 3 slot, it would show up as "Cure+2." Putting an Element in a higher-level slot like this will raise the strength of the Element, but even Cure+7 won't heal as much life as a mid-level healing Element at its natural level. Conversely, if you put an Element in a lower-level slot, it will decrease the strength (but again, not significantly).

Innate Colors

Innate Colors control the Elemental properties of a character's attack. You can tell what a character's Innate Color is by noting what color circle it has in its status box on the menu screen. Find out your enemies' Innate Colors the same way when you select to attack them in battle.

Every Elemental color has an opposite color. The opposites are red and blue, yellow and green, and white and black. If know an enemy's Innate Color, you can add more power to your attacks by using an opposite color Element; however, if the Innate Color is the same color as the Element, your attack won't do much damage at all.





If a character casts an Element of the same color as its Innate Color, the effect of the Element will be more powerful. To really pack a punch, use an Element of a character's Innate Color against an enemy of the opposite Innate Color.

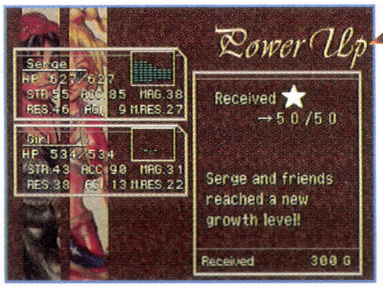
Your characters' Innate Colors also affect physical attacks. For example, a character with an Innate Color of white can inflict extra damage against a character who's Innate Color is black. This works both ways, though, so be careful. Later in the game, you'll be able to strategize by selecting parties based on the members' Innate Colors, especially if you know what the Innate Colors of the enemies you'll be fighting.

Growth Points

Unlike most RPGs, Chrono Cross doesn't have any "levels." Instead, the game uses a system of Growth Points. When you win a significant battle (usually against a boss), you will receive a Growth Point. At that time, you will also receive increases to your Hit Points and some of your stats—you may also gain a new Element slot.

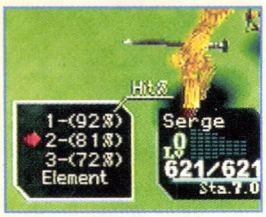
Following the Growth Point battle, there will be a short time where you will typically receive a few extra Hit Points and some minor increases to your other stats when you win a normal battle. When you get to a battle where you get more Hit Points and stats increases than usual, though, you won't get any stronger until the next Growth Point battle.

Growth Points also represent the number of times you can use a summon Element. If you run out, you will have to stay at an Inn or rest somewhere else so you can regain Growth Points and start summoning again.



"Target Sighted. Commence Attack."

The battle system in Chrono Cross is rather involved. Even a simple weapon attack isn't, well, simple. Although there is no "best" way to fight any given battle, there are definitely some factors that you'll want to keep in mind.



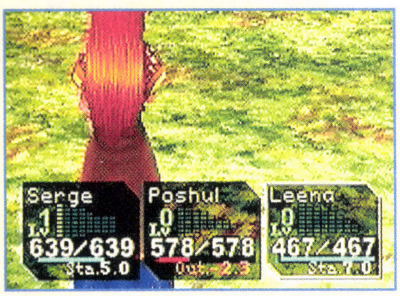
Hit Percentage

When you choose a target to attack in battle, a box will appear showing four different methods of attack. The first three are normal attacks of differing strength: weak, strong and fierce. Each attack has a percentage next to it that represents its chances of hitting. Now, even though it may say your attack has an 80 percent chance to hit, it's still likely to miss. The 80 percent represents your base chance of hitting, but you also have to consider your enemy's chance of dodging. A 99 percent chance usually means success, but for any other number you better subtract about 20 percent to get a real idea of your chances. When you connect with an attack, the chances of landing any subsequent attack on the same enemy in that turn increases. However, if you switch to another character or if an enemy attacks between your attacks, you may lose that advantage.

Stamina

You begin any battle with seven Stamina and that number cannot ever increase (the Stamina bar is located below your Hit Points on your status box in battle). Stamina controls how and when you can attack. For instance, the stronger a normal attack is, the more Stamina it requires. A weak attack takes one Stamina point, a strong attack takes two and a fierce attack takes three. For any given "turn," your combination of attacks can't exceed seven points worth of Stamina.

Using an Element always takes seven Stamina points, regardless of when you use it. If you start a turn by using an Element, your Stamina will drop to zero. If you have already attacked and haven't regained all seven points, on the other hand, you will go below zero Stamina and it will take time before you can do any sort of attack—this means you have to decide when you want to use your Elements.



In a three-person party, you can use a weak-strong-fierce attack combo and an Element—when it comes to be your turn again, you will have gained your Stamina back. However, instead of using the Element, it may be a good idea to Defend or to simply pass the turn to another character so you'll have enough Stamina in reserve in case you need to heal someone quickly.

Field Effect

The Field Effect indicator, located in the upper-left corner of the battle screen, shows how different Elements are affecting the battle field. The smallest ring indicates the color of the most recently used Element, and the newest Element used will push the previous color out to the next ring. The more rings displaying a particular color, the stronger the Elements of that color will become and the weaker the opposite color will be.

The Field Effect is also very important when summoning. To summon, all three rings of the Field must be the color of the summon Element you are trying to use. You must plan your attacks very carefully to keep the entire field the same color long enough to use the summon Element.

Using Elements in Battle

Under normal circumstances, you cannot use an Element at the beginning of a battle—you must first build up sufficient levels of Element energy. These levels are built up by landing normal attacks; a weak attack builds up one level, a strong attack builds up two and a fierce attack builds up three. If the attack misses, you'll still spend the Stamina, but you won't gain any Element levels. If you really need to cast an Element, play it safe and stick with weak attacks, which are easier to land.

With the exception of consumable Elements like Tablet, each Element you have allocated can only be used once per battle. Therefore, it's very important to be careful in choosing when and how you will use a particular Element. If you have a powerful healing spell, for example, try to avoid using it until you really need it instead of blowing it on someone who's only a few points under.

There is an exception to the one-use rule, though, that is actually one of the nicer features in the game. If you win a battle and still have Element levels built up, you can use your healing Elements to restore your party to full health. This is a great way to conserve your consumable healing Elements, and you can potentially leave every battle in perfect health (except for status ailments like poison).

More Country Club Fun

MARIO TENNIS™

First there was Mario Golf and now there's Mario Tennis. Thanks to N64 developer Camelot, Mario and his cast of friends have flourished in the usually bland country club sports of golf and tennis. Mario Tennis is a great example of how to make a game completely playable without making it simple—it's short on learning curve and long on fun. There are a ton of different game modes and 16 characters to master, each with their own particular attributes. Heck, you'll even find a new member of the Nintendo family in Waluigi. So pick up a controller, call some friends over and get ready for a multiplayer experience that outdoes any old Mario Party.

controls

The controls for Mario Tennis are amazingly simple, yet amazingly deep and refined. Tap A for a topspin shot and B for a slice shot. Tap A then B for a lob, or B then A for a drop shot. Other variations are: double tap A for a slightly juiced topspin ball (orange trail); double tap B for a slightly better fade or slice shot (blue trail). At the net, try hitting A+B at just the right time for a power smash (pink trail).

There are different factors that affect your shot. The most important is how early you hit A or B. The better you anticipate where your opponent is going to hit the ball, the sooner you can get there. Once you're in place, tap the shot button early and you'll notice your character charging up. The idea is to get max power on as many shots as possible, but don't get caught out of position. Too many players worry about power over placement—we're here to tell you placement is top priority.

Clay courts are just one of the different surfaces you'll find in Mario Tennis.

surfaces

One of the many great features of Mario Tennis is the variety of the courts. Different players excel on the various surfaces depending on their individual traits. For instance, Yoshi is a fast character on any surface, but put him on a grass court and he'll be even quicker. Anyway, here's a quick rundown of the courts we found and their characteristics:

Hard: Normal ball speed, strong bounce.
Clay: Slow ball speed, weak bounce.
Grass: Fast ball speed, weak bounce.
Composition: Fastest ball speed, normal bounce.
Mario Bros. Court: Fast ball speed, weak bounce.

Some other general tips based on the courts are to tailor your shot based on the bounce factor. Use slice balls on weak bounce courts to deaden the ball. This will force your opponents to rush their shots. The opposite is true on strong or normal bounce courts. Here, use your power topspin ball to force the action. The topspin action, combined with a big bounce, will result in a very quick shot.

modes of play

Pick up a racquet and try any of the many modes Mario Tennis has to offer. There are singles and doubles matches, tournaments, exhibitions and a ton of minigames (Bowser, Piranha, Ring Shot). You'll be happy to know, however, that Mario Tennis doesn't require you to unlock a lot of characters (remember Mario Golf?). The only two characters to unlock are Donkey Kong Junior and Shy Guy. DK Jr. can be unlocked by winning the doubles tournament in the Star Cup; Shy Guy can be unlocked by winning the singles tournament in the Star Cup. The other 14 characters are all available from the beginning.

tournaments

If you want a real challenge, try winning all of the tournaments with each of the different characters. The tournaments are Mushroom Cup, Flower Cup and Star Cup, with Star Cup being the most difficult. Mushroom and Flower Cup are each one-set tourneys, while Star Cup is a demanding three-set match.

A Game With Some Balls

by Dan Leahy
dan_leahy@ziffdavis.com

I can't remember the last time I was this surprised by a game. Sure, I knew Camelot would develop a good product for N64, but Mario Tennis achieves the same level of quality as Mario Golf.

It is excellent in every regard. Great characters (even a new one, Waluigi) and simple controls will have anybody mashing the ball with Bowser in a minute or two, and deep gameplay will have seasoned veterans coming back for more. One feature that's sure to help the game stand the test of time is its multiplayer mode. Get a room full of people together and let the tennis wars begin, Mario style.

Of course, if you're having people over, you wouldn't want to suck at the game now would you? OK, then. Read up on the next few pages for some inside details on how to become a pro. See you at center court!

Mario

Player Style: All-Around

PLAYING AS:

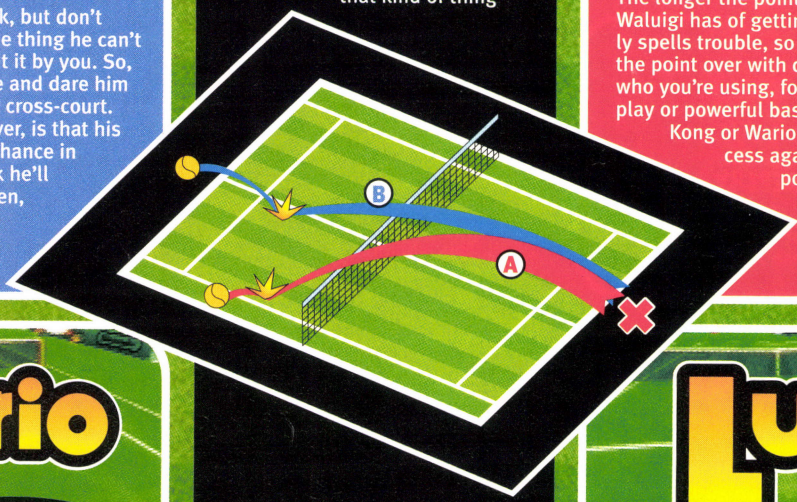
Mario is one of the quicker, more nimble characters in the game. When you play with him, get your opponent in the side-to-side game, working the baseline as much as possible. Chances are your opponent may make a mistake without you having to do much at all. If you're more the impatient type, force your foe into a corner with a fading slice shot (B button), then follow up with a rush to the net. Once you've taken away their angle, get ready to smash their return for a winner.

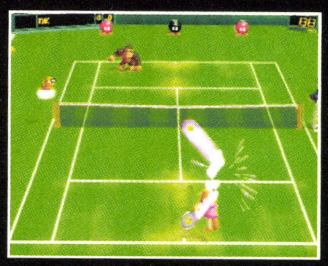
PLAYING AGAINST:

Facing Mario is a daunting task, but don't worry, he's still vulnerable. One thing he can't do with great consistency is hit it by you. So, come to the net when possible and dare him to smoke one down the line or cross-court. One thing to remember, however, is that his speed will always give him a chance in any given point. You may think he'll never get to some shot and then, bam! He's tracked it down and you're toast.

Serving Strategies

Mario Tennis is not a game built on serving, but a good service game can help make the difference between winning and losing. When serving, you really have two main choices: You can go wide to the corner (A), or straight down the middle (B). By going wide, you're forcing your opponent to run off the court and to tap one back your way. By the time they manage to get back into position, you can usually crack a winner to the opposite corner. If your serve isn't wide enough, however, you may find yourself flat-footed as your foe hits a winner down the line. Still, we recommend a wide serve most of the time. The risk/reward factor is high, and that kind of thing adds replay value. If you choose to go down the middle, you're basically encouraging a safe return and a longer rally-style point. The exception is if you can hit a power serve (A+B) perfectly at the "T" of the center line and service line—that's probably the toughest serve to accomplish. It's worth it, though, as your opponent will barely have time to get the ball back. Often, you'll have an outright ace.





Holy smokes! Look at that serve. You could put an eye out with a serve like that. Boy, tennis sure is dangerous.

Waluigi

Player Style: Technique

PLAYING AS:

Waluigi may be recognized as a speed character, but he actually seems a step slower than some of the other quick cats. He makes up for it, though, with a lengthy reach that helps solidify his net game. To excel with Waluigi, you'll have to force the action. Hit sharply angled shots, backing your opponent up until their only choice is a lob. Because Waluigi's serve is pretty average, you may not want to charge in after your first offering.

PLAYING AGAINST:

The longer the point lasts, the better chance Waluigi has of getting to the net. That usually spells trouble, so concentrate on getting the point over with quickly. Depending on who you're using, force the action with net play or powerful baseline strokes. Donkey Kong or Wario should have good success against Waluigi, as their power games can negate his net skills (if used correctly).

Wario

Player Style: Power

PLAYING AS:

One of our favorite characters in the game, Wario packs a real punch. If you can anticipate where your opponent's shot is going to go, get there and power-up as much as possible. If you can do that, your shots will blister anybody coming to the net, or, at the very least, you'll keep them pegged to the baseline. Wario's foot speed is suspect, though, so be sure to return to the center of the court after most shots. He's a gonna WEEN!

PLAYING AGAINST:

When facing Wario, it's important to stay away from his Andre Agassi-like forehand. He'll whip a passing shot by you before you know it. Keep the action in the middle third of the court to prevent Wario from hitting crazy angled shots for winners. Other than that, he's not too dangerous. Watch him cheating to the left or right side of the court and plan on sneaking one by him in the opposite direction.

Luigi

Player Style: All-Around

PLAYING AS:

Always a basic, solid and well-rounded character, Luigi does a little bit of everything well. Use this to your advantage. Mix up your A and B serves, rush the net, play the baseline and so on. Basically, throw everything but the kitchen sink at opposing players. If you keep them on their heels, you're sure to swing the action to your favor—then it's up to you to decide how to win the point, as Luigi can end things with a variety of shots.

PLAYING AGAINST:

Due to the wide-ranging talents of Luigi, pick your spots to be aggressive very carefully. If things go well, you'll have a chance to pierce his armor with a strong shot or two. Also, don't get in a rush to make the perfect shot. A series of well-placed balls can keep your opponent of the defensive and force a mistake. Remember, it's not always about winning the point. Sometimes it's better to let your opponent lose it.

Peach

Player Style: Technique

PLAYING AS:

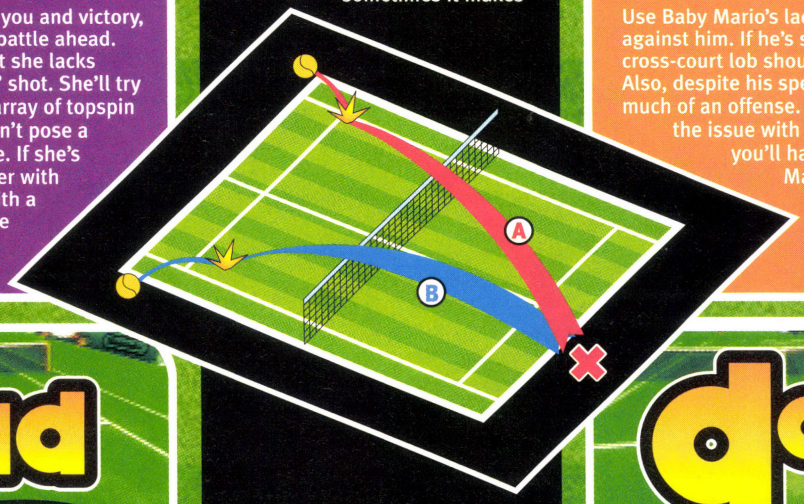
Peach absolutely rocks in this game. She has good speed, great net instincts and pretty decent zip on her shots. The one thing she lacks is a big service game, but she more than compensates for it with her other skills. It's hard to give advice for Peach, but if we had to choose a tactic for her, we'd say go to the net as much as possible. Not much is going to get by her, and the percentages of you winning the point dramatically increase at the net.

PLAYING AGAINST:

If Peach is standing between you and victory, know that you'll have a long battle ahead. One thing in your favor is that she lacks aggressiveness and a "killer" shot. She'll try to rock you to sleep with an array of topspin and slice shots, but she doesn't pose a huge threat from the baseline. If she's stretching you corner to corner with well-placed shots, counter with a lob to give yourself some time to regroup.

baseline play

Baseline play and net play are the meat and potatoes of Mario Tennis. As the meat, baseline play is the largest and most important component of the game. You can't have an effective net game without it. The first rule of baseline rallying is to stay near the middle of the court. That doesn't mean you can't stray to one side or another, but if you're in the middle, it's extremely hard for your opponent to hit a shot by you. Another key to baseline play is to mix it up a bit when you have an opportunity to score. If your opponent is out of position in the top left corner, it would make sense to smash one to the right side of the court (A). However, sometimes it makes sense to hit it right back to the left. Why? Because your opponent will be running like heck towards the right side of the court in an attempt to thwart the obvious shot. By doing the unexpected, you'll probably win the point with the added bonus of confusing the enemy.



Baby Mario

Player Style: Speed

PLAYING AS:

One of the cutest little video-babies around, Baby Mario makes his appearance in Mario Tennis one to remember. Faster than mercury, Baby Mario is the Michael Chang of Mario Tennis. Run your opponent ragged by returning anything that crosses the net (that is the point of tennis, right?). Baby Mario is one of the few characters who can play between the baseline and the net effectively (an area known as "no man's land"). Hit mid-range topspin shots to cross up your opponent.

PLAYING AGAINST:

Use Baby Mario's lack of height and reach against him. If he's sitting on the net, a good cross-court lob should send him reeling. Also, despite his speed, he can't muster up much of an offense. Eventually, if you press the issue with firm ground strokes, you'll have your way with Baby Mario.

Toad

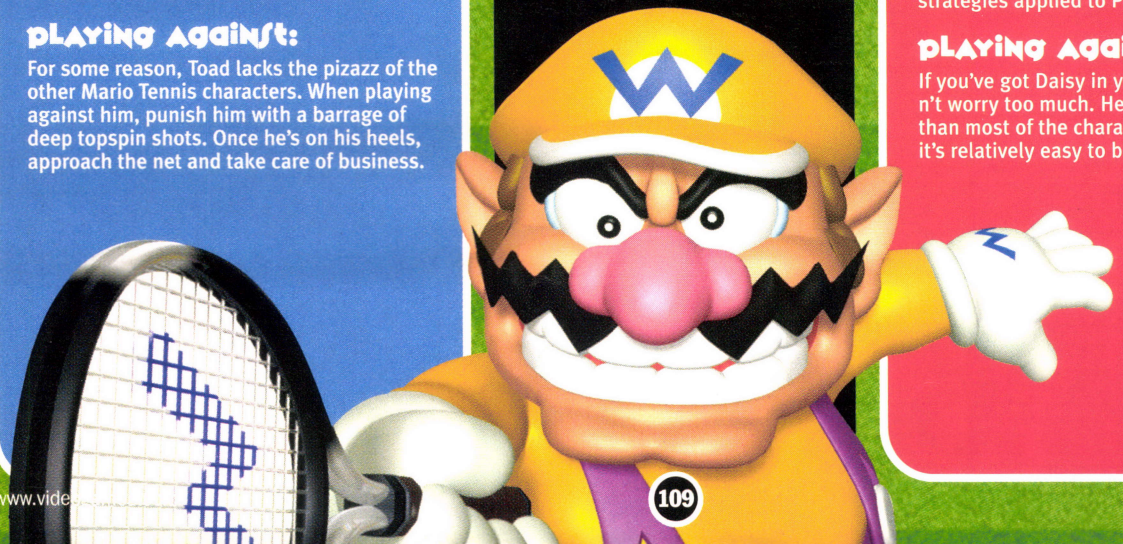
Player Style: Technique

PLAYING AS:

Toad is one squirrely character who mixes technique with an oddball appearance. The keys to using Toad are the same for the other technique players—his serve is a bit better, though, so try to use it to your advantage.

PLAYING AGAINST:

For some reason, Toad lacks the pizazz of the other Mario Tennis characters. When playing against him, punish him with a barrage of deep topspin shots. Once he's on his heels, approach the net and take care of business.



Daisy

Player Style: Technique

PLAYING AS:

Daisy's another one of those technique players who thrives on just about every aspect of the game. Use her in tandem with a power doubles player for a potent team. In the singles game, you can use most of the same strategies applied to Peach.

PLAYING AGAINST:

If you've got Daisy in your sights, you shouldn't worry too much. Her reach is a bit shorter than most of the characters in the game, so it's relatively easy to blow one by her.

Yoshi

playing as:

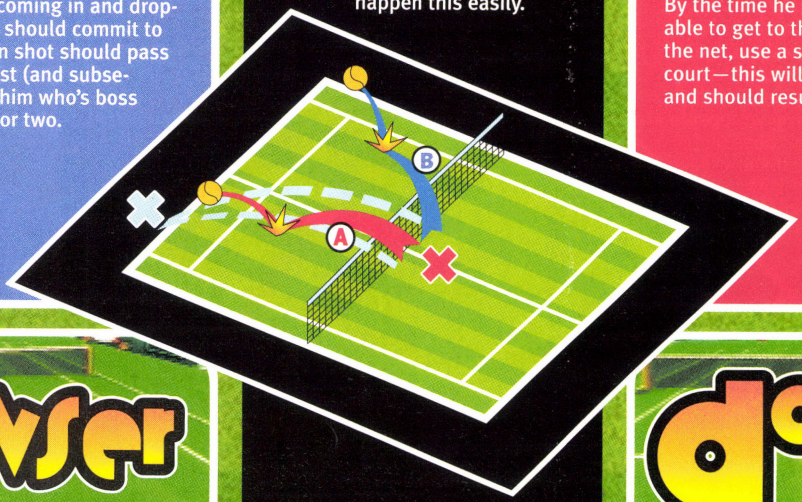
Everybody loves playing tennis with a speedy dinosaur, right? We sure do. Yoshi has a great knack for getting to balls that would be out of any other player's reach. His power, however, is suspect, so be sure to make your shots count. One mishit or short ball and your foe will be eating your lunch. Still, Yoshi's speed and the accuracy of his shots should give you enough of an edge to win.

playing against:

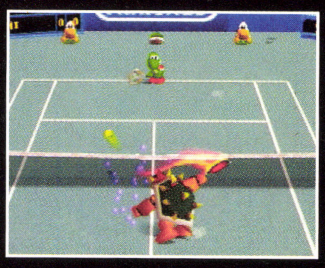
When you're attempting to take Yoshi out, try and get him in a rhythm coming in and dropping back. Eventually, he should commit to the net and a firm topspin shot should pass him. If he returns your first (and subsequent) offerings, remind him who's boss with an overhead smash or two.

Working the Net

When you're at the net, it means two things: you're in good position to win the point, or you're in a defensive mode trying to stay alive. Either scenario presents its own problems and opportunities, and there are too many to mention here. Let's start with the best-case scenario. You've driven your opponent into a corner and are awaiting their return. When positioned either just to the right or just to the left of the center line, you'll have a great chance of hitting the next ball for a winner. If your opponent goes down the line, reach and pop the ball back at them (A). If they try to go cross court, pick the ball off and send it into the open court (B). Of course it doesn't always happen this easily.



Sometimes you'll mishit the ball, sometimes your opponent will make a perfect shot, and sometimes you'll hit the ball out. Just remember that the closer to the net you are, the better your chance of closing out the point. And if you see a star appear near your side of the net, that's an opportunity for a strong overhead smash (A+B). Be careful not to swing too early, though, or you'll stand a chance of dinking the ball into the net.



Bowser's about to put a hurtin' on Yoshi as he closes the gap with a mad rush to the net.

Birdo

Player Style: Speed

playing as:

Another goofy Nintendo character who could combine with Toad for the "all-weird" doubles team. Birdo is a fast dude, but he won't intimidate anybody off the court with his appearance. As with most speed characters, just try and frustrate your foes by running down every ball.

playing against:

Birdo is one easy chump to beat. Once he coughs up a lollipop serve for you, hammer it down the line opposite where he served from. By the time he runs that down, you should be able to get to the net. If you can't follow to the net, use a slice ball to the middle of the court—this will take away any great angles and should result in a nice opportunity.

Bowser

playing as:

Bowser is part Andre Aggasi, part Ivan Lendl. That is, he's really powerful but somewhat slow (a little lack of foot speed is not that bad when you consider the laser-like abilities of Bowser's baseline strokes). The key to success with Bowser is to anticipate where the next shot is going to be. The earlier you get set in place, the more power he can build; the more power you have, the better chance you'll smack the ball for a clean winner.

playing against:

Although Bowser has awesome power, his stature prevents him from acting swiftly on the court. Just make sure that he doesn't get you nailed to a corner—if he does, it's only a matter of time before he changes direction and you're helpless. Stay near the middle "T" of the service line and everything should be cool. The first mediocre shot he gives you can be used to set him up for a loss.

Donkey Kong

playing as:

You loved him in Super Smash Bros., you had to like him in Mario Golf and now you get to feel the rush of Donkey Kong with a tennis racquet. First off, DK's physical size is a benefit, as he can smash high lobs at the net with ease (we've never seen a ball ever make it over Donkey Kong's head). His lateral movement is suspect, though, so keep your opponent back with slice shots (B) and strong topspin balls (double tap A). Kong's strength makes it easy to take advantage of mistakes.

playing against:

To beat Donkey Kong, you'll have to get the big ape moving. DK has never been accused of being fast, and nothing's changed here. Work the corners and use what we call a yo-yo strategy: Send him deep with a strong shot, then pull back on the Analog for a short ball—he won't know if he's coming or going! If you really want to throw a wrinkle in, tap B, then A. The result will be a soft drop shot that has little bounce.

Para Troopa

Player Style: Tricky

Playing As:

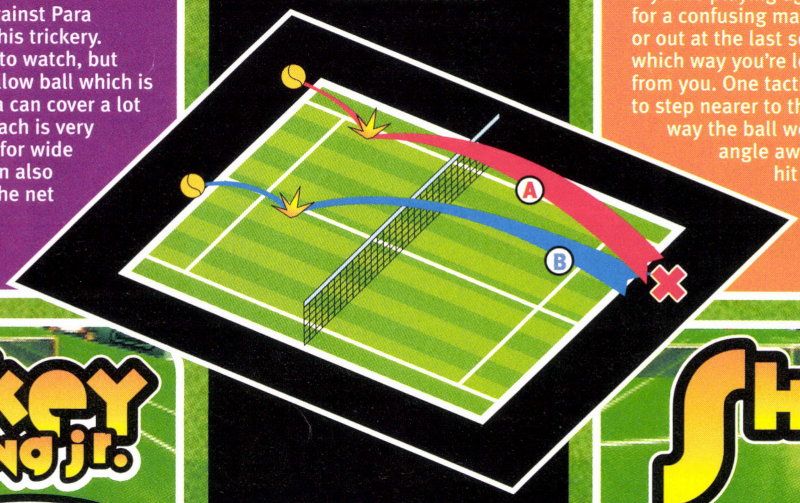
Para Troopa is pretty fun to play with, as his flighty course around the court can send opponents into fits. One of Para Troopa's biggest advantages is that opponents don't always see his shot right away. Once he hits the ball, a barrage of feathers disperse from his wings. This creates a kind of "smoke screen" that can delay reaction time. Even though he's listed as a tricky player, Para Troopa has pretty decent speed, so use that to your benefit.

Playing Against:

When faced with a match against Para Troopa, be sure to zone out his trickery. Flying feathers may be cool to watch, but stay focused on the little yellow ball which is traveling at you. Para Troopa can cover a lot of ground quickly, but his reach is very limited. Send him scurrying for wide balls for easy points. You can also pressure him by coming to the net after you serve.

Returning Serves

Returning serves is more of an art than a science. It's read and react. Rarely do you have enough time to say, "Oh, here's a nice yellow ball coming to me slowly, so I think I'll hit it to the left." Doesn't happen—not with Bowser's 108 mph heater coming at you, anyway. The best advice is to watch the ball from the second your foe tosses it in the air. As soon as they hit it, you'll know if it's to the right or to the left, so just react and get there. Returns are as follows; down the line (A); or back to the center (B). One common mistake is trying to cheat a little bit. If Bowser has been serving out wide all game, you'll be tempted to take an extra step in that direction before the serve.



Don't do it. As soon as you do, a screamer will come down the middle and you'll be defenseless. Stay at home and you'll be increasing the chances of returning serve effectively.

Boo

Player Style: Tricky

Playing As:

Boo needs to use a funky serve to set up easy points. Once mastered, you can steer Boo's serve in the air and after the bounce. This works to great effect, as opponents have to guess correctly or miss the serve. Boo also seems to have a little extra waggle on his slice. If you're playing as Boo, spend a lot of time back near the service line. He's not overly quick, so you'll need the extra space to track down good shots.

Playing Against:

If you're playing against Boo, you might be in for a confusing match. His serve will bend in or out at the last second and, depending on which way you're leaning, it will squirt away from you. One tactic which helps offset this is to step nearer to the service return line. That way the ball won't have as much time to angle away from you before you can hit it. Playing back too far just ensures Boo a chance of acing you.

Donkey Kong Jr.

Player Style: Speed

Playing As:

They may both be apes, but when it comes to tennis, Donkey Kong and Donkey Kong Jr. are completely different animals. As you'd expect, Jr. is not up to full size and thus plays his to his strength, which is speed. As one of the speedier characters in the game, it's best to be patient with DK Jr., as he's not going to overpower anybody. Just run every shot down like a banana depended on it and you should be in good shape.

Playing Against:

When faced with this little hairy annoyance, be sure to smack him around with powerfully placed shots. Heck, if he's at the net, try and plant one off his noggin. If DK Jr. is frustrating you with his foot speed, try mixing up the pace with a lob or drop shot—this may result in him getting out of position to the point where you can take advantage.

Shy Guy

Player Style: Technique

Playing As:

Ah, we saved the best for last. Well, he's not necessarily the best, but Shy Guy does have a great all-around game. As a technique player, Shy Guy thrives on doing everything better than average. Use his vast array of shots to the fullest and opponents will struggle to find a rhythm. Shy Guy is another one of the rare characters who can thrive between the backcourt and the net. His mid-range shots, especially with slice applied, are particularly effective.

Playing Against:

Playing against Shy Guy is like practicing against a wall. Practically everything comes right back at you. The one positive is that it doesn't necessarily come back at you with a lot of pace—this means that if you pick the right moment, you can go to the net and end a point quickly. Be careful, though! Don't approach the net if Shy Guy has worked his way past the baseline, as he's sure to hit it by you. Good luck!

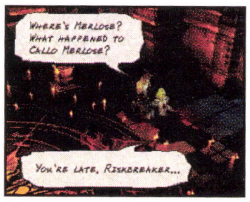
Game Over
SEPTEMBER 2000

VAGRANT STORY™



Sydney has lost his Rood Inverse tattoo.

Guildenstern sacrifices Callo to the dark.

Changing of the Guard

The finale: Guildenstern would misuse the power of Lea Monde if it was in his hands. Sydney tells Ashley that he must defeat Guildenstern to prevent this. Ashley must inherit the power instead, because he will use it with discretion.

Boss: Guildenstern HP: 500
Classification: Evil
This guy's a pushover. Simply get out your best Evil weapon and hack away. If he casts Tarnish or any similar spells, be sure to counteract them with a spell of your own.

Boss: Dark Angel Guildenstern HP: 700
Classification: Evil
This guy is quite a bit more difficult. Feel free to use as many of your items as you need—this is your last chance. One great strategy is to use Phantom Pain along with a weapon that has high Phantom points. When the camera switches to a top view, Guildenstern will cast his Blood Sin. This looks like a magical attack, but it is countered with a physical Defense Art. You will have a few seconds to lower your Risk, equip your shield and heal yourself. Put Morlock Jet gems on your shield if you can. As long as you can consistently survive this spell, Guildenstern will eventually go down.

Approach quickly and chain for as long as much as possible with your Evil weapon.

Use high-range weapons to get Guildenstern in your attack sphere.

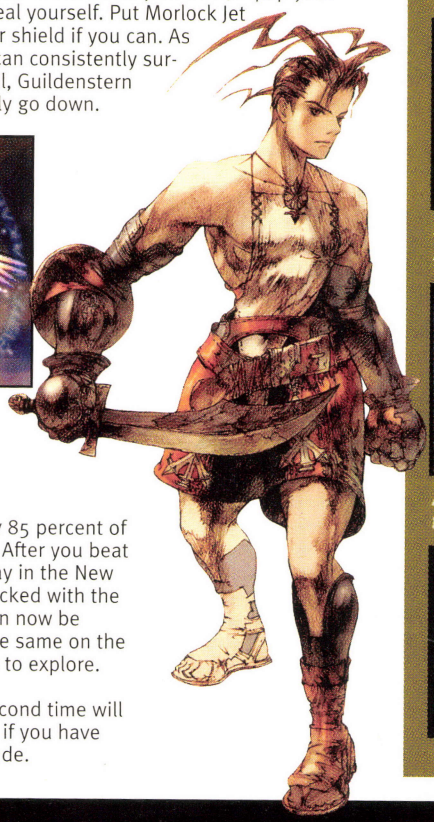
Survive the Blood Sin and Guildenstern will fall.

Now play New Game+ mode and unlock all of Lea Monde.

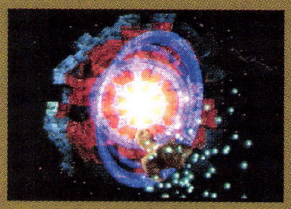
It's Not Over Yet

You can only beat approximately 85 percent of the game the first time through. After you beat the game, you will be able to play in the New Game+ mode. All of the doors locked with the Rood Inverse on the first play can now be opened. Although the story is the same on the second play, there is much more to explore.

Note: Completing the game a second time will NOT alter the ending at all, even if you have explored 100 percent of Lea Monde.



The End



Guildenstern has been consumed by the Dark.

Hardin dies from his wound. Merlose & Joshua are safe.

GUESS THE GAME ENDING AND WIN!

Have we made the last couple contests too hard? You've got us wondering if you're expert gamers or, well...you've just got us wondering, OK? Give this next one a try—it's not too bad! Guess the game at the right—and win one of three Expert Gamer T-shirts! Make sure we have your entries no later than September 20, 2000! Send entries to Game Over #75 c/o Expert Gamer, P.O. Box 3338, Oak Brook, IL 60522-3338.

CLUE: Watch what you wish for... You might just get it! (evil laugh!!!)

IT'S THINKING
Stay away from jellyfish. Remember to come up for air. Don't eat bad fish. Or you could die. Of course, a shark could kill you too. On top of all that, the ocean's in a downward spiral and it's up to you to save it. Tough job, but you'll figure it out. You're the chosen one. The big fish (although you're not a fish). Too bad you can't even count on Greenpeace. The weight of the ocean rests on your dorsal fin.
